AVAILABLE INFORMATION

Our Bank has agreed that, for so long as any Equity Shares are “restricted securities” within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the U.S. Securities Act, our Bank will, during any period in which it is neither subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, nor exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) thereunder, provide to any holder or beneficial owner of such restricted securities or to any prospective purchaser of such restricted securities designated by such holder or beneficial owner, upon the request of such holder, beneficial owner or prospective purchaser, the information required to be provided by Rule 144A(d)(4) under the U.S. Securities Act, subject to compliance with the applicable provisions of Indian law.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements contained in this Placement Document that are not statements of historical fact constitute “forward-looking statements”. Investors can generally identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as “aim”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “continue”, “can”, “could”, “estimate”, “expect”, “intend”, “may”, “objective”, “plan”, “potential”, “project”, “pursue”, “shall”, “seek to”, “should”, “will”, “will continue”, “will pursue”, “would”, or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements that describe the strategies, objectives, plans or goals of our Bank are also forward-looking statements. However, these are not the exclusive means of identifying forward-looking statements. All statements regarding our Bank’s expected financial conditions, results of operations, business plans and prospects are forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include statements as to our Bank’s business strategy, planned projects, revenue and profitability (including, without limitation, any financial or operating projections or forecasts), new business and other matters discussed in this Placement Document that are not historical facts.

The forward-looking statements appear in a number of places throughout this Placement Document and include statements regarding the intentions, beliefs or current expectations of our Bank concerning, amongst other things, the expected results of operations, financial condition, liquidity, prospects, growth, strategies and dividend policy of our Bank and the industry in which we operate. In addition, even if the result of operations, financial conditions, liquidity and dividend policy of our Bank, and the development of the industry in which we operate, are consistent with the forward-looking statements contained in this Placement Document, those results or developments may not be indicative of results or developments in subsequent periods.

These forward-looking statements and any other projections contained in this Placement Document (whether made by us or any third party) are predictions and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other factors that they may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward looking statements or other projections. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about our Bank that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement.

Important factors that could cause our actual results, performances and achievements to be materially different from any of the forward-looking statements include, among others:

1. Our business is particularly vulnerable to interest rate risk, and any volatility in interest rates could adversely affect our net interest margins, the value of our fixed income portfolio, income from treasury operations, our financial condition and results of operations.
2. Our business and financial condition may be adversely affected in case of an increase in the level of non-performing assets in our portfolio or RBI mandated provisioning requirements.
3. Weakness or failures of our internal control system may cause significant operational errors, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business and the price of the Equity Shares.
4. We are exposed to various categories of borrowers, depositors and industry sectors, and a default by any large borrower, premature withdrawal of deposits or a deterioration in the performance of any of these industry sectors in which we have significant exposure would adversely affect our results of operations, the quality of our portfolio and financial condition.
5. The level of restructured loans in our portfolio may increase and the failure of our restructured loans to perform as expected could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
6. We are subject to the directed lending requirements of the RBI, and any shortfall in meeting these requirements may require us to invest in Government schemes that yield low returns, thereby impacting our profitability.
7. Our loan portfolio contains significant advances to the agricultural sector and any deterioration in the performance of the agricultural sector may lead to an increase in delinquency and adversely affect our business and financial condition. Further, any farm loan waiver programmes may have an adverse effect on our business and financial condition.
8. The Bank’s risk profile is linked to the Indian economy and the banking and financial markets in India, which are still evolving.
9. The Bank’s unsecured loan portfolio is not supported by any collateral to ensure repayment of the loan. Further, any such non-payment of unsecured loans or an inability to realize the value of collateral in case of secured loans, may adversely affect its financial condition.
10. Our business and financial performance are dependent on maintaining and building a successful branch network. An inability to maintain, increase our coverage and any inability to use these branches productively, may have an adverse impact on our growth and profitability.

Additional factors that could cause actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially include, but are not limited to, those discussed under “Risk Factors”, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations”, “Industry Overview” and “Our Business” on pages 36, 77, 126 and 143, respectively.

Actual results may differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements due to certain known or unknown risks or uncertainties associated with management’s expectations with respect to, but not limited to, the actual growth in demand for banking and other financial products and services, the management’s ability to successfully implement its strategy, future levels of impaired loans, the Bank’s growth and expansion, the adequacy of the Bank’s allowance for credit and investment losses, technological changes, investment income, the Bank’s ability to market new products, cash flow projections, the outcome of any legal or regulatory proceedings the Bank is or may become a party to, the future impact of new accounting standards, management’s ability to implement its dividend policy, the impact of Indian banking regulations on it, the Bank’s ability to roll over its short-term funding sources, the Bank’s exposure to market risks and the market acceptance of and demand for internet banking services.

By their nature, certain of the market risk disclosures are only estimates and could be materially different from what actually occurs in the future. As a result, actual future gains, losses or impact on net interest income and net income could materially differ from those that have been estimated, expressed or implied by such forward looking statements or other projections. The forward-looking statements contained in this Placement Document are based on the beliefs of the management, as well as the assumptions made by, and information currently available to, the management of our Bank. Although our Bank believes that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable at this time, it cannot assure investors that such expectations will prove to be correct. Given these uncertainties, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. In any event, these statements speak only as of the date of this Placement Document or the respective dates indicated in this Placement Document, and neither our Bank nor the Book Running Lead Managers undertake any obligation to update or revise any of them, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. If any of these risks and uncertainties materialize, or if any of our Bank’s underlying assumptions prove to be incorrect, the actual results of operations or financial condition of our Bank could differ materially from that described herein as anticipated, believed, estimated or expected. All subsequent forward-looking statements attributable to our Bank are expressly qualified in their entirety by reference to these cautionary statements.

ENFORCEMENT OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

Our Bank is a body corporate incorporated under the laws of India. A substantial portion of the assets of our Bank are located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon the Bank outside India, or to enforce judgments obtained against the Bank in courts outside of India.

Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments are provided for under Section 13 and Section 44A of the Civil Code on a statutory basis. Section 13 of the Civil Code provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive as to any matter thereby directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title except:

- where it has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction;
- where it has not been given on the merits of the case;
- where it appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognise the law of India in cases in which such law is applicable;
- where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained are opposed to natural justice;
- where it has been obtained by fraud; and
- where it sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in India.

Under the Civil Code, a court in India shall presume, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, that such judgment was pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on the record; but such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction.

India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. However, Section 44A of the Civil Code provides that where a foreign judgment has been rendered by a superior court, within the meaning of that Section, in any country or territory outside India which the Government has by notification declared to be a reciprocating territory, it may be enforced in India by proceedings in execution as if the judgment had been rendered by the relevant court in India. However, Section 44A of the Civil Code is applicable only to monetary decrees not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty and does not include arbitration awards.

Each of the United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Singapore and Hong Kong, amongst others has been declared by the Government to be a reciprocating territory for the purposes of Section 44A of the Civil Code, but the United States of America has not been so declared. A judgment of a court in a jurisdiction which is not a reciprocating territory may be enforced only by a fresh suit upon the judgment and not by proceedings in execution. The suit must be filed in India within three years from the date of the foreign judgment in the same manner as any other suit filed to enforce a civil liability in India. Accordingly, a judgment of a court in the United States may be enforced only by a fresh suit upon the foreign judgment and not by proceedings in execution.

It is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were to be brought in India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it views the amount of damages awarded as excessive or inconsistent with public policy of India and it is uncertain whether an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments that would contravene or violate Indian law. Further, any judgment or award denominated in a foreign currency would be converted into Rupees on the date of such judgment or award and not on the date of payment. A party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to repatriate outside India any amount recovered, and any such amount may be subject to income tax pursuant to execution of such a judgment in accordance with applicable laws. We cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all or that conditions of such approvals would be acceptable.

The exchange rate between the Rupee and US Dollar has been volatile over the past year.

The following table sets forth information with respect to the exchange rates between the Rupee and the U.S. dollar (in ₹ per US$) for, or as of, the end of the periods indicated. ### RISKS RELATING TO OUR BUSINESS

- 1. Our business is particularly vulnerable to interest rate risk, and any volatility in interest rates could adversely affect our net interest margins, the value of our fixed income portfolio, income from treasury operations, our financial condition and results of operations.

Change in market interest rates affects the interest rates offered by us on interest-earning assets as well as on interest-bearing liabilities. It also affects the value of our investments. If we are unable to increase rates charged on our loans and advances or if the volume of our interest-bearing liabilities is larger or growing faster than the volume of our interest-earning assets, an increase in interest rates could result in an increase in interest expense relative to interest earned. If the yield on our interest-earning assets does not increase at the same time or to the same extent as our cost of funds, or if our cost of funds does not decline at the same time or to the same extent as the decrease in yield on our interest-earning assets, our net interest income and net interest margin would be adversely impacted. In the event of such increase in interest rates, our net interest margin could be adversely affected as the interest paid by us on our deposits could increase at a rate higher than the interest received by us on our advances and other investments. Further, an increase in interest rates could negatively affect demand for our loans and credit substitutes and we may not be able to achieve our volume growth.

The requirement that we maintain a portion of our assets in fixed income Government securities could also have a negative impact on our net interest income and net interest margin since we typically earn interest on this portion of our assets at rates that are generally less favorable than those typically received on our other interest-earning assets. Any systemic decline in low-cost funding available in the form of current and savings account deposits would adversely impact our net interest margin. Set forth below are details of the Bank's Net Interest Income, and Net Interest Margin, for each of the corresponding periods:

| Particulars                     | Fiscal 2023 | Fiscal 2024 | Fiscal 2025 |
| Net interest income (₹ billion) | 1,448.41    | 1,598.76    | 1,669.65    |
| Net Interest Margin (%)         | 3.37%       | 3.28%       | 3.09%       |

We are also exposed to interest rate risk through our treasury operations and banking subsidiaries. Any rise in interest rates or interest rate volatility could adversely affect our income from treasury operations or the value of our fixed income securities trading portfolio. Sudden or sharp and sustained increases in interest rates applicable to floating rate loans, could also result in extension of loan maturities and higher monthly instalments due from borrowers, which could result in higher rates of default in loan portfolio. In addition, any change in the volume of business in our treasury operations and profitability, could have an adverse impact on our overall profitability. Revisions in deposit interest rates, or introduction of higher interest rates, by banks with whom we compete may also lead to revisions in our deposit rates to remain competitive and this could adversely impact our cost of funds.

The policy repo rate increased from 4.40% on March 27, 2022, to 6.50% on February 8, 2023. The policy repo rate then stayed constant at 6.50% until December 6, 2024. Thereafter, the policy repo rate decreased to 5.50% on June 6, 2025. Changes in official interest rates tend to flow through into changes in commercial interest rates, including rates for deposits and lending.

However, the rates applying to our funding (including deposits) and its lending may not move at the same time and at the same rate.

2. Our business and financial condition may be adversely affected in case of an increase in the level of non-performing assets in our portfolio or RBI mandated provisioning requirements.

Our level of NPAs is influenced by a range of factors, including prevailing macroeconomic conditions, increased competition, changes in the business and financial position of our borrowers, rising unemployment rates, high levels of debt involved in financing of projects, and significant borrowings by companies in India at relatively high interest rates, and any significant increase in NPAs may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Any material increase in our NPAs may require higher provisioning in line with RBI requirements, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Set forth below are the Bank's gross and net NPAs as of the corresponding dates:

|---------------------------------------------------|-----------------|--------|--------|
|                                                   | 2023            | 2024   | 2025   |
| Gross NPAs (₹ billion)                            | 909.28          | 842.76 | 768.80 |
| Gross NPAs, as a percentage of gross advances (%) | 2.78%           | 2.24%  | 1.82%  |
| Net NPAs (₹ billion)                              | 214.67          | 210.51 | 196.67 |
| Net NPAs, as a percentage of net advances (%)     | 0.67%           | 0.57%  | 0.47%  |

Furthermore, although our loan portfolio contains loans to a wide variety of businesses, financial difficulties experienced by our customers or by sectors or industries of the Indian economy to which we have exposure could increase our level of NPAs and adversely affect our business, future financial performance and the trading price of our Equity Shares. Notably, our largest provisions for NPAs are to the trading, roads and ports and food processing industries. For further information on the provisions for NPAs to these industries, see “Selected Statistical Information – Provisions for NPAs” on page 120.

Additionally, if the systems and processes established by us to identify NPAs fail or are unable to identify the NPAs correctly and in a timely manner, our financial position could be adversely affected. There can be no assurance that our systems and processes will always function appropriately or correctly in order to identify NPAs in a timely manner or at all, or that similar deficiencies will not arise in the future.

Provisions for NPAs are created by a charge to our profit and loss account and are currently subject to minimum provisioning requirements, linked to ageing of NPAs. In addition to the relevant regulatory minimum provisioning by the RBI, we also consider our internal estimate for loan losses and risks inherent in the credit portfolio when deciding on the appropriate level of provisions. The determination of a suitable level of loan losses and provisions involves a degree of subjectivity and requires that we make estimates of current credit risks and future trends, all of which may be subject to material changes. Any incorrect estimation of risk may result in our provisions not being adequate to cover any further increase in the amount of NPAs or any further deterioration in our NPA portfolio. We cannot assure you that the NPAs reported by us in the future will be as assessed by any regulatory authority, and that we will not be subject to increased provisioning requirements. Any future increases in provisions mandated by the RBI or other regulatory changes or increase in provisioning requirements as a result of divergences identified by the RBI, could therefore lead to an adverse impact on our business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares. For further information, see “Regulations and Policies - Prudential framework for resolution of stressed assets” on page 202.

3. Weakness or failures of our internal control system may cause significant operational errors, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

The Bank's business is highly dependent on its ability to efficiently and reliably process a high volume of transactions across numerous locations and delivery channels. It places heavy reliance on its technology infrastructure for processing this data and therefore ensuring system security and availability is of paramount importance. The Bank's systemic and operational controls may not be adequate to prevent adverse impact from frauds, errors, hacking and system failures. A significant system breakdown or system failure caused due to intentional or unintentional acts would have an adverse impact on the Bank's revenue-generating activities and lead to financial loss.

The Bank's reputation could be adversely affected by fraud committed by employees, customers or outsiders, or by its perceived inability to properly manage fraud-related risks. Set forth below are the number of frauds identified by the Bank in the corresponding years and reported to the RBI, and their pecuniary implication (i.e., amount involved):

| Particulars                                 | As of March 31, |       |       |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------|-------|
|                                             | 2023            | 2024  | 2025  |
| Number of frauds detected                   | 2,755           | 1,586 | 3,437 |
| Aggregate pecuniary implication (₹ billion) | 48.78           | 34.07 | 80.79 |

| Particulars                                                              | As of March 31, |       |       |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------|-------|
|                                                                          | 2023            | 2024  | 2025  |
| Aggregate pecuniary implication as percentage of the Bank's total income | 1.32%           | 0.73% | 1.54% |

The Bank has established a geographically remote disaster recovery site to support critical applications, and it believes that it will be able to restore data and resume processing. However, it is possible that the disaster recovery site may also fail or it may take considerable time to make the system fully operational and achieve complete business resumption using the alternate site. Therefore, in such a scenario, where the primary site is completely unavailable, there may be significant disruption to the Bank's operations, which could materially adversely affect its reputation and financial condition.

Our risk management techniques may not be fully effective in mitigating our risk exposure in all market environments or against all types of risks, including risks that are unidentified or unanticipated. Some methods of managing risk are based upon observed historical market behavior. As a result, these methods may not predict future risk exposures, which could be greater than the historical measures indicated. Other risk management methods depend upon an evaluation of information regarding markets, clients or other matters. This information may not in all cases be accurate, complete, up to date or properly evaluated. While we periodically test and update, as necessary, our internal control systems, we are exposed to operational risks arising from the potential inadequacy or failure of internal processes or systems, and our actions may not be sufficient to guarantee effective internal controls in all circumstances.

4. *We are exposed to various categories of borrowers, depositors and industry sectors, and a default by any large borrower, premature withdrawal of deposits or a deterioration in the performance of any of these industry sectors in which we have significant exposure would adversely affect our results of operations, the quality of our portfolio and financial condition.

We conduct business with certain borrowers who have highly leveraged balance sheets and any default by any of these borrowers would have a significant impact on our profitability. Aggregate advances to our Bank's 20 largest borrowers as of March 31, 2025 amounted to ₹ 4,000.81 billion, representing 9.48% of the Bank's Total Gross Advances. We are also subject to limitations on our exposure to single counterparties, and as of March 31, 2025, we are in compliance with the RBI circular dated June 3, 2019 on large exposures framework.

If any of our major borrowers default or become non-performing, our exposure to credit risk would increase, and our net profits would decline and, due to the scale of the exposures, our ability to meet capital requirements could be risked. There can be no assurance that such borrowers will continue to honour their commitments and that there will be no defaults in future and further, that there will not be any delay in payments of interest and/or principal from these borrowers. Furthermore, the RBI guidelines, and our focus on controlling and reducing concentration risk, may restrict our ability to grow our business with some customers, thereby impacting our earnings.

Further, set forth below are details of deposits from our Bank's top 20 depositors as of the corresponding dates:

|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------|----------|
|                                                                                | 2023            | 2024     | 2025     |
| Total deposits of 20 largest depositors (₹ billion)                            | 1,766.12        | 2,330.73 | 2,802.51 |
| Total deposits of 20 largest depositors, as a percentage of total deposits (%) | 3.99%           | 4.74%    | 5.21%    |

We cannot assure you that there will not be any untimely withdrawal or non-renewal of deposits from these depositors. In the event of such withdrawal or non-renewal, our business, results of operations and financial conditions may be adversely affected.

In addition, we offer loans to a wide range of industries and businesses. Our Bank's largest outstanding advances were to the infrastructure sector, services sector, petroleum and petrochemicals sector, commercial real estate and iron and steel sector at ₹ 3,973.20 billion, ₹ 5,013.48 billion, ₹ 657.73 billion, ₹ 699.55 billion and ₹ 634.17 billion respectively, that represented 11.03%, 13.92%, 1.83%, 1.94% and 1.76%, respectively, of our total domestic advances, i.e., ₹ 36,016.20 billion, as of March 31, 2025. Any financial difficulties experienced by our customers or by particular sectors of the Indian economy specifically the abovementioned sectors to which we have historically had and continue to have significant exposure, due to factors outside our control could significantly increase our NPA levels and adversely affect our business, future financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

5. *The level of restructured loans in our portfolio may increase and the failure of our restructured loans to perform as expected could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our assets include restructured loans. As of March 31, 2023, March 2024 and March 2025, our Bank's total restructured standard assets amounted to ₹ 347.44 billion, ₹ 338.41 billion and ₹ 241.45 billion and as a proportion of our Bank's gross advances were 1.06%, 0.90% and 0.57% respectively. The loan portfolio of our international branches and Subsidiaries also includes foreign currency loans to Indian companies for their Indian operations as well as for their international operations, including cross-border acquisitions. We restructure assets based on a borrower's potential to restore its financial health; however, there can be no assurance that borrowers will be able to meet their obligations under restructured advances as per the regulatory requirements and certain assets classified as restructured, may be classified as delinquent. Any resulting increase in delinquency levels may adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. A combination of changes in regulations regarding restructured loans, provisioning, and any substantial increase in the level of restructured assets and the failure of these structured loans to perform as expected could adversely affect our business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

6. We are subject to the directed lending requirements of the RBI, and any shortfall in meeting these requirements may require us to invest in Government schemes that yield low returns, thereby impacting our profitability.

Under the Master Directions - Reserve Bank of India (Priority Sector Lending – Targets and Classification) Directions, 2025, RBI requires that every domestic commercial bank excluding RRBs and SFBs and foreign banks with 20 branches and above, extend at least 40.00% of its adjusted net bank credit or the credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposure, whichever is higher, to “priority sectors” such as agriculture, MSMEs, export credit, education, housing, social infrastructure, renewable energy and others as determined by the RBI. Of this, banks have targets or sub-targets of 18%, 7.5% and 12% for lending to agriculture, MSMEs and advances to weaker sections respectively. Our priority sector loan portfolio contains significant advances to the MSME and agriculture sector. Set forth below are certain details regarding our priority sector credit, loans to MSMEs and loans to the agriculture sector:

|                                                                                     | 2023            | 2024   | 2025   |
| Priority sector credit (₹ billion)                                                  | 10,203          | 11,871 | 13,281 |
| Priority sector credit, as a percentage of Bank's adjusted net bank credit (%)      | 40.05%          | 40.94% | 40%    |
| Loans to MSMEs (₹ billion)                                                          | 3,182           | 3,672  | 5,105  |
| Loans to MSMEs, as a percentage of Bank's adjusted net bank credit (%)              | 12.49%          | 12.67% | 15.37% |
| Loans to agriculture sector (₹ billion)                                             | 4,757           | 5,378  | 5,650  |
| Loans to agriculture sector, as a percentage of Bank's adjusted net bank credit (%) | 18.67%          | 18.55% | 17.01% |

Any revision in the definition or classification of segments eligible for priority sector lending by the RBI could impact our ability to meet priority sector lending requirements. Further, in the event we are required to increase our exposure to the agricultural sector pursuant to GoI mandated directed lending, it may adversely affect our future financial performance. Any shortfall in meeting the priority sector lending requirements may be required to be invested at any time, at the RBI's direction, in an account with the NABARD under the Rural Infrastructure Development Fund Scheme, or with other financial institutions specified by the RBI, which generate lower levels of interest compared to advances made to the priority sector.

Set forth below are certain details regarding the Bank's priority sector NPAs, MSME industry NPAs and agriculture industry NPAs as of the corresponding dates:

|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-------|-------|
|                                                                                                   | 2023            | 2024  | 2025  |
| Priority sector gross NPAs to total priority sector advances                                      | 5.70%           | 5.15% | 4.88% |
| MSME gross NPAs to total outstanding MSME advances (eligible under Priority Sector Lending “PSL”) | 3.55%           | 3.59% | 3.73% |
| Agriculture gross NPAs to total agricultural advances (eligible under PSL)                        | 11.56%          | 9.64% | 8.41% |

Any future changes by the RBI to the directed lending norms may result in our continued inability to meet the priority sector lending requirements as well as require us to increase our lending to relatively riskier segments such as agriculture and MSMEs and may result in an increase in non-performing loans.

7. Our loan portfolio contains significant advances to the agricultural sector and any deterioration in the performance of the agricultural sector may lead to an increase in delinquency and adversely affect our business and financial condition. Further, any farm loan waiver programmes may have an adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

Our Bank's loan portfolio contains advances to the agricultural sector amounting to ₹ 3,485.24 billion (i.e. 8.25% of the Bank's gross advances) as of March 31, 2025. Agricultural production is heavily dependent on weather cycles and is affected by general economic cycles, creating inherent risks in agricultural lending. Deterioration in the performance of the agricultural sector may lead to an increase in delinquency and adversely affect our Bank's business and financial condition. For example, any major floods or droughts which occur in the country will have a negative impact on borrowers in the affected regions and, in turn, affect their ability to make timely payment on their loans. Meanwhile, the Government's proposed agricultural lending plans may contemplate state-owned banks, including our Bank, lending at below-market rates in the agricultural sector. In particular, as of March 31, 2025, 38% of the Bank's NPA are from the agriculture segment. The Master Directions - Reserve Bank of India (Priority Sector Lending – Targets and Classification) Directions, 2025 stipulate that our Bank's agricultural advances be 18.00% of adjusted net bank credit and our Bank's objective is to increase agricultural lending to achieve this benchmark but we cannot assure you that our Bank will be able to increase its agricultural lending to meet such benchmark within the required timeline. Bank's exposure to the agricultural sector involves higher risks, which may negatively affect our cost of funding, and adversely affect our Bank's business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Recently, several Indian states have announced farm loan waiver programs. If such farm loan waivers become more widespread in the future, this could result in a loss of short-term liquidity for affected public sector banks, including our Bank, while such banks wait for the reimbursement of such waived loans from the state government. In addition to a loss of short-term liquidity for affected banks, such farm loan waivers may also have a negative impact on borrower behavior such as the farmers' willingness to make repayments as they may anticipate further farm loan waivers. The farm loan waiver programs may have an adverse impact on the banking sector as a whole as well as our Bank's business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

8. The Bank's risk profile is linked to the Indian economy and the banking and financial markets in India, which are still evolving.

Our Bank's principal business is providing financing to its clients, most of which are based in India. The credit risk profiles of our borrowers differ significantly from those of borrowers of most banks in developed countries, due to such factors as a high level of uncertainty in the Indian regulatory, political, economic and industrial environment and difficulties that many of our Bank's borrowers face in adapting to instability in world markets and technological advances taking place across the world. This may affect the quality of information available to our Bank about the credit history of its borrowers, especially individuals and small businesses.

Several of our Bank's corporate borrowers in the past suffered from low profitability due to, among other factors, increased competition arising from economic liberalization in India, variable industrial growth, a sharp decline in commodity prices, the high level of debt in the financing of projects and capital structures of companies in India, and the high interest rates in the Indian economy during the period in which a large number of the projects were entered into. Our Bank's loans to SMEs can be expected to be more severely affected by adverse developments in the Indian economy than loans to large corporations. An economic slowdown and a general decline in business activity in India could impose further stress on these borrowers' financial soundness and profitability and thus expose our Bank to increased credit risk. Our Bank is subject to the credit risk that our borrowers may not pay in a timely fashion or at all and consequently there may be an increase in our NPA which may have an adverse impact on our Bank's profitability, results of operation, cash flows and financial condition.

9. The Bank's unsecured loan portfolio is not supported by any collateral to ensure repayment of the loan. Further, any such non-payment of unsecured loans or an inability to realize the value of collateral in case of secured loans, may adversely affect its financial condition.

A portion of our Bank's loan portfolio is unsecured, and in the event of a default by any of the borrowers, the Bank has limited avenues to recover any amounts due. Unsecured loans, by their nature, are not supported by collateral or security interests. As a result, any non-payment or delay in repayment of such loans exposes our Bank to the risk of direct financial loss, potentially adversely impacting our financial condition and results of operations.

As of March 31, 2025, ₹ 27,363.35 billion of our Bank's advances were secured by tangible assets, which collectively represented 65.72% of our Bank's total net advances. However, we may be unable to realise the full value of the collateral, if at all, owing to factors such as, (i) delays in bankruptcy and foreclosure proceedings, including due to the introduction of any laws, rules or regulations that provide for moratoriums or exemptions on the sale of collateral in response to any adverse economic financial conditions; (ii) deficiencies in the perfection of collateral (including due to the inability to obtain approvals that may be required from third parties); (iii) fraud by borrowers; (iv) decrease in the value of the collateral; (v) errors in assessing the value of the collateral; (vi) an illiquid market for the sale of the collateral; (vii) current legislative provisioning coverage or changes thereto; (viii) future judicial pronouncements; (ix) volatility in commodity prices; (x) stock market volatility; (xi) changes in economic policies of the Government of India; (xii) borrowers and guarantors not being traceable; and (xiii) our records of borrowers' and guarantors' addresses being ambiguous or outdated.

In India, foreclosure on collateral may be subject to delays and administrative requirements that may result in, or be accompanied by, a decrease in the value of the collateral. For example, in the event that a corporate borrower makes a reference to the National Company Law Tribunal (the "NCLT") under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016 (the "IBC"), foreclosure and enforceability of collateral is stayed. In addition, pursuant to the RBI's prudential guidelines on restructuring of advances by banks, the Bank may not be in a position to initiate recovery proceedings against a corporate borrower, if 60.00% of the creditors by number and at least 75.00% of the creditors by value decide to restructure their advances. In such a situation, we are restricted to a restructuring process as approved by the majority lenders of the borrowers. If we own 20.00% or less of the debt of a borrower, we could be forced to agree to an extended restructuring of debt which may not be in our interests. In addition, for collateral we hold in jurisdictions outside India, the applicable laws in such jurisdictions may impact our ability to foreclose on collateral and realise its value. If we are unable to realise the full value of collateral, or otherwise fail to recover the full amount owed to us, there could be a material, adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

10. Our business and financial performance are dependent on maintaining and building a successful branch network. An inability to maintain, increase our coverage and any inability to use these branches productively, may have an adverse impact on our growth and profitability.

We have a large and diverse branch network across India and other jurisdictions. As of March 31, 2025, our Bank's distribution network in India included 22,937 branches across 28 States and 8 Union Territories. Further, as of March 31, 2025, our Bank's distribution network also included branches outside India, such as those in the United States of America, the United Kingdom, and Singapore. Our business and financial performance are dependent on maintaining our extensive network of branches, see “– Some of our offices, branches and ATMs are located on premises taken by us on lease. We may not be able to renew these agreements for our branches upon acceptable terms or at all which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.” on page 57. Our newly opened branches may not be profitable immediately upon their opening or may take time to break-even. In the event of a delay in achieving break even by the newly opened branches within a reasonable period as envisaged by us, our profitability may be affected. Our branch expansion plans may have an adverse effect on the capital outlay which in turn may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. As a consequence of our large and diverse branch network, we may be subject to additional risks inherent with an extensive network, including but not limited to higher technology costs, upgrading, expanding and securing our technology platform in such branches, operational risks including integration of internal controls and procedures, compliance with KYC, AML and other regulatory norms, ensuring customer satisfaction, recruiting, training and retaining skilled personnel, failure to manage third-party service providers in relation to any outsourced services and difficulties in the integration of new branches with our existing branch network. Any of these reasons may result in our failure to manage a large branch presence, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

11. Our reliance on demand, and term and savings bank deposits as our primary source of funding exposes us to liquidity and funding risks, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our primary funding source comprises customer deposits, primarily in the form of demand deposits and term deposits with maturities of up to one year. As at 31 March 2025, savings bank deposits, demand deposits and term deposits with maturities up to one year constituted 34.29% of our total deposits. These deposits have historically been a stable source of funding for the Bank, with a substantial portion of our term deposits typically rolled over upon maturity. For instance, during the financial period ended March 31, 2025, more than 80% of the funds in maturing term deposits were rolled over, and as of such date, our Bank estimated that 85% of its current deposits and 95% of its savings deposits consisted of “core” deposits, which are considered less likely to be withdrawn in the foreseeable future based on customer behaviour and account profiles.

Despite this stability, there is no assurance that depositors will continue to roll over their deposits upon maturity, nor that our assessment of core deposits will hold under stress conditions. A substantial number of depositors choosing not to renew term deposits or withdrawing on-demand deposits could adversely impact our liquidity position. If such withdrawals or non-renewals occur in significant amounts, we may need to seek funding from alternative, potentially more expensive sources such as short-term borrowing facilities provided by RBI or private money market or repo transactions, which could have a substantial impact on our cost of funds and profitability.

At specific points in time, mismatches between the maturity profiles of our assets and liabilities may create a theoretical liquidity gap, reflecting a potential shortfall if significant short-term funding matures or is withdrawn, while a corresponding amount of the Bank's assets may not be immediately liquid. Although such a gap has not historically materialised due to the rollover of term deposits and the stability of core demand deposits, customer behaviour may change, especially as there has been a broader market trend of individuals investing in markets rather than in bank deposits due to higher returns available elsewhere.

The total deposits held by our top 20 largest depositors as of the dates indicated were as follows:

|                                                                                    | As of March 31, |          |          |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------|----------|

*Figures do not include interbank deposits held by the Bank.

The concentration of significant deposits further adds to this risk such as premature withdrawals or non-renewals by these top 20 or other depositors could exacerbate liquidity pressures. If we are unable to obtain or renew funding on acceptable terms and at competitive rates, we may be required to offer higher interest rates to attract replacement deposits or resort to higher-cost wholesale or market funding, negatively affecting our results of operations.

Failure to maintain adequate funding or to replace short-term and maturing deposits efficiently may have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

12. If our Bank fails to maintain desired levels of customer deposits or loans, our business and operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Customer deposits are our Bank's primary source of funding. However, many factors affect the growth of deposits, some of which are beyond our Bank's control, such as economic and political conditions, availability of investment alternatives and retail customers who may change their perceptions toward savings. For example, retail customers may reduce their deposits and increase their investment in securities for higher returns, while small- and medium-sized enterprises and mid-corporate customers may reduce their deposits in order to fund projects in a favourable economic environment. If our Bank fails to maintain the desired level of deposits, our Bank's liquidity position, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected. In such a situation, our Bank may need to seek more expensive sources of funding. Our Bank's ability to raise additional funds may be impaired by factors over which it has little or no control, such as poor market conditions or severe disruptions in the financial markets.

Conversely, our Bank may slowly reduce the interest rates we offer on deposits (if required) to protect the spread we enjoy, if the Indian banking system is showing a lower rate of credit growth. Further, we may be required to devise certain strategies to lend surplus funds to existing or new borrowers in order to earn interest income and protect our net interest margin. If our Bank cannot secure sufficient loan volumes or earn sufficient interest on its lending due to economic conditions or other factors, our ability to earn income and maintain and increase our net interest margin may be materially adversely affected.

13. We face asset liability mismatches, which could adversely affect our liquidity and, consequently, our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We face liquidity risks due to mismatches in the maturity of our assets and liabilities. Liquidity risk is the risk that we either do not have available sufficient financial resources to meet our obligations as they fall due or can secure them only at excessive cost. This risk is inherent in any retail and commercial banking business and can be heightened by a number of enterprise-specific factors, including overreliance on a particular source of funding, changes in credit ratings or market-wide phenomena such as market dislocation. While we implement liquidity management processes to seek to mitigate and control this risk, unforeseen systemic market factors make it difficult to completely eliminate it.

We may rely on funding options with a short-term maturity period for extending long-term loans, which may lead to an asset liability mismatch for certain periods. Mismatches between our assets and liabilities are compounded in case of pre-payments of the advances we grant to our customers. Further, asset liability mismatches create liquidity surplus or liquidity crunch situations and depending upon the interest rate movement, such situations may adversely affect our Net Interest Income. If we are unable to obtain additional borrowings or renew our existing credit facilities for matching tenures of our loan portfolio in a timely and cost-effective manner, if at all, this may lead to mismatches between our assets and liabilities, which could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

14. We are exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates which could adversely affect our business, future financial performance and trading price of the Equity Shares.

As a financial institution with operations in various countries, the Bank is exposed to significant exchange rate risks. The Bank complies with regulatory limits upon its unhedged foreign currency exposure by making foreign currency loans on terms that are generally similar to its foreign currency borrowings and thereby transferring the foreign exchange risk to the borrower or through active use of cross-currency swaps and forwards to generally match the currencies of its assets and liabilities. However, the Bank is exposed to fluctuations in foreign currency rates for its unhedged exposure. Any adverse movement in foreign currency exchange rates may also impact the Bank's borrowers adversely, which may in turn impact the quality of its exposure to these borrowers. Volatility in foreign exchange rates could adversely affect the Bank's business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

15. We are required to maintain minimum cash reserve ratio ("CRR") and statutory liquidity ratio ("SLR") in accordance with RBI guidelines, and any increase in these requirements could adversely affect our business.

Under RBI regulations, we are subject to a CRR requirement. The CRR is a bank's balance held in an interest-free current account with the RBI calculated as a specified percentage of its net demand and time liabilities, excluding interbank deposits. The CRR currently applicable to banks in India is 4.00%. The RBI has announced that the CRR will be reduced to 3.00% of net demand and time liabilities ("NDTL") in a staggered manner, with four cuts of 25 basis points each taking effect from the fortnights commencing on September 6, October 4, November 1, and November 29, 2025.

In addition, under the Banking Regulation Act, all banks operating in India are required to maintain an SLR. The SLR is a specified percentage of a bank's net demand and time liabilities required to be maintained by way of liquid assets such as cash, gold or approved unencumbered securities. Approved securities consist of unencumbered Government securities and other securities as may be approved from time to time by the RBI and, which earn lower levels of interest as compared to advances to customers or investments made in other securities.

The SLR currently applicable to banks in India is a minimum of 18.00%. Further, the RBI may increase the CRR and SLR requirements as a monetary policy measure. Any substantial increases in the CRR from the current levels could affect our ability to deploy our funds or make investments, which could in turn have a negative impact on our results of operations. If we are unable to meet the statutory reserve requirements of the RBI or make an error in calculating such required limits, the RBI may impose penal interest or prohibit us from receiving any further fresh deposits, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

16. A substantial portion of our Bank's income is derived from its Government operations, a slowdown in which could adversely affect our Bank's business.

The Government generates significant business activity in the economy. For Fiscal 2025, our Bank's total Government business turnover was ₹ 65,152.25 billion and our Bank earned commission from Government transactions of ₹ 39.14 billion, or 12.66% of our Bank's other (non-interest) income (i.e., commission, exchange and brokerage commission). For Fiscal 2025, our Bank's market share of Government business was over 62% and includes such transactions as handling payment and receipts for the Central and States Governments. Our Bank has been able to retain its position as the market leader in government banking business. While our Bank has enjoyed a strong working relationship with the Government in the past, there is no assurance that such strong working relationship will continue in the future.

For example, on July 1, 2012, the RBI declared that all private sector banks would be eligible to handle Central and State Government business and would be considered on an equal basis with public sector banks. Prior to this declaration by the RBI, only public sector banks and three designated private banks could conduct Government business. A memorandum was issued by the Ministry of Finance dated April 9, 2015 on allowing further authorisation of Government business to private sector banks and RBI was advised against any further allocation of Government business to private sector banks. Furthermore, three public-sector banks, Dena Bank, Vijaya Bank and Bank of Baroda, merged in April 2019, as a result of which, Bank of Baroda is now the second largest public sector bank by asset size, as of March 31, 2025. (Source: RBI: Financial results of Public Sector Banks) If the Government decides to utilize the merged bank for handling the Government's business to a greater extent than it previously had with the three public-sector banks prior to the merger, this may negatively impact our Bank's market share of the Government's business. The Government is not obligated to choose our Bank to conduct any of its transactions. If our Bank cannot successfully compete with private banks for Government business or the Government chooses other public sector banks to conduct transactions currently performed by our Bank or if the rates paid by the Government to the dealing banks decline, our Bank's business and/or the income derived from our Government operations will be adversely affected.

17. Our investment portfolio comprises largely of government securities that may limit our ability to deploy funds in higher yield investments.

Under RBI regulations, the Bank's liabilities are subject to the SLR requirement that a minimum specified percentage, currently 18%, of a bank's net demand and time liabilities ("NDTL"), be invested in Government securities and other approved securities. As of March 31, 2025, government securities represented 82.08% of our Bank's domestic investment portfolio, and comprised 24.65% of the Bank's total deposits.

We earn interest on such government securities at rates which are less favorable than those which we typically receive in respect of our retail and corporate loan portfolio and this adversely impacts our net interest income and net interest margin. In addition, the market and accounting value of such securities could be adversely affected by overall rising interest rates. To reduce the risk of interest rate fluctuations, we have classified a large majority of the Government securities as "held to maturity." However, the concentration of securities in such classification can limit gains in our treasury operations.

18. The banking industry in India is subject to extensive regulation and significant changes in the banking regulations may adversely affect our business and our future financial performance.

Banks in India are subject to detailed regulation and supervision by the RBI. The RBI sets guidelines on matters related to our business including cash reserve ratios, statutory liquidity ratios, capital adequacy ratio, priority sector lending, recognition and provisioning for NPAs, export credit, market risk and branch licensing. As we operate under licences or registrations obtained from appropriate regulators, such as RBI, SEBI, IRDAI and PFRDA, we are subject to actions that may be taken by such regulators in the event of any noncompliance with any applicable policies, guidelines, circular, notifications and regulations issued by the relevant regulators. Our business could be directly affected by any changes in policies for banks in respect of directed lending, reserve requirements and other areas. In addition, banks are generally subject to changes in Indian laws, regulations, Government policies and accounting principles. In addition, we may be subject to other changes in laws and regulations, such as those affecting the extent to which we can engage in specific businesses, those that reduce our profits through a limit on fees or interest rates that we may charge our customers or those affecting foreign investment in the banking industry – as well as to changes in other governmental policies and enforcement decisions, income tax laws, foreign investment laws and accounting principles.

For instance, the RBI has issued the Reserve Bank of India (Project Finance) Directions, 2025, via notification being reference no. RBI/2025-26/59 DOR.STR.REC.34/21.04.048/2025-26 dated June 19, 2025, providing a harmonised framework for financing of projects in infrastructure and non-infrastructure (including commercial real estate & commercial real estate-residential housing) sectors by regulated entities.

Further, exposures of SCBs to NBFCs, excluding core investment companies, are risk weighted as per the ratings assigned by accredited external credit assessment institutions (“ECAI”). On a review, it has been decided to increase the risk weights on such exposures of SCBs by 25% (over and above the risk weight associated with the given external rating) in all cases where the extant risk weight as per external rating of NBFCs is below 100%. For this purpose, loans to HFCs, and loans to NBFCs which are eligible for classification as priority sector in terms of the extant instructions shall be excluded.

We are subject to cash reserve and the statutory liquidity ratios requirements, capital adequacy ratio requirements, priority sector lending requirements, among others, and failure to comply with these requirements may expose us to penalties and regulatory action. See “ – We are required to maintain minimum cash reserve ratio (“CRR”) and statutory liquidity ratio (“SLR”) in accordance with RBI guidelines, and any increase in these requirements could adversely affect our business.” on page 42.

In addition, we are present through our Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates in diverse segments of the Indian financial sector, including asset and funds management, merchant banking, treasury operations, credit cards, payment services and life insurance.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. There can be no assurance that the Government of India may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain any additional approvals and licences from the Government of India and other regulatory bodies. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of the new regulations may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may have to incur expenditure to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also affect our results of operations.

19. A portion of our income is derived from non-banking activities and fee-based services. Our financial performance may be adversely affected by our inability to generate and sustain such income.

We have, over the years, expanded our operations from undertaking banking activities to providing certain non-banking and fee and commission-based services. Our fees from commissions, exchanges and brokerage services increased from ₹ 262.45 billion in Fiscal 2023 to ₹ 281.26 billion in Fiscal 2024 and ₹ 309.19 billion in Fiscal 2025, which accounted for 7.12%, 6.03% and 5.90% of our total income in Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, respectively. Our non-banking activities through our Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates mainly include life insurance, general insurance, private equity, merchant banking, asset management, cards and payment.

We earn fee-based income from corporate agency services, which include marketing and distribution of insurance products. We also earn fee-based income from corporate agency services, which include marketing and distribution of insurance products. Fee-based income is also earned as part of our foreign exchange business. From time to time we hold assets on our balance sheet which may subject to market risk and credit risk. There can be no assurance that we will be able to sustain current levels of income from, or effectively manage the risks associated with, these businesses in the future.

New initiatives, products and services that we may introduce, will entail a number of risks and challenges, including risks relating to execution, the failure to identify new segments, the inability to attract customers and the inability to make competitive offerings. If we are unable to successfully diversify our products and services while managing the related risks and challenges, returns on such products and services may be less than anticipated, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

20. We have generated negative cash flows from operating activities in the past, and any negative cash flows from operating activities in the future would adversely affect our cash flow requirements, which may adversely affect our ability to operate our business and implement our growth plans, thereby affecting our financial condition.

In Fiscal 2023, we generated negative cash flow from operating activities of ₹ 913.52 billion. For details, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Cash Flows” on page 100.

We may also generate negative cash flows from operating activities in the future. Negative operating cash flows over extended periods, or significant negative cash flows in the short term, could materially impact our ability to operate our business and implement our growth plans. As a result, our cash flows, business, future financial performance and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. We may not generate sufficient revenue for various reasons, including increasing competition, challenging macro-economic environment, as well as other risks discussed elsewhere in this Placement Document. If we fail to sustain or increase profitability, our business, results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

21. Financial difficulties in certain financial institutions in India could adversely affect our business.

We are exposed to the risks inherent in the Indian financial system. These risks are driven by the financial difficulties faced by certain Indian financial institutions, whose commercial soundness may be closely interrelated as a result of credit, trading, clearing or other relationships among them. For example, if a major Indian bank or non-banking financial company were to experience severe liquidity or solvency issues, this could disrupt payment and settlement systems and undermine confidence in other financial intermediaries. This risk, which is sometimes referred to as “systemic risk”, may adversely affect financial intermediaries, such as clearing agencies, banks, securities firms and exchanges with whom we interact on a daily basis. Any such difficulties or instability of the Indian financial system in general could create an adverse market perception about Indian financial institutions and banks and adversely affect our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares. As the Indian financial system operates within an emerging market, we face risks of a nature and extent not typically faced in more developed economies, including the risk of deposit runs, notwithstanding the existence of a national deposit insurance scheme.

22. We distribute third-party products, including mutual funds, brokerage and insurance products, among others. Our inability to effectively manage any of these businesses may adversely affect our business, results of operation and financial condition.

In order to grow our non-interest income, we distribute third-party products, such as, amongst others, mutual funds, brokerage and insurance products. We have engaged with various third-party product companies to distribute such products. However, we have no control over the actions of such third-party product companies and their products. Any failure on the part of such third-party product companies, including any failure to comply with applicable regulatory norms, any regulatory action taken against such parties or any adverse publicity relating to such party could, in turn, result in negative publicity about us and adversely impact our brand and reputation. Further, in case customers to whom such products are sold, experience deficiency of service or are otherwise aggrieved, we may be subject to litigation or claims for damages by such aggrieved customers, which could have an adverse effect on our reputation and our business, financial position and results of operations.

23. The effects of the adoption of Indian Accounting Standards (“Ind AS”) are uncertain and any failure to successfully adopt Ind AS could adversely affect our business, financial conditions and results of operations.

We currently prepare our annual and interim financial statements in accordance with Indian GAAP. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India (“MCA”), in its press release dated January 18, 2016, issued a roadmap for implementation of Ind AS converged with IFRS for scheduled commercial banks. However, the RBI, in its circular dated March 22, 2019, deferred the implementation of Ind AS by scheduled commercial banks until further notice.

The adoption of Ind AS would change, among other things, our methodology for estimating allowances for expected loan losses and for classifying and valuing our investment portfolio and our revenue recognition policy.

For estimation of expected loan losses, the new accounting standards may require us to calculate the present value of the expected future cash flows realizable from our advances, including the possible liquidation of collateral (discounted at the loan's effective interest rate). This may result in us recognizing allowances for expected loan losses in the future that may be higher than under the current Indian GAAP.

The mark-to-market requirements required under Ind AS may also impact our revenues and profitability. We have made no attempt to quantify the impact of the differences between Indian GAAP and Ind AS. However, it is possible that our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows or changes in shareholders' equity may appear materially different under Ind AS than under Indian GAAP.

If we are required to report in Ind AS, we may encounter difficulties in the ongoing process of implementing and enhancing our management information systems. Moreover, we will have to modify our internal control framework and adopt new internal controls to report under Ind AS. These new internal controls will require, amongst others, a transition to more model-based evaluation of certain items, as well as staff who are adequately knowledgeable with Ind AS. If we are required to report in Ind AS, we may encounter difficulties in implementation of effective internal controls in a timely manner.

24. We rely on our correspondent banks in other countries to facilitate our foreign exchange operations. Any failure to maintain such relationships or enter into such new relationships with correspondent banks may impact our ability to grow our foreign exchange business.

As of March 31, 2025, we maintain relationships with 223 correspondent banks and financial institutions across 55 countries. We offer trade finance, foreign exchange and certain other treasury services from these relationships. We maintain nostro accounts in foreign currencies which facilitates inward and outward remittance. Our customers can remit funds to India in any of the currencies for which we have opened such accounts, by instructing their banks to remit the funds to our nostro account maintained in that particular currency. We may need to open such nostro accounts with the correspondent banks in those locations in case we intend to cater to a different foreign location or currency. Opening and maintaining such accounts requires compliance with strict KYC norms and any failure to adhere to such norms may result in the correspondent bank closing these accounts. A correspondent bank may discontinue any of the services that it offers in relation to such accounts, which may result in customer dissatisfaction. There can be no assurance that we will be able to retain our existing correspondent banks or enter into similar arrangements with new correspondent banks on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

25. We need to comply with regulatory requirements in jurisdictions in which we operate as any adverse action by regulatory authorities may adversely affect the Bank's business, financial performance and reputation.

The Bank and its overseas branches are required to maintain monitoring systems and controls, risk management structures, operational compliances and processes that meet regulatory requirements in their respective overseas jurisdictions. Any failure to comply may subject the Bank or its overseas branches to regulatory action from foreign and Indian regulators. The Bank has previously been subject to penalties imposed by regulators in the jurisdictions where its overseas branches are located and there can be no assurance that similar instances will not arise in the future. For example, in Fiscal 2023, Otoritas Jasa Keuangan, the Financial Services Authority of Indonesia had penalized the Bank's Indonesian subsidiary, IDR 153,250,000.00 (approximately ₹ 0.81 million). More recently, the Prudential Authority of the South African Reserve Bank imposed a total financial penalty of 10 million South African Rand on State Bank of India, South Africa Branch, for non-compliance with certain provisions of the Financial Intelligence Centre Act 38 of 2001. Of this penalty, 5.50 million South African Rand was paid on May 23, 2024, while the remaining 4.50 million South African Rand has been suspended for 36 months and will be payable before July 13, 2026. With the Bank's widespread overseas presence, despite the Bank's ongoing efforts to enhance the systems and controls to meet regulatory expectations in all jurisdictions in full, the relevant governments and regulatory agencies to which the Bank reports in India and other jurisdictions, have the authority to impose penalties and other punitive actions. Any such adverse action taken by such agencies could adversely affect the Bank's business, financial performance and reputation.

26. The Indian banking industry is very competitive and our failure to maintain competitive advantages in a rapidly evolving Indian banking sector could impede our growth plans and have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We operate in a competitive industry. Private sector banks, other public sector banks and foreign banks are our main competitors, followed closely by NBFCs, small finance banks, payment banks, insurance companies, asset management companies, development financial institutions, mutual funds and investment banks. Amalgamated public sector banks have increased their financial strength, management capabilities, resources, operational experience, customer base and distribution channels and, as such, their ability to compete with us.

We also face competition from private sector banks in India, some of which have larger customer bases and greater financial resources. In addition, new entrants into the financial services industry, including companies in the financial technology sector, may further intensify competition in the business environments in which we operate, especially in the digital business environment. As a result, we may be forced to adapt its business to compete more effectively. For example, non-bank financial companies, particularly international technology companies, including large e-commerce players, have recently been increasing their presence in the financial sector in India and offering payment platforms and select services to customers, which increase competitive pressures on us.

In addition, entities within our Group, such as SBI Cards and Payment Services Limited ("SBI Cards"), SBI Life Insurance Company Limited ("SBI Life") and SBI Funds Management Limited ("SBI Funds"), face significant competition in their respective sectors. For example, SBI Cards competes directly with other credit card issuers and value-added payment product providers, which are continually innovating to attract and retain customers. SBI Life is exposed to competitive pressures from both established insurers and new market entrants offering life insurance, pension and health protection products. Similarly, SBI Funds competes with domestic and international asset management companies for investment advisory and management services. Increased competition in these areas could affect the market position, growth prospects, and profitability of these entities, thereby impacting our results of operations and financial condition.

Further, technology innovations in mobility and digitisation of financial services require banks to continuously develop new and simplified models for offering banking products and services. Innovations in the payments system and increasing use of mobile banking are leading to the emergence of new platforms for cashless payments. This can also lead to new types of banks expanding their presence in other financial products, such as insurance and mutual funds. These trends in technology could increase competitive pressures on banks, including us, to adapt to new operating models and upgrade back-end infrastructure on an ongoing basis. Due to these and other competitive pressures, we may be unable to successfully execute our growth strategy, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

27. While our Bank's insurance businesses are becoming an increasingly important part of its overall business, there can be no assurance of their future rates of growth or levels of profitability.

Our Bank's life insurance and general insurance businesses conducted through SBI Life and SBI General Insurance Company Limited, respectively are becoming an increasingly important part of our Bank's business. While these businesses have seen moderate growth since fiscal year 2009, there can be no assurance of their future rates of growth. Our Bank's life insurance business offers life, pension and health products. Reductions in capital market valuations and volatility in capital markets have had an adverse impact on the demand for unit-linked products. The regulatory changes include caps on charges, including surrender charges, an increase in the minimum premium paying term and the introduction of minimum guaranteed returns on pension products. On July 8, 2019, the IRDAI had issued IRDAI (unit linked insurance products) Regulations, 2019 and IRDAI (non-linked insurance products) Regulations, 2019. These regulations on non-linked and linked life insurance products includes limits on the commission rates payable by insurance companies, the introduction of a minimum guaranteed surrender value and minimum death benefits for non-linked products. The new guidelines require life insurance companies to modify existing products to comply with the revised guidelines. These revisions could impact the growth, margins and profitability of our Bank's life insurance products. Further, the IRDAI (Expenses of Management, Including Commission of Insurers) Regulations, 2024 were amended to give insurers greater flexibility in managing their expenses, including commissions. This aims to help them optimize resource use, enhance benefits for policyholders, and improve insurance penetration, all within the limits set by the IRDAI. These amendments seek to balance operational flexibility and regulatory oversight by imposing Expenses of Management limits at the company level, rather than the previous segmental level, for general and health insurance sectors, while simplifying the monitoring process for life insurance. This initiative is part of a broader regulatory reform aimed at shifting towards principle based regulations and rationalizing the existing regulatory framework. (Source: IRDAI Annual Report 2023-24).

The growth of our Bank's general insurance business has been adversely impacted by the deregulation of pricing on certain products since 2007, which has resulted in a reduction in premiums for those products. There can be no assurance of the future rates of growth in the insurance business. A slowdown in the Indian economy, further regulatory changes or customer dissatisfaction with our Bank's insurance products could adversely impact the future growth of these businesses. Any slowdown in these businesses and in particular in the life insurance business could have an adverse impact on our Bank's business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

28. Actuarial experience and other factors could differ from assumptions made in the calculation of life actuarial reserves, which may lead to losses if the assumptions are proven to be incorrect.

The assumptions made by our Bank's life insurance subsidiary, SBI Life, in assessing its life insurance reserves may differ from what it experiences in the future. The assumptions include an assessment of the long-term development of interest rates, investment returns, the allocation of investments between equity, fixed income and other categories, mortality and morbidity rates, policyholder lapses, policy discontinuation and future expense levels. SBI Life monitors its actual experience of these assumptions and where it considers there to be any deviation from these assumptions in the long term, it refines its long-term assumptions. Changes in any such assumptions may lead to changes in the estimates of life and health insurance reserves, and if any of its material assumptions prove to be incorrect, the business may experience losses on its insurance products.

29. Loss reserves for our Bank's general insurance subsidiary's business are based on estimates of future claims liabilities and any adverse developments relating to such claims could lead to further reserve additions and could have a materially adverse effect on the operation of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary.

In accordance with general insurance industry practice and accounting and regulatory requirements, our Bank's general insurance subsidiary i.e., SBI General Insurance Company Limited establishes reserves for loss and loss adjustment expenses related to its general insurance business. Reserves are based on estimates of future payments that will be made in respect of claims, including expenses relating to such claims. Such estimates are made on both a case-by-case basis, based on the facts and circumstances available at the time the reserves are established, as well as in respect of losses that have been incurred but not reported. These reserves represent the estimated ultimate cost necessary to bring all pending claims to final settlement.

Reserves are created based on actuarial valuations and are subject to change due to a number of variables which affect the ultimate cost of claims, such as changes in the legal environment, results of litigation, costs of repairs and other factors such as inflation and exchange rates. Our Bank's general insurance subsidiary's reserves for environmental and other latent claims are particularly subject to such variables. The results of operations of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary depend significantly upon the extent to which its actual claims experience is consistent with the assumptions it uses in setting the prices for products and establishing the liabilities for obligations for technical provisions and claims. To the extent that its actual claims experience is less favorable than the underlying assumptions used in establishing such liabilities, it may be required to increase its reserves, and this may have a materially adverse effect on the results of our Bank's operations.

Established loss reserves estimates are periodically adjusted using the most current information available to management, and any adjustments resulting from changes in reserve estimates are reflected in the current results of operations. Our Bank's general insurance subsidiary also conducts reviews of various lines of business to consider the adequacy of reserve levels. Based on current information available and on the basis of internal procedures, the management of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary considers that these reserves are adequate.

However, because the establishment of reserves for loss and loss adjustment expenses is an inherently uncertain process, there can be no assurance that ultimate losses will not materially exceed the established reserves for loss and loss adjustment expenses and have a material adverse effect on the results of operations of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary.

30. *The financial results of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary's business could be materially and adversely affected by the occurrence of a catastrophe.

Portions of our Bank's general insurance subsidiary's i.e., SBI General Insurance Company Limited business may cover losses from unpredictable events such as hurricanes, windstorms, monsoons, earthquakes, fires, industrial explosions, floods, riots and other man-made or natural disasters, including epidemics and acts of terrorism. The incidence and severity of these catastrophes in any given period are inherently unpredictable.

Our Bank's general insurance subsidiary's business monitors its overall exposure to catastrophes and other unpredictable events in each geographic region, and imposes underwriting limits related to insurance coverage for losses from catastrophic events. In addition, it seeks to reduce its exposure through the purchase of reinsurance, selective underwriting practices and by monitoring risk accumulation. However, notwithstanding these measures, any claims relating to catastrophes may result in unusually high levels of losses that may require additional capital to maintain solvency margins, which could in turn have a material adverse effect on our Bank's financial position or results of operations.

31. *We are subject to capital adequacy norms and are required to maintain a capital-to-risk asset ratio ("CRAR") at the minimum level required by RBI for domestic banks. Any inability to maintain adequate capital due to change in regulations or lack of access to capital or otherwise could materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

We are subject to regulations relating to the capital adequacy of banks, which determines the CRAR, or the minimum amount of capital we must hold as a percentage of the risk-weighted assets on our portfolio. The RBI requires banks in India to maintain a minimum CRAR of 11.50% (including capital conservation buffer). RBI had issued the 'Framework for dealing with Domestic Systemically Important Banks ("D-SIBs") on July 22, 2014, which was subsequently updated on December 28, 2023. The D-SIB framework requires the RBI to disclose the names of banks designated as D-SIBs starting from 2015 and place these banks in appropriate buckets depending upon their systemic importance scores. As per the RBI press release dated November 13, 2024, RBI requires D-SIB to maintain a buffer which ranges from 0.20% to 1.00%. In addition, in accordance with the RBI Basel III Capital Regulations, the Bank, effective 1st April 2025, is required to maintain a minimum common equity Tier I ("CET-I") capital ratio of 8.80% (including a capital conservation buffer of 2.50% and D-SIB buffer of 0.80%), and a minimum CRAR of 12.30% (including a capital conservation buffer of 2.50% and D-SIB buffer of 0.80%) of its risk weighted assets. Any incremental capital requirement may adversely impact our ability to grow our business and may even require us to withdraw from, or curtail, some of our current business operations.

The systemic importance of a bank would be determined based on the size, inter-connectedness, substitutability and complexity of the bank, with a larger weightage given to size. We were declared a systemically important bank in India by the RBI in August 2015 and in subsequent years. We were placed in the third bucket for Fiscal 2025 and we have been required to maintain additional common equity Tier 1 capital of 0.60% in a phased manner since April 19, 2016. In December 23, 2023, the RBI moved SBI to bucket 4 increasing the common equity Tier 1 requirement to 0.80% from April 1, 2025. Further, the RBI also released guidelines on implementation of counter cyclical capital buffers which propose higher capital requirements for banks, ranging from 0.00% to 2.50% of risk-weighted assets, during periods of high economic growth. The capital requirement would be determined based on certain triggers such as deviation of long-term average credit-to GDP ratio and other indicators. While these guidelines are already effective, the RBI has stated that current economic conditions do not warrant activation of the counter cyclical capital buffer. Any further increase in capital adequacy requirements or any movement of our Bank to a higher bucket may adversely impact the financial operations and conditions of the bank.

In accordance with the Basel III norms, as of March 31, 2025, the Bank's Tier I and total capital adequacy ratios were 12.11% and 14.25%, respectively. We are exposed to the risk of the RBI increasing the applicable risk weight for different asset classes from time to time. Although we have implemented and followed a policy of maintaining a minimum capital adequacy ratio as stipulated in the RBI Basel III Capital Regulations issued by the RBI, there can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain this ratio in the future. Implementation of Basel III or other such capital adequacy requirements imposed by RBI may result in the incurrence of substantial compliance and monitoring costs, and any breach of applicable laws and regulations will adversely affect our reputation, business operations and financial conditions. In addition, if additional or more stringent guidance on capital adequacy norms are imposed, we may be required to raise or maintain additional capital in a manner which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our general insurance subsidiary i.e., SBI General Insurance Company Limited is also subject to solvency and capital requirements imposed by the respective regulator. While we currently do not expect such subsidiary to require additional equity capital or that we would make additional equity investments in such subsidiary, any requirement for our Bank to make additional equity investments in such subsidiary in the event of an increase in its capital requirements due to regulation or material stress would impact our Bank's capital adequacy requirements.

32. *We may seek opportunities for growth through acquisitions, divest our existing businesses, or be required to undertake mergers by the Reserve Bank of India and could face integration and other acquisitions risks.

We may seek opportunities for growth through acquisitions or be required to undertake mergers mandated by the RBI under its statutory powers. We may in the future examine and seek opportunities for acquisitions in countries where we currently operate. Our Subsidiaries or Associates may also undertake mergers, acquisitions and takeovers in India or internationally. Mergers and acquisitions by our Subsidiaries could lead to reduction in our shareholding in such Subsidiaries (including to below majority ownership in certain Subsidiaries). Any future acquisitions or mergers or takeovers, whether by us or our Subsidiaries, both Indian or international, may involve a number of risks, including the possibility of a deterioration of asset quality, quality of business and business operations, financial impact of employee related liabilities, diversion of our management's attention required to integrate the acquired business and the failure to retain key acquired personnel and clients, leverage synergies or rationalize operations, or develop the skills required for new businesses and markets, or unknown and known liabilities including any ongoing litigation, claims or disputes concerning such acquisition, merger, its shareholders, share capital or its legal and regulatory compliance obligations or practices, some or all of which could have an adverse effect on our business or that of our Subsidiaries or Associates.

We may also sell all or part of one or more of our businesses, including our Subsidiaries, for a variety of reasons including changes in strategic focus, redeployment of capital, contractual obligations and regulatory requirements.

33. Our inability to maintain or grow our Current Account Savings Account ("CASA") ratio may result in higher cost of deposits and impact our financial condition.

We have traditionally maintained high Current Account Savings Account ("CASA") deposits due to our large retail customer base spread across India. In Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, the share of domestic CASA deposits was 43.80%, 41.11% and 39.97%, respectively of our Bank's total domestic deposits. Any decline in CASA share on total deposit could adversely impact the profitability of our Bank. Our liquidity position will also be adversely affected if a significant portion of our depositors do not roll over deposited funds upon maturity or do so for a shorter maturity than that of our assets. Our ability to raise fresh deposits and grow our deposit base depends in part on our ability to expand our network of branches. Further, though retail deposits constitute a huge portion of our deposit base, we also accept high value deposits depending on the funding requirements. Accordingly, we may be required to seek more expensive sources of funding to finance our operations, which would result in a decline in our profits and have a material adverse effect on our business, liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

We intend to and continue focusing on providing top-quality service offerings to our customers, in line with our value of always placing the "customer first". However, there is no assurance that we will be successful in growing our CASA base. If our CASA to deposits ratio deteriorates significantly as compared to the banking industry standards in India, our results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We may not be able to maintain our CASA to deposits ratio owing to the increased competition from other banks and lending institutions. In order to increase our CASA deposits, we intend to continue expanding our branch network both in rural and urban areas, offering attractive interest rates for our savings account customers. However, there is no assurance that we will be successful in growing our CASA base. If we fail to maintain or grow our CASA ratio, our financial condition and cash flows may be materially and adversely affected.

34. Non-compliance with RBI inspection/ observations may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operation. Our overseas branches are also subject to inspections from regulators in such jurisdictions. Any adverse observations from such regulators could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operation.

We are subject to periodic inspections by RBI under the Banking Regulation Act including the Supervisory Program for Assessment of Risk and Capital, during the course of which, the RBI advises on issues related to various risk and regulatory non-compliances. During such inspections in the past, the RBI has made certain observations regarding our business and operations and incorporates such findings in its final inspection report and requires that we take certain actions to its satisfaction. The RBI has, among other things, identified deficiencies in our operations including, governance and risk management, capital computation, fraud detection and reporting, strengthening of the control functions, cyber security capabilities, credit monitoring arrangements, effective monitoring of loan portfolio and classification of loans (including borrower categorization under the large exposure framework), erroneous reporting of external ratings, strengthening its collateral management system to include a framework for centralized monitoring of collaterals and valuation of collateral, deficiencies with respect to cross selling, delayed formulations of business plans and operating systems used in the ATMs. Further, the RBI has observed that certain compliance requirements were not being met by us, including in relation to risk management and holdings in non-subsidiaries engaged in non-financial services. The RBI also made certain observations in relation to our overseas Subsidiaries with respect to show causes notices issued by overseas authorities. The last RBI inspection was for March 31, 2024. While we are undertaking, and have undertaken, steps to comply with these observations and have informed the RBI regarding the status of our compliance, there can be no assurance that the RBI will consider such steps to be adequate and treat the observations as being duly complied with. In the event we are not able to comply with the observations made by the RBI, we could be subject to supervisory actions which may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, financial condition and results of operations. Further, our overseas Subsidiaries are also subject to inspections/ observations from regulators in such jurisdictions and any adverse observation may have an adverse effect on our business and financial conditions.

35. *Our treasury income, debt investment portfolio and derivatives portfolio are exposed to risks relating to mark-to-market valuation, illiquidity and credit risk and income volatility.

Our income from treasury operations is subject to volatility due to, among other things, changes in interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates as well as other market fluctuations. For example, our Bank had a net investment portfolio in available for sale and held for trading of ₹ 4,386.83 billion as of March 31, 2025. In the event of a rise in interest rates, our portfolio will be exposed to the adverse impact of the mark-to-market valuation of such investments and may, under certain circumstances, require us to mark down the value of these investments on our balance sheet and recognize a loss on our income statement. Any rise in interest rates leading to a fall in the market value of such debentures or bonds may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. We may also face income volatility due to the illiquid nature of market for the disposal of some of our debt investment portfolio.

While our gross non-performing investments are monitored and recovery efforts are carried out, any increase in the amount of non-performing investments due to adverse developments in the domestic or international markets, may adversely affect our financial condition.

Similarly, our derivative portfolio is subject to fluctuations in interest rates and foreign exchange rates, and any movement in those rates may require us to mark down the value of our derivatives portfolio. While we invest in corporate debt instruments as part of our normal business, we are exposed to the risk of an issuer defaulting on its obligations. Changes in corporate bond spreads also affect valuations and expose us to risk of valuation losses. Although we have risk and operational controls and procedures in place for our treasury operations, such as sensitivity limits, value at risk (“VaR”) limits, position limits, stop loss limits and exposure limits that are designed to mitigate the extent of such losses, there can be no assurance that we will not lose our investments in the course of trading on our fixed income book in held for trading and available-for-sale portfolio. Any such losses could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

36. *Our risk management policies and procedures may not adequately address unidentified or unanticipated risks.

Our risk management functions are divided on the basis of principal risks defined under applicable Basel III guidelines, i.e., credit risk, market risk, operational risk and liquidity risk. While we have a well-defined risk management governance framework that comprises the Risk Management Committee and sub committees for management of credit, market, liquidity and operational risk, to the extent any of the instruments and strategies we use to hedge or otherwise manage our exposure to market or credit risk are not effective, we may not be able to mitigate effectively our risk exposures, in particular to market environments or against particular types of risk. We have devoted significant resources to develop our risk management policies and procedures and aim to continue to do so in the future. See “Our Business - Risk Management Overview” on page 167. Despite this, our policies and procedures to identify, monitor and manage risks may not be fully effective. Some of our methods of managing risks are based upon the use of observed historical market behavior. As a result, these methods may not accurately predict future risk exposures which could be significantly greater than those indicated by the historical measures. Management of operations, legal and regulatory risks requires, among other things, policies and procedures to properly record and verify a large number of transactions and events, and these policies and procedures may not be fully effective. As we seek to expand the scope of our operations, we also face the risk that we may not be able to develop risk management policies and procedures that are properly designed for new business areas or to manage the risks associated with the growth of our existing businesses effectively. Implementation and monitoring may prove particularly challenging with respect to businesses that we plan on developing. An inability to develop and implement effective risk management policies may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

37. *We are involved in certain legal and other proceedings which, if determined against us, could have a material adverse impact on our financial condition.

We are involved in various legal proceedings and other proceedings in the ordinary course of our business. These legal proceedings are primarily in the nature of tax proceedings, recovery proceedings, consumer disputes, regulatory proceedings, criminal complaints and other civil proceedings, and are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals, statutory and regulatory authorities/ other judicial authorities. For further details, see “Legal Proceedings” on page 258. Although it is our policy to make provisions for probable loss, we are guided by regulatory prescriptions. We have also been penalized by RBI and regulators in overseas jurisdictions for certain non-compliances or contravention of applicable law in the past, from time to time. See “– Any regulatory investigations, fines, sanctions, and requirements relating to conduct of business and financial crime could negatively affect our business and financial results, or cause serious reputational harm across our businesses.” at page 54. We can give no assurance that these legal proceedings will be decided in our favour and we may incur significant expenses and management time in such proceedings and may have to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and liabilities. If any new developments arise, for example, rulings against us by the appellate courts or tribunals, we may face losses and may have to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities. If such claims are determined against us, there could be a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations, which could adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. If our provisioning is inadequate relative to actual losses on final judgment, such additional losses could have an adverse impact on our business and financial condition.

38. *We are exposed to risks arising from the performance of our Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates, including our asset management and credit card business related subsidiaries, which contribute significantly to our consolidated results.

As of March 31, 2025, we have 29 Subsidiaries, 8 Joint Ventures and 4 Associates (excluding Regional Rural Banks). Our Bank has total of 14 Regional Rural Banks namely, Andhra Pradesh Grameena Vikas Bank, Arunachal Pradesh Rural Bank, Chhattisgarh Rajya Gramin Bank, Ellaquai Dehati Bank, Madhyanchal Gramin Bank, Meghalaya Rural Bank, Mizoram Rural Bank, Nagaland Rural Bank, Saurashtra Gramin Bank, Utkal Grameen Bank, Uttarakhand Gramin Bank, Jharkhand Rajya Gramin Bank, Rajasthan Marudhara Gramin Bank, Telangana Grameena Bank.

In particular, SBI Funds, our asset management company, is a subsidiary of the Bank and is a joint venture between SBI Mutual Fund and Amundi and SBI Cards is engaged in the credit card business. In Fiscal 2025, SBI Funds and SBI Cards contributed ₹ 25.31 billion and ₹ 19.16 billion in net profit to our business, respectively. Given the material net profits reported by SBI Funds and SBI Cards, any adverse changes to their operating performance, regulatory environment, competitive position or ability to maintain growth and profitability could significantly affect our Bank's consolidated financial condition and results of operation. Such adverse changes could similarly also affect our Bank's life insurance subsidiary, SBI Life, see “– While our Bank's insurance businesses are becoming an increasingly important part of its overall business, there can be no assurance of their future rates of growth or levels of profitability” on page 47.

Consequently, the performance of any or all of key Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates, and in particular, SBI Cards and SBI Funds could have a material impact on our financial performance on a consolidated basis.

39. *Our business operations are heavily reliant on our information technology systems. Any failure of or disruptions in our systems could have an adverse impact on our operations and financial condition.

Our business is largely dependent on our information technology systems. We service our customers, undertake our risk management functions, provide deposit services, loan origination functions, as well as increase our portfolio of products and services, through our information technology systems. We also rely on our technology platform to undertake financial control and for transaction processing. In addition, our systems connect our ATMs, branches and other delivery channels. Our hardware and software systems are also subject to damage or incapacitation by human error, natural disasters, power loss, sabotage, computer viruses and similar events or the loss of support services from third parties such as internet backbone providers. Our information technology systems may be subject to interruptions and temporary disruptions and may not meet our requirements or be suitable for use at all times. We cannot assure you that we will not encounter service disruptions in the future due to substantially increased numbers of customers and transactions, or for other reasons. Further, any continued disruption in our information technology systems or delayed implementation of hardware/ software updates may also result in certain measures being imposed by the RBI, including limiting certain business activities. Any inability to maintain the reliability and efficiency of our systems could adversely affect our reputation, and our ability to attract and retain customers. In the event we experience system interruptions, errors or downtime (which could result from a variety of causes, including changes in customer use patterns, technological failure, changes to systems, linkages with third-party systems and power failures) or any other failures, or if we are unable to develop necessary technology, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

Any failure by our third-party vendors to perform any key processes and critical application systems could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Although we intend to continue to implement security technology and establish operational procedures to prevent break-ins, damage and failures, there can be no assurance that these security measures will be adequate or successful. Failed security measures could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

40. *Our international operations are subject to legal and regulatory risks. If we do not effectively manage our foreign operations or any further international expansion, our operations may incur losses or otherwise adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our international operations included 244 branches in 29 countries, as of March 31, 2025. In addition, we have overseas banking subsidiaries across Nepal, Canada, USA, UK, Indonesia, Mauritius and Russia. As a result, we are subject to additional risks related to complying with wide variety of international banking and financial services laws and regulations and regulatory and enforcement authorities in the jurisdictions in which we operate. In addition, we also face risks related to economic and political environment challenges, restrictions on the import and export of certain intermediates, banking regulations, technologies and multiple and possibly overlapping tax structures.

The laws and regulations governing the banking and financial services industry in the jurisdictions we operate, have become increasingly complex, governing a wide variety of issues, including interest rates, liquidity, capital adequacy, securitization, investments, ethical issues, money laundering, privacy, record keeping, outsourcing and marketing and selling practices, with sometimes overlapping jurisdictional or enforcement authorities. We have in the past experienced certain instances of non-compliance with applicable regulations, and have been penalized for such non-compliances. See “ – We need to comply with regulatory requirements in jurisdictions in which we operate as any adverse action by regulatory authorities may adversely affect the Bank’s business, financial performance and reputation.” on page 46.

Any failure to comply with applicable regulations in various jurisdictions, including unauthorized actions by employees, representatives, agents and third parties, suspected or perceived failures and media reports, and future inquiries or investigations by regulatory and enforcement authorities, may result in regulatory action including financial penalties and restrictions on or suspension of the related business operations. We may also face difficulties integrating new facilities in different countries into our existing operations, as well as integrating employees that we hire in different countries into our existing corporate culture or comply with unfamiliar laws and regulations. In addition, we face competition from banks in other countries that may have more experience and resources in those countries or in international operations generally. We remain a small-size operator in foreign markets where we are currently present and many of our competitors have much greater resources. If we do not effectively manage our foreign operations, our results of operations may be adversely affected.

41. *The insolvency laws of India may differ from other jurisdictions with which holders of Equity Shares are familiar.

The IBC offers a uniform and comprehensive insolvency legislation encompassing all companies, partnerships and individuals (other than financial firms). It allows creditors to assess the viability of a debtor as a business decision and agree upon a plan for its revival or a speedy liquidation. The IBC creates a new institutional framework, consisting of a regulator, insolvency professionals, information utilities and adjudicatory mechanisms, which facilitates a formal and time-bound insolvency resolution and liquidation process.

If insolvency proceedings are initiated against any of our debtors, we may not have complete control over the recovery of amounts due to us. Under the IBC, upon invocation of an insolvency resolution process, a committee of creditors is constituted by the interim resolution professional, wherein each financial creditor is given a voting share proportionate to the debts owed to it. Any decision of the committee of creditors must be taken by a vote of not less than 51.0% of the voting share of all financial creditors, unless otherwise specified in the IBC. Any resolution plan approved by committee of creditors is binding upon all creditors, even if they vote against it. In addition, if the corporate insolvency resolution process is initiated and admitted before the NCLT under the IBC, against any of the corporate debtors of our Company, then it may affect our ability to recover amounts due under the loans made available to the said customers, during the moratorium period as part of the resolution proceedings under the IBC.

If the liquidation process is opted for, the IBC provides for a fixed order of priority in which proceeds from the sale of the debtor’s assets are to be distributed. Before sale proceeds are distributed to a secured creditor, they are to be distributed for the costs of the insolvency resolution and liquidation processes and debts owed to workmen and other employees. Pursuant to an amendment to the IBC, allottees in a real estate project are considered at par with financial creditors. Moreover, other secured creditors may decide to opt out of the process, in which case they are permitted to realize their security interests in priority. Accordingly, if provisions of IBC are invoked against any of our customers, it may affect our ability to recover our loans from the customers and enforcement of our rights will be subject to the IBC.

42. *Investors may have limited recourse to our assets in view of the overarching powers of the Government to order our winding-up.

The Bank can be placed in liquidation only by an order of the Government pursuant to Section 45 of the SBI Act, which exempts the Bank from provisions of Indian law relating to the winding-up of companies generally and stipulates that the Bank cannot be placed in liquidation except by order of the Government. Accordingly, in the event of liquidation of the Bank, holders of Equity Shares will not be able to claim as per the general insolvency waterfall provided under the IBC and the Government would have the sole ability to determine the ranking of claims of the Bank in liquidation.

43. *Any downgrade in the Bank’s credit ratings could affect our ability to access cost effective funding, thereby adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The pricing on our issuances of debt will be negatively impacted by any downgrade or potential downgrade in our credit ratings, which could increase our financing costs, and adversely affect our future issuances of debt and our ability to raise new capital on a competitive basis. There is no downgrade of Bank’s/Bank’s instrument for past three fiscals. Set forth below are details of our credit ratings as of the corresponding periods:

Any downgrade in our credit ratings may increase interest rates for refinancing our outstanding debts in domestic and international markets, which would increase our financing costs and adversely affect both our future debt issuances and our ability to raise new capital on a competitive basis, which may, in turn, adversely affect our profitability and future growth. In addition, any downgrade of our credit ratings could result in additional terms and conditions being included in any financing or refinancing arrangements in the future. We cannot guarantee that our ratings will not change, or that any other rating agency will not downgrade India's credit rating. Also see, “ - Any downgrade in India's sovereign debt rating by international rating agencies could adversely impact our ability to raise additional foreign currency financing, interest rates and other commercial terms at which such financing is available” on page 65.

44. We may not be able to detect money-laundering and other illegal or improper activities in a comprehensive manner or on a timely basis, which could expose us to additional liability and harm our business or reputation.

Although we comply with the guidelines related to Anti-Money Laundering issued by RBI and Financial Intelligence Unit-India and all necessary reporting is also being done but banking channels have an inherent risk of misuse by money launderers, terrorists and cyber criminals. For the last three fiscal years, regulatory reports are being submitted as per guidelines and no penalty has been imposed till date regarding regulatory reporting.

While we continue to strengthen our AML and KYC procedures, to the extent we fail to fully comply with applicable laws and regulations, the relevant governmental and regulatory agencies may impose fines and other penalties and, in certain circumstances, ask us to cease operations. In addition, any adverse action taken by such agencies could adversely affect our reputation, thereby affecting our business and future financial performance.

A penalty of approximately ₹ 17.28 million was imposed by RBI on the Bank by an order dated April 29, 2025 (“Order”) for non-compliance with certain directions issued by RBI on ‘Loans and Advances- Statutory and Other Restrictions’, ‘Customer Protection – Limiting Liability of Customers in Unauthorised Electronic Banking Transactions’ and ‘Opening of Current Accounts by Banks - Need for Discipline’. The RBI in its Order concluded that the (a) Bank issued a bridge loan to an entity against pending receivables from the central or state government, breaching regulatory norms, (b) Bank also failed to credit customers’ accounts (through shadow reversal) within 10 working days of being notified of unauthorized electronic banking transactions; and did not compensate affected customers within the stipulated 90-day period from the date of receiving complaints; and (c) opened and maintained certain current accounts in violation of the existing RBI regulations.

Recently, the Prudential Authority of the South African Reserve Bank (“PASARB”) imposed a total financial penalty of 10 million South African Rand on State Bank of India, South Africa Branch, for non-compliance with certain provisions of the Financial Intelligence Centre Act 38 of 2001 following an anti-money laundering and counter-financing of terrorism inspection. Of this penalty, 5.50 million South African Rand was paid on May 23, 2024, while the remaining 4.50 million South African Rand has been suspended for 36 months and will be payable before July 13, 2026.

Regulators from other jurisdictions may also observe similar deficiencies in the Bank's financial control framework. Although the penalty imposed by the PASARB did not materially impact the Bank's profitability, there can be no assurance that this or similar punitive actions by the PASARB and/or other regulators in the future will not have a material adverse effect on the Bank's financial position, results of operations or its reputation or that the measures taken by the Bank to remedy such detected deficiencies in its control processes would be sufficient.

45. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon applicable RBI regulations, our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements. Any inability to declare dividend may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

While we have a formal board approved dividend distribution policy to govern our dividend pay-out, our future ability to pay dividends and the amount of any such dividends, if declared, will depend upon a number of factors, including our future earnings, financial condition, capital requirements, our compliance with regulatory requirements, meeting the RBI mandated CRAR and net NPA parameters and our operating performance. Dividends distributed by us may attract dividend distribution tax at rates applicable from time to time. We cannot assure you that we will generate sufficient income to cover our operating expenses and shall be able to pay dividends. Our present and future dividend policy is based on the terms of the extant GoI/ RBI guidelines and directives and terms of the SEBI Listing Regulations. For further information, see “Dividend Policy” on page 76.

The RBI has prescribed limits on the dividend pay-out ratio of banks in India linked to certain parameters such as the risk-based capital ratio and net NPA ratio. Under the RBI’s Basel III guidelines, banks are subject to higher minimum capital requirements and must maintain a capital conservation buffer above the minimum requirements to avoid restrictions on capital distributions and discretionary bonus payments. Any change in restrictions on payment of dividend or capital requirements may limit our ability to pay dividends to Shareholders. The declaration and payment of dividends are subject to the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act and regulations made thereunder, the RBI Act and regulations and guidelines made thereunder including the RBI guidelines on ‘Declaration of Dividends by Banks’ dated May 4, 2005, which prescribed certain conditions for declaration of dividends by banks (“RBI Dividend Circular”) and the RBI Circular (RBI/2021-22/23 DOR.ACC.REC.7/21.02.067/2021-22) dated April 22, 2021. The Bank follows the Banking Regulation Act, the RBI Dividend Circular and Regulation 43A of the SEBI Listing Regulations in this regard. Dividends that our Bank has paid in the past may not be reflective of the dividends that our Bank may pay in a future period.

46. Our business and financial condition may be adversely affected if we are unable to develop new products and services.

The role of technology in driving differentiation and business growth is crucial in the highly competitive banking sector. We are committed to leveraging technological advancements to continually innovate and enhance customer experiences across all digital platforms. Our strategic focus includes the development of user-friendly digital banking services such as mobile banking, internet banking, UPI, and streamlined digital processes such as e-signing of documents and digital transactions incentivization, e-Trade finance, streamlines operations, etc. Additionally, our collaborative efforts with various companies have introduced cutting-edge products, further expanding our digital footprint. Partnerships with third parties underscore our proactive approach in meeting the evolving needs of our diverse customer base. We have also increased the presence of authorized dealer branches, Foreign Currency Non-Resident Bank Account Authorized Branches, World Trade Center authorized Branches, and as of March 31, 2025, we have designated 434 Branches as Non-Resident Indian (“NRI”) specialized Branches in India. Furthermore, our Bank has tie-ups with 45 exchange houses and five middle eastern banks to facilitate remittances.

While we have been diversifying and expanding our products and services to deliver innovative, customer-centric solutions and forging strategic partnerships, we cannot assure you that we will be able to continue delivering value and maintain our competitive edge in the banking sector. The successful diversification of our product and service offerings, while managing associated risks and challenges, is essential. Potential outcomes, such as returns on new products falling short of expectations, could materially impact our liquidity, business prospects, financial condition, and overall operational results. Furthermore, heightened competition that better anticipates customer needs within our target markets could potentially diminish our market share and adversely affect our business operations.

47. There are limitations in the scope of the procedures adopted by our statutory auditors in the audit of our financial statements.

We are a commercial bank with a network of 22,937 branches in India as of March 31, 2025. As noted in the audit reports for the financial statements for Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, there are certain limitations in the scope of the audit of such financial statements. For example, the audited standalone financial statements for Fiscal 2025 incorporate financial information from 6,185 branches including other accounting units, which have not been subjected to audit by the central statutory auditors and were audited by respective branch auditors. These branches and processing centres accounted for approximately 60% of advances and 57.22% of deposits, in Fiscal 2025. For further details, see “Financial Statements” on page 263. An inability to maintain an effective internal audit system or adequate procedures by our officials in the audit of our financial statements may affect the reliability of our financial statements.

48. Any regulatory investigations, fines, sanctions, and requirements relating to conduct of business and financial crime could negatively affect our business and financial results, or cause serious reputational harm across our businesses.

The RBI is empowered under the Banking Regulation Act and the circulars, guidelines and notifications issued thereunder to impose penalties on banks and their employees, to enforce applicable regulatory requirements or in case of infringement of any provisions of the Banking Regulations Act. In the past, the RBI has levied penalty on us for non-compliance with guidelines and instructions issued by the RBI from time to time, as well as on account of fraud.

We are periodically subject to inspections by the relevant authorities. Certain of these inspections have resulted in investigations and cases commenced against us or some of our employees. Going forward we will remain subject to similar inspections, investigations and cases. If one or more of such inspections, investigations or cases leads to a significant award or penalty against us, our business may be adversely affected. The table below sets forth details of regulatory penalties imposed by the RBI during the last three fiscals:

| Period      | Date of Action/Penalty | Brief Description of the Action/Penalty                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Quantum of Penalty (₹ in millions) |

The penalties imposed by such regulators have in the past generated adverse publicity for us and our business. Such adverse publicity, or any future scrutiny, investigation, inspection or audit which could result in fines, public reprimands, reputational loss, significant time and attention from our management, costs for investigations and remediation of affected customers, may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

We cannot predict the initiation or outcome of any such investigations by other authorities or different investigations by relevant authorities. Any penalty imposed as a result of such investigations may generate adverse publicity for our business. Such adverse publicity, or any future scrutiny, investigation, inspection or audit which could result in fines, public reprimands, and damage to our reputation, significant time and attention from our management, costs for investigations and remediation of affected customers, may adversely affect our business and financial results.

49. A substantial portion of our Bank's loans have a tenor exceeding one year are unsecured, exposing us to risks associated with economic cycles. In the event of non-payment by borrowers of these loans, we may be unable to collect the unpaid balance.

We offer unsecured personal loans to the retail customer segment, including salaried individuals and self-employed professionals. In addition, we offer unsecured loans to corporates, small businesses and individual businessmen. As of March 31, 2025, our unsecured loans (net) amounted to ₹ 12,060.46 billion, which contributed 28.97% of our Bank's net advances of ₹ 41,633.12 billion. Unsecured loans are at higher credit risk for us than our secured loan portfolio as they may not be supported by realizable collateral that could help ensure an adequate source of repayment for the loan. Although we may obtain direct debit instructions or post-dated cheques from our customers for our unsecured loan products, we may be unable to collect in part or at all in the event of non-payment by a borrower. Further, any increase in delinquency in our unsecured loan portfolio could require us to increase our provision for credit losses, which would decrease our earnings.

In addition, as of March 31, 2025, loans with an outstanding tenor exceeding one year constituted 80.13% of our Bank's total standard domestic advances. The long tenor of these loans may expose our Bank to risks arising out of economic cycles exposing us to liquidity risks.

50. We have existing indebtedness, and may incur additional indebtedness, which could adversely affect our financial condition, and/or our ability to obtain financing in the future, react to changes in our business and/or satisfy our obligations.

As of March 31, 2025, our Bank had ₹ 1,695.57 billion of outstanding debt liabilities in the form of debt securities, Tier I bonds, subordinate debts for Tier II capital and long-term infrastructure bond. Our existing indebtedness could impose restrictions on our business operations which may be in the nature of following:

- it may be challenging for us to obtain additional financing, should such a need arise, which may limit our ability to satisfy obligations with respect to our debt;
- a portion of our financial resources must be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on our debt, thereby reducing the funds available to use for other purposes;
- it may be difficult for us to satisfy our obligations to our creditors, resulting in possible defaults on, and acceleration of, such debt;
- we may be more vulnerable to general adverse economic and industry conditions;
- our ability to refinance debt may be limited or the associated costs may increase; and
- our flexibility to adjust to changing market conditions could be limited, or we may be prevented from carrying out capital spending that is necessary or important to our growth strategy and efforts to improve operating margins of our businesses.

In addition, failure to comply with the terms of these financing agreements may lead to action against us, and may require us to accelerate payment of our loans. Default in our repayment obligations may also affect our ability to raise financing in future.

51. Any deficiencies, inaccuracies or mis-specification in the models and data we rely on for our risk analysis could impact our decision-making and operations.

As part of ordinary decision-making process, we rely on various models for data analysis and risk assessment. These models are based on historical data supplemented with managerial inputs and comments. These models analyze data which may not always be accurate or adequate to guide for strategic and operational decisions and protect from risks. Any misspecification, deficiencies or inaccuracies in the data used for model development might have a material adverse impact on Bank's business, operations and financial conditions. As we endeavor to broaden its operations in newer geographies and new product areas, there is a risk that we may struggle to create tailored risk management policies/procedures/models suitable for these new areas and products, or effectively handle the risks linked to the expansion of our current businesses. Also, implementation and monitoring may prove to be challenging with respect to our expansion and development.

52. *Some of our offices, branches and ATMs are located on premises taken by us on lease. We may not be able to renew these agreements for our branches upon acceptable terms or at all which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Some of our offices, branches and ATMs are located on premises taken by us on lease. Some of the lease/ leave and license agreements may have expired in the ordinary course of business. In case of non-renewal of our leases or if such agreements are renewed on unfavorable terms and conditions, we may be forced to procure alternative space for our existing branches and incur additional costs in such relocation. Our Bank is currently in the process of negotiating renewals or shifting premises, as applicable. We may also face the risk of being evicted in the event that our landlords allege a breach on our part of any terms under these lease or license agreements. This may cause a disruption in our operations or result in increased costs, or both, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations in respect of such defaulting premises. Further, there may be some disagreement on stamp duty on some of our lease agreements with the registering authority of the appropriate jurisdiction. An instrument not duly stamped, or insufficiently stamped, shall not be admitted as evidence in any Indian court or may attract a penalty as prescribed under applicable law, which could adversely affect the continuance of our operations and business. Although we procure space that satisfies the safety, operational and financial criteria for our branches, we cannot assure you that we will be able to identify such space at commercially reasonable terms or at all.

53. *We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest with the equity shareholders.

We have in the course of our business entered into, and will continue to enter into, several transactions with our related parties. We cannot assure you that we will receive similar terms in our related party transactions in the future and that we could not have achieved more favorable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. The transactions we have entered into and any further transactions that we may have with our related parties have involved or could potentially involve conflicts of interest which may be detrimental to us. We cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our business and financial results, including because of potential conflicts of interest or otherwise. We have a Board approved related party transactions policy as mandated by the SEBI, which is the guiding document for related party transactions. See “Financial Statements” on page 263.

54. *Our employees are unionized and any union action may adversely affect our business.

We have two majority and representative unions, which are All India State Bank Officers’ Federation (“AISBOF”) and All India State Bank of India Staff Federation (“AISBISF”). We are a member of the Indian Banks’ Association, which negotiates wages and other service conditions with the major unions.

From time to time, the labour unions for the banking employees organize strikes, as a result of which, we have been and may in the future be affected by strikes, work stoppages or other labor disputes. We have had past instances of industry wide strikes by the unions which affected all banks and we have also had past instances of strikes which only affected us. In the event of a labour dispute, protracted negotiations and strike action may impair our ability to carry on our day-to-day operations, which could materially and adversely affect our business, future financial performance and results of operations. While we believe that we have a strong working relationship with our unions, associations and employees, and also believe that the same shall continue in future, there can be no assurance that we will continue to have such a relationship in the future, and that there will not be significant strikes or disputes with employees that could affect our operations in future.

55. *A reduction in long-term interest rates may increase our pension liabilities which may adversely affect our future financial performance and results of operations.

We operate a defined benefit pension fund scheme. A discount rate is used to calculate the present value of our future liabilities in relation to the scheme and is linked to the long-term yield on GoI securities. A reduction in the long-term interest rate would increase the present value of our pension obligations. As a result, we may be required to make further cash contributions to the scheme in order to cover the deficit which may in turn lead to an increase in its pension expenses. In a falling interest rate scenario, the held-to-maturity value of already invested securities is likely to go up, thereby offsetting the increase in present value of pension obligation to an extent.

56. *Our inability to renew or maintain our statutory and regulatory permits and approvals required to operate our business may adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operation.

We are required to obtain various statutory and regulatory licences, permits and approvals to operate our business which require us to comply with certain terms and conditions in the ordinary course of our business. Our inability to obtain these licences/permits/approvals or non-compliance of the terms and conditions mentioned therein may attract penalties and strictures from the regulatory authorities if the irregularities pointed out by the inspecting officials of the concerned authorities are not rectified within the time allowed by them and in extreme cases, it may result in the interruption of all or some of our operations and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results and cash flow and could also adversely affect our financial performance and reputation.

In addition, our branches in some states are also required to be registered under the relevant shops and establishments laws of the concerned states within whose territorial jurisdiction, our branch is located, unless otherwise exempt under such enactments. Some of these approvals and registrations may have expired or lapsed for which are in the process of making an application for obtaining the approvals of its renewal. Inability to obtain these licences/permits/approvals or non-compliance of the terms and conditions mentioned therein may attract penalties and strictures from the authorities if the irregularities pointed out by the inspecting officials of the concerned authority is not rectified within the time allowed by them and in extreme cases, it may result in the interruption of all or some of our operations and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results and cash flow and could also adversely affect our financial performance and reputation.

57. *Our inability to attract and retain talented professionals may negatively affect our results of operation and financial position.

Attracting and retaining talented professionals is a key element to our growth strategy. Our remuneration schemes are guided by industry level negotiations between bank management represented by the Indian Banks' Association ("IBA"), and officers/workmen represented by their respective unions. In addition to such remuneration, we also offer our employees certain incentive such as bonus payments, as may be approved by our Board. Our remuneration scheme is in accordance with industry level settlement formulated by the IBA following negotiation with various unions or associations. The remuneration prevalent in the public sector banks are similar except for perks which is determined by individual banks.

If the banking industry increasingly moves toward incentive-based pay schemes, attrition rates could increase and we could be forced to alter our remuneration scheme. The resultant pressures may result in diminished profitability, especially if rates of return do not experience a commensurate rise. An inability to attract and retain such talented professionals or the resignation or loss of such professionals may have an adverse impact on our business, future financial performance and trading price of Equity Shares. In addition, we may experience difficulties in managing our expanding workforce.

58. *India's existing credit information infrastructure may cause increased risks of loan defaults. We depend on the accuracy and completeness of information furnished by the customers and counterparties and any misrepresentation, errors or incompleteness of such information could cause our business to suffer.

Our principal business is providing financing to borrowers, including individuals, SMEs and MSMEs. The credit risk of our borrowers may be higher than in other economies due to the higher uncertainty in our regulatory, political and economic environment and the inability of our borrowers to adapt to global technological advancements. Although India has credit information companies, adequate information regarding loan servicing histories, particularly in respect of individuals and small businesses, is limited. In the event that the reports of such credit information companies are not up-to-date, we may not be able to accurately assess the creditworthiness of our borrower which may increase our risk of exposure to default by borrower. Inadequate loan servicing histories for borrowers increase the risk of exposure and may lead to an increase in our NPAs which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We rely on information furnished by customers and counterparties while determining whether to extend credit or to enter into other transactions with such customers and counterparties. Our financial condition and results of operations could be negatively affected by relying on financial statements that do not comply with generally accepted accounting principles or with other information that is materially misleading. We also rely on credit ratings and bureau scores assigned to our customers. Our financial condition and results of operations could be negatively impacted by such reliance on information that is inaccurate or materially misleading.

Currently, India has four Credit Information Companies ("CICs"): (i) TransUnion CIBIL Limited ("CIBIL"); (ii) CRIF High Mark Credit Information Services Private Limited; (iii) Experian Credit Information Company of India Private Limited; and (iv) Equifax Credit Information Services Private Limited which provide Credit Information Reports. We are a member of all the four CICs. However, these CICs provide the reports on borrower's repayment history only. The difficulties associated with the inability to accurately assess the value of collateral and to enforce rights in respect of collateral, along with the absence of such accurate statistical, corporate and financial information, may decrease the accuracy of our assessments of credit risk, thereby increasing the likelihood of borrower default on our loan and decreasing the likelihood that we would be able to enforce any security in respect of such a loan or that the relevant collateral will have a value commensurate to such a loan. The absence of reliable information, including audited financial statements, recognised debt rating reports and credit histories relating to our present and prospective corporate borrowers or other customers makes the assessment of credit risk, including the valuation of collateral, more difficult, especially for individuals and small businesses. The availability of accurate and comprehensive credit information on retail customers and small businesses in India is more limited than for larger corporate customers, which reduces our ability to accurately assess the credit risk associated with such lending. As a result, higher credit risk may expose us to greater potential losses, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

59. Our retail assets portfolio has experienced significant growth. If we are unable to address credit risk in our retail asset portfolio, then our financial performance may be adversely affected.

As part of our Bank's business and growth strategy, we will continue to focus on growth in retail banking business (Retail Personal, Agri and SME). Further, our retail credit portfolio increased by 16.30% between March 31, 2023 and March 31, 2024 and further increased by 13.00% as of March 31, 2025.

Set forth below are details of our Bank's retail credit portfolio as of the corresponding periods:

|                                                                         | As of March 31, |           |           |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|-----------|-----------|
|                                                                         | 2023            | 2024      | 2025      |
| Retail credit portfolio (₹ billion)                                     | 17,970.34       | 20,902.46 | 23,610.28 |
| Total Domestic Advance (₹ billion)                                      | 27,768.02       | 32,284.48 | 36,016.20 |
| Retail credit portfolio, as a percentage of total domestic advances (%) | 64.72           | 64.74     | 65.55     |

The availability of comprehensive credit history reports for new first-time borrowers is limited in India. As a result, we are exposed to higher credit risk in the retail business compared to banks in more developed markets. If our screening process proves to be inadequate, it may experience an increase in impaired loans and it may be required to increase its provision for defaulted loans. This may impact our future financial performance and credit rating and the market price of the Equity Shares. Although India has a credit bureau industry and we review credit history reports whenever they are available from credit bureaus, adequate information regarding loan servicing histories, particularly in respect of individuals and small businesses, is limited. Additionally, the economy in India is largely cash based, making it difficult for us to monitor the credit of our retail customers, who frequently do not maintain formal financial records. Furthermore, retail loans may carry a higher risk for delinquency if there is an increase in unemployment, prolonged recessionary conditions or a sharp rise in interest rates. Further, if we are unable to maintain the quality of our retail loan portfolio as Bank grows its retail business, NPAs may increase, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

60. Our insurance coverage may be inadequate to cover claims. If we incur substantial uninsured loss or loss that exceeds our insurance coverage, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.

While we are covered by a range of insurance that is consistent with industry practice in India to cover risks associated with our business, we cannot assure you that the existing coverage will insure us completely against all risks and losses that may arise in the future. We may not have insurance to cover all of the risks associated with our business, as insurance coverage is either unavailable for certain risks or is prohibitively expensive. In addition, even if such losses are insured, we may be compelled to contribute a substantial deductible on any claim for recovery of such a loss, or the amount of the loss may exceed our coverage for the loss. In addition, our insurance policies are generally subject to annual renewal, and our ability to renew these policies on similar or otherwise acceptable terms, cannot be assured. If we incur a serious uninsured loss or a loss that significantly exceeds the limits of our insurance policies, it could have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.

61. Our contingent liabilities could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

As of March 31, 2025, our Bank had contingent liabilities amounting to ₹ 26,682.37 billion. The table below sets forth the details of contingent liabilities:

| Particulars                                                    | As of March 31, 2025 |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
|                                                                | (₹ billion)          |
| Claims against our Bank not acknowledged as debts              | 1,176.45             |
| Liability for partly paid investments                          | 20.89                |
| Liability on account on outstanding forward exchange contracts | 14,540.90            |
| Guarantees given on behalf of constituents:                    |                      |
| (a) In India                                                   | 2,190.94             |
| (b) Outside India                                              | 1,012.82             |
| Acceptances, endorsements and other obligations                | 1,578.49             |
| Other items for which the Bank is contingently liable          | 6,161.88             |
| TOTAL                                                   | 26,682.37     |

Most of the liabilities have been incurred in the normal course of business. If these contingent liabilities were to fully materialize or materialize at a level higher than we expect, it may materially and adversely impact our business, financial conditions, result of operations and prospects. If we are unable to recover payment from our customers in respect of the commitments that we are called upon to fulfill, our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects may be adversely impacted.

62. *Any non-compliance with law or unsatisfactory service by the third-party service providers engaged by us for certain services could have an adverse impact on our business and results of operations.

We enter into outsourcing arrangements with third parties in compliance with the RBI guidelines on outsourcing. These third parties provide various services including, among others, ATM, card related services, business correspondents, facility management services related to information technology, software services and call center services. We outsource several services through our customer care center, such as our call center, doorstep banking, etc. During Fiscal 2023, 2024 and 2025, there have been no material failures by third parties in performing their contractual obligations of these services. We are also dependent on various vendors for certain non-core elements of our operations including implementing IT infrastructure and hardware, branch roll-outs, networking, managing our data center, and back-up support for disaster recovery.

As a result of outsourcing such services, we are exposed to various risks including strategic, compliance, operational, legal and contractual risks. Any failure by a service provider to provide a specified service or a breach in security/ confidentiality or non-compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, may result in financial loss or loss of reputation. We cannot assure you that there will be no disruptions in the provision of such services or that these third parties will adhere to their contractual obligation. If there is a disruption in the third-party services, or if the third-party service providers discontinue their service agreement with us, our business, financial condition and results of operations will be adversely affected. In case of any dispute, we cannot assure you that the terms of such agreements will not be breached, which may result in litigation costs. Such additional cost, in addition to the cost of entering into agreements with third parties in the same industry, may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The “Guidelines on Managing Risks and Code of Conduct in Outsourcing of Financial Services by Bank” issued by the RBI places obligations on banks, its directors and senior management for ultimate responsibility for the outsourced activity. Banks are required to provide prior approval for use of subcontractors by outsourced vendor and to review the subcontracting arrangements and ensure that such arrangements are compliant with aforementioned RBI guidelines. Legal risks, including actions being undertaken by the RBI, if our third-party service providers act unethically or unlawfully, could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

63. *We face security risks, including denial of service attacks, hacking, social engineering attacks targeting our colleagues and customers, malware intrusion or data corruption attempts, and identity theft that could result in the disclosure of confidential information, adversely affect our business or reputation, and create significant legal and financial exposure.

Our businesses rely on our secure processing, transmission, storage and retrieval of confidential, proprietary and other information in our computer and data management systems and networks and in the computer and data management systems and networks of third parties. Given our reliance and focus on technology and presence in diverse geographies, our technologies, systems, networks, and our customers’ devices are subject to security risks and are susceptible to cyber-attacks (such as, denial of service attacks, hacking, terrorist activities or identity theft) that could negatively impact the confidentiality, integrity or availability of data pertaining to us or our customers, which in turn may cause direct loss of money to our customers or to us, damage to our reputation and adversely impact our business and financial results. Third parties with which we do business or that facilitate our business activities could also be sources of operational and information security risk to us, including from breakdowns or failures of their own systems or capacity constraints.

We, our customers, regulators and other third parties, including other financial services institutions and companies engaged in data processing, have been subject to, and are likely to continue to be the target of, cyberattacks. These cyber-attacks include computer viruses, malicious or destructive code, phishing attacks, denial of service or information, ransomware, improper access by employees or vendors, attacks on personal email of employees, ransom demands to not expose security vulnerabilities in our systems or the systems of third parties or other security breaches that could result in the unauthorized release, gathering, monitoring, misuse, loss or destruction of confidential, proprietary and other information of ours, our employees, our customers or of third parties, damage our systems or otherwise materially disrupt our or our customers’ or other third parties’ network access or business operations. As cyber threats continue to evolve, we may be required to expend significant additional resources to continue to modify or enhance our protective measures or to investigate and remediate any information security vulnerabilities. There have been no security breaches, hacking or other successful cyberattacks in preceding financial year. The cyber incidents are required to be reported to RBI as per their regulatory guidelines. Further, we also receive threat intel and advisories from NCIIPC, GroupIB, CSITE, Cert-In and other regulatory bodies which are promptly acted upon.

Any third-party technology failure, cyber-attack or other information or security breach, termination or constraint could, among other things, adversely affect our ability to effect transactions, service our clients, manage our exposure to risk or expand our business. Cyber-attacks or other information or security breaches, whether directed at us or third parties, may result in a material loss or have material consequences. Furthermore, the public perception that a cyber-attack on our systems has been successful, whether or not this perception is correct, may damage our reputation with customers and third parties with whom we do business. A successful penetration or circumvention of system security could cause us serious negative consequences, including our loss of customers and business opportunities, costs associated with maintaining business relationships after an attack or breach; significant business disruption to our operations and business, misappropriation, exposure, or destruction of our confidential information, intellectual property, funds, and/or those of our customers; or damage to our computers or systems, and could result in a violation of applicable privacy laws and other laws, litigation exposure, regulatory fines, penalties or intervention, loss of confidence in our security measures, reputational damage, reimbursement or other compensatory costs, additional compliance costs, and could adversely impact our results of operations, liquidity and financial condition.

64. We are exposed to risks associated with exposure to the Reserve Bank of India's Prompt Corrective Action framework. Triggering any risk threshold under this framework may materially and adversely affect our business, financial performance and results of operations.

On November 2, 2021, the RBI revised the Prompt Corrective Action (“PCA”) framework for banks. When the PCA framework is triggered, RBI has a range of discretionary actions it can take in addition to the corrective actions mentioned in the PCA. These discretionary actions include conducting supervisory meetings, conducting reviews, advising banks’ boards for altering business strategy, review of capital planning, restricting staff expansion, removing of managerial persons and superseding the Board, as per the classification of different risk threshold. If we trigger any risk threshold under the PCA framework, it could materially and adversely affect our business, future financial performance and results of operations.

65. As the GoI is the majority shareholder of our issued share capital, its decisions, including on matters of public policy, may impact our strategy and operations.

The GoI holds a majority of our Bank’s issued share capital. As of March 31, 2025, the GoI directly held 56.92% of our Bank’s issued and paid up share capital. Historically we have enjoyed autonomy from the Government of India (GoI) in the management of our affairs and strategic direction. Further, the Chairman, Managing Directors and certain Non-Executive Directors are appointed by the Government of India. Although our management runs the day-to-day operations, the Government of India may determine material policies and implement such policies or schemes, as a majority Shareholder, without the consent of the other Shareholders, as well as determine the outcome of any transaction or other matter submitted to Shareholders for approval, except for those matters requiring a special resolution of the Shareholders. Further, except under Section 19(c) of the SBI Act, directors can only be appointed to our Central Board by the GoI. Accordingly, any vacancies that may arise on our Central Board may only be filled by the GoI, which may affect our ability to fill such vacancies in a timely manner. For instance, as on the date of this Placement Document, to comply with the requirements under Regulation 17(1)(b) of the SEBI Listing Regulations, we require the appointment of additional Independent Directors, and as a result, we may be subject to penalties or other actions by the Stock Exchanges.

The SBI Act mandates that the GoI’s shareholding in our Bank cannot fall below 51.00%. This requirement could result in restrictions in our equity capital raising efforts as the GoI may not be able to fund any further investments that would allow it simultaneously to maintain its stake at a minimum of 51.00%. As the Indian economy grows, more businesses and individuals will require capital financing. In order to meet and sustain increasing levels of growth in capital demand, we will need to accrete our capital base, whether through organic growth or capital market financing schemes. If we are unable to grow our capital base in step with demand, our business, financial prospects and profitability may be materially and adversely affected. Further, the approval issued by the Department of Financial Services, Ministry of Finance, Government of India to our Bank dated June 20, 2025 in relation to the Issue, requires us to raise capital in such a way that GoI’s shareholding does not fall below 52%.

66. Significant security breaches of our systems and network infrastructure could adversely impact our business.

We seek to protect our computer systems and network infrastructure including ATMs from physical break-ins as well as security breaches and other disruptive problems caused by our increased use of the internet. Computer break-ins and power disruptions could affect the security of information stored in and transmitted through these computer systems and network infrastructure. There may be areas in the system that have not been properly protected from security breaches and other attacks. We employ security systems, including advance threat defense systems, sophisticated threat management systems and password encryption, designed to minimize the risk of security breaches. Although we intend to continue to implement security technology and establish operational procedures to prevent break-ins, damage and failures, there can be no assurance that these security measures will be adequate or successful.

Failed security measures or failure to adhere with the cyber security policy under the Cyber Security Framework issued by the RBI or inadequate focus in addressing major issues such as those relating to implementation of risk management system, increase in reported frauds, absence of straight through processing in critical systems and their integration with CBS, inadequate collateral management and delayed compliance in implementing the observations of the risk assessment reports, could have a material adverse effect on our business and operations, our future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares. We have ensured to put in place all the necessary control measures as required by the RBI. Our audit department conducts annual audit of the same by external auditors to adhere with the Cyber Security Framework issued by the RBI. Further, our business operations are based on a high volume of transactions. Although we take measures to safeguard against systems related and other fraud and have been compliant with the Cyber Security Framework as per regular internal and external information security audits, there can be no assurance that we will be able to prevent fraud. Our reputation could be adversely affected by significant fraud committed by employees, customers or outsiders.

While compliance checks are regularly reported to top executives and committees, and we are fully committed to protecting its IT infrastructure from all types of external and internal threats, we cannot guarantee that there could be no potential breaches. While our prompt response to threat intelligence received from various platforms and our collaboration with external regulatory agencies have kept us compliant with the cyber security regulations, there remains a risk that such breaches could affect our business operations.

67. Our intellectual property rights may be subject to infringement or we may breach third party intellectual property rights.

We have established a strong brand, “SBI” which is registered under various classes of the Trademarks Act, 1999, as amended, as well as under the (Indian) Copyright Act, 1957, as amended. We have also applied for certain intellectual property registrations. We are subject to the risk of brand dilution and consequently, loss of revenue in case of any misuse of our brand name by our agents or any third party. As such, any damage to our reputation or that of the “SBI” brand name, could substantially impair our ability to maintain or grow our business, or materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operation and prospects. If we fail to maintain this brand recognition with our target customers due to any issues with our product offerings, a deterioration in service quality, or otherwise, or if any premium in value attributed to our business or to the brands under which our services are provided declines, market perception and customer acceptance of our brands may also decline. We also enter into partnerships with external organizations over which we have limited control. Any negative news affecting such external organizations might also affect our reputation and brand value. In such an event, we may not be able to compete for customers effectively, and our business, financial condition and growth prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, we cannot guarantee that there shall be no infringement and unauthorized use of our intellectual property by third parties, including by our competitors. We may also be subject to claims brought by third parties, regarding alleged unauthorized use of their trademark or perceived breach of any intellectual property rights registered by such third parties. Any legal proceedings pursuant to such claims may divert management attention and require us to pay financial compensation to such third parties, as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. If we are unable to obtain or maintain these registrations, it may adversely affect our competitive business position. This may affect our brand value and consequently our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

68. Increasing regulatory focus on personal information protection could impact our business and expose us to increased liability.

Regulators in various jurisdictions are increasingly scrutinizing how companies collect, process, use, store, share and transmit personal data. This increased scrutiny may result in new interpretations of existing laws, thereby further impacting our business. In India, the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 (“Data Protection Act”) has been enacted (although the provisions have not yet been notified) for implementing organisational and technical measures in processing personal data laying down norms for cross-border transfer of personal data to ensure the accountability of entities processing personal data. The Data Protection Act introduced stricter data protection norms for an entity such as ours and may impact our processes. The Data Protection Act is introduced to maintain the highest level of security and protection for all such information regarding our various customer. The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has drafted the Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025 and placed the same in public for comments. The RBI has also issued a circular dated April 6, 2018 on the procedure of storage of payment systems data to ensure that data relating to payment systems that we operate are stored only in India.

The Bank adheres to global information security best practices, including ISO 27001 for Information Security Management System (ISMS), ISO 22301 for Business Continuity Management System (BCMS), and PCI DSS for card information processing units, which demonstrates our compliance to primary regulations and provide confidence to stakeholders and customers and also in defining clear roles and responsibilities, we cannot assure you that we will be able to continue to be compliant with evolving regulatory norms on personal information protection. Any failure, or perceived failure, by us to comply with any applicable regulatory requirements, including but not limited to privacy, data protection, information security, or consumer protection-related privacy laws and regulations, could result in proceedings or actions against us by governmental entities or individuals who may subject us to fines, penalties, and/ or judgments which may adversely affect our business and reputation.

69. We may not be successful in implementing its growth strategies or penetrating new markets.

Our strategies may ultimately fail to contribute to our growth or profitability and may ultimately be unsuccessful. Even if such strategies are partially successful, we cannot assure you that it will be able to manage its growth effectively or fully deliver on its growth objectives. For further information, see “Our Business – Strategies” on page 147.

Challenges that may result from our growth strategies include our ability to, among other things:

- manage efficiently the operations and employees of its expanding businesses;
- maintain or grow its existing customer base;
- develop the technology and infrastructure necessary for the digital platforms and offerings necessary to compete effectively;
- assess the value, strengths and weaknesses of future investments;
- finance strategic investments;
- align the current information technology systems adequately with those of a larger group;
- apply risk management policy effectively to a larger group;
- hire and train additional skilled personnel;
- manage a growing number of branch offices without over-committing management or losing key personnel, and
- each of which would have a potential adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We may not be able to effectively manage this growth or achieve the desired profitability in the expected time frame, if at all, or the expected improvement in indicators of financial performance from the expansion. In addition, we also may fail to develop or retain the technical expertise required to operate and develop these new digital solutions. To the extent that we fail to meet required targets, develop and launch new products or services successfully, it may lose any or all of the investments that it has made in promoting them, and our reputation with its customers could be harmed. Moreover, if our competitors are better able to anticipate the needs of individuals in its target market, we could lose market share and our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

70. Statistical and industry data in this Placement Document has been obtained from various government and industry publications and there can be no assurance regarding the accuracy and completeness of such information.

Statistical and industry data used throughout this Placement Document has been obtained from various government and industry publications. While we believe that the information contained has been obtained from sources that are reliable, neither we nor the Book Running Lead Managers have independently verified it and the accuracy and completeness of this information is not guaranteed and its reliability cannot be assured. The market and industry data used from these sources may have been reclassified by us for purposes of presentation. In addition, market and industry data relating to India, its economy or its industries may be produced on different bases from those used in other countries. As a result, data from other market sources may not be comparable. The extent to which the market and industry data presented in this Placement Document is meaningful will depend upon the reader's familiarity with and understanding of the methodologies used in compiling such data. Statements from third parties that involve estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may differ materially from those included in this Placement Document. Such data involves risks, uncertainties and numerous assumptions and is subject to change based on various factors. Accordingly, investment decisions should not be based on such information.

71. We and our customers may engage in certain transactions in or with countries or persons that are subject to international economic sanctions.

Various international jurisdictions, including the United States and the United Kingdom, restrict investments or otherwise doing business in or with certain countries or territories and with certain persons or businesses that have been specially designated by such government agencies. Other governments and international or regional organizations also administer similar economic sanctions. Through our foreign branches and our international operations, we may provide various services to customers doing business with, or located in, countries to which certain economic sanctions apply. The Bank provides transfer, settlement and other services to customers doing business with, or located in, countries to which certain Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC)-administered and other sanctions apply, such as Iran. Further, as of the date of this Placement Document, our Bank operates a representative office in Iran and a subsidiary in Russia (outside the Crimea region). Although we believe we have compliance systems in place that are sufficient to block prohibited transactions, and we have not been notified that any penalties or other measures will be imposed on us, there can be no assurance that we will be able to fully monitor all of our transactions for any potential violation. There can be no assurance that our future business will be free of risk under sanctions implemented by these jurisdictions or that we will be able to conform our business operations to the expectations and requirements of such international regulatory agencies that do not have jurisdiction over our business but nevertheless assert the right to impose sanctions on an extraterritorial basis. Further, investors in the Equity Shares could incur reputational or other risks as a result of our or our customers' dealings in or with sanctioned countries or with persons that are the subject of such sanctions.

72. Our funding requirements and proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds are based on management estimates and may be subject to change based on various factors, some of which are beyond our control.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds for the purposes described in "Use of Proceeds" on page 74 of this Placement Document towards augmentation of Bank's Tier-I capital base to meet Bank's future capital requirements and to support growth plans and to enhance our business. As on the date of this Placement Document, our funding requirements are based on management estimates based on historical data and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. They are based on current conditions and are subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances, costs, business initiatives, other financial conditions or business strategies. While we will use the Net Proceeds towards augmenting the Bank's Tier I Capital to meet the Bank's future capital requirements and to support growth plans and to enhance the business of the Bank or any other purposes in the manner specified in "Use of Proceeds" on page 74, the amount of Net Proceeds to be actually used will be based on our management's discretion. However, the deployment of the Net Proceeds will not be monitored by any monitoring agency as the Bank in terms of the proviso to Regulation 173A(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, is not required to appoint a monitoring agency for this Issue. Our internal management estimates may exceed fair market value or the value that would have been determined by third-party appraisals, which may require us to reschedule or reallocate our capital expenditure and may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. We may have to reconsider our estimates or business plans due to changes in underlying factors, some of which are beyond our control, such as interest rate fluctuations, changes in input cost, and other financial and operational factors. Accordingly, prospective investors in the Issue will need to rely upon our management's judgment with respect to the use of Net Proceeds. If we are unable to deploy the Net Proceeds in a timely or an efficient manner, it may affect our business and the results of operations.

73. *There can be no assurance that the Bank will not be a passive foreign investment company ("PFIC"), which could result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. investors in the Equity Shares.

A non-U.S. corporation will be a passive foreign investment company ("PFIC") in any taxable year in which, after taking into account the income and assets of the corporation and certain subsidiaries pursuant to applicable "look-through rules", either (i) at least 75 per cent. of its gross income is "passive income" or (ii) at least 50 per cent. of the average value of its assets is attributable to assets which produce passive income or are held for the production of passive income. For these purposes, "passive income" generally includes interest, dividends, rents, royalties and gains from non-dealer securities transactions.

Although interest income is generally treated as passive income, under proposed Treasury regulations that taxpayers may currently rely on, gross income derived in the active conduct of certain banking activities is treated as non-passive income provided that certain requirements are satisfied. Based on such proposed regulations, the Bank's current and projected composition of income and assets, and the manner in which the Bank operates its business, the Bank does not believe that it was a PFIC in its most recent taxable year and does not expect to be a PFIC for its current taxable year. However, the Bank's possible status as a PFIC must be determined annually after the close of each taxable year, and the composition of its income and assets will vary over time. Moreover, there is no assurance that the proposed regulations will be finalized in their current form, and the proper application of the PFIC rules (including the proposed regulations) is subject to certain uncertainties. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Bank will not be a PFIC for any taxable year. Certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences could apply to a U.S. investor if the Bank is treated as a PFIC for any taxable year during which such U.S. investor holds Equity Shares, including increased taxes on disposition gains and distributions as well as additional reporting requirements. Prospective U.S. investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the potential application of the PFIC rules to their investment in the Equity Shares. For further discussion, see "Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations — Passive Foreign Investment Company" on page 254.

RISKS RELATING TO DOING BUSINESS IN INDIA

67. *Any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India and the global environment, including political and economic terms with foreign countries, may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The majority of our business, assets and employees are located in India, so our performance and the growth of our business are necessarily dependent on the health of the overall Indian economy. Therefore, any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. The Indian economy faces potential adverse impacts from a range of factors, including pandemics, epidemics, political and regulatory shifts, social unrest, religious or communal tensions, terrorist attacks, violence or conflicts like those in the Russia-Ukraine hostilities, or the Israel-Hamas conflict.

Despite geopolitical tensions, Indian and global stock markets have so far managed to stay stable. However, investors are closely monitoring the situation, including the recent tariffs imposed by United States of America on various countries. Traders are concerned about potential disruptions to crude oil supplies from the middle east, which is the world's largest oil-producing region. For instance, if Iran escalates tensions, especially by using more destructive weapons or if other nations become involved, it could exacerbate concerns about disruptions in crude oil supplies. This situation could also impact banks, as financial institutions may face increased volatility and risk in the oil markets. Banks with significant exposure to oil and energy sectors might experience financial strain or market losses due to fluctuating oil prices and heightened geopolitical risks.

68. High rates of inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

India has, in the past, experienced sustained periods of high inflation. A return to high rates of inflation with a resulting rise in interest rates and any corresponding tightening of monetary policy may have an adverse effect on economic growth in India. Although the RBI has enacted certain policy measures designed to curb inflation, these policies may not be successful. In addition, high rates of inflation could increase our expenses related to salaries or wages payable to our employees or any other expenses. There can be no assurance that we will be able to pass on any additional expenses to our customers or that our revenue will increase proportionately corresponding to such inflation. Accordingly, high rates of inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

69. The occurrence of natural or man-made disasters, terrorist attacks, civil unrest or rioting in India and other acts of violence or war could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows and could create a perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk, thereby adversely affecting the market price of the Equity Shares.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including cyclones, storms, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis, fires, explosions, pandemics (such as COVID-19) and epidemics, and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism, other acts of violence and war, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. In addition, terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war as well as civil unrest or rioting in India could create a perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk, thereby adversely affecting the market price of the Equity Shares.

The Indian stock market may experience significant volatility, influenced by macroeconomic indicators, global developments, central bank policies, and news flow in general. Investor behavior, which involves buying during price drops and selling to lock in profits during price increases, can exacerbate this perception. Additionally, global tensions such as the ongoing Russo-Ukrainian conflict and disturbances in the middle east along with other economic uncertainties may contribute to heightened volatility and the impression of increased market risk.

73. Political instability or changes in the Government could adversely affect economic conditions in India and by consequence, our business.

Political instability or changes in government can significantly impact India's economic conditions in several ways:

- Investment Climate: Uncertainty about the political future can deter both domestic and foreign investors. Businesses may delay or cancel investments due to concerns over policy changes, regulatory shifts, or potential disruptions in governance. This can slow down economic growth and development.
- Policy Continuity: Frequent changes in government or political instability can lead to inconsistent or unpredictable economic policies. This lack of continuity can affect long-term planning and decision-making for businesses and investors, leading to decreased economic confidence and slower economic activity.
- Economic Reforms: Political instability might hinder the implementation of crucial economic reforms. Reform agendas may be stalled or reversed due to shifting political priorities, affecting the overall economic development and competitiveness of the country.
- Market Sentiment: Political uncertainty can lead to volatile financial markets. Investors may react negatively to political turmoil, causing fluctuations in stock prices, currency value, and bond yields. This volatility can further impact economic stability and investor confidence.
- Public Spending: Political instability can disrupt government spending and fiscal policies. Budget approvals might be delayed, or spending priorities might shift, affecting public infrastructure projects, social programs, and overall economic activity.

Consequently, the banking sector, heavily reliant on economic stability for asset quality, loan demand, and credit risk management, may face increased non-performing assets, reduced profitability, and heightened operational challenges, thereby affecting its overall business performance and stability.

75. Any downgrade in India's sovereign debt rating by international rating agencies could adversely impact our ability to raise additional foreign currency financing, interest rates and other commercial terms at which such financing is available.

Banks' foreign currency debt ratings are tied to India's sovereign debt rating, meaning any downgrade in India's international debt credit rating also affects our ratings. The ability to secure additional foreign currency financing, along with the interest rates and other commercial terms for such financing, could be negatively impacted by any downgrade in the assessments of India's sovereign debt by international rating agencies. This could significantly harm our operations, cash flows and financial condition.

76. *It may not be possible for investors to enforce any judgment obtained outside India against us or any of our Directors and Senior Management in India respectively, except by way of a lawsuit in India.

The enforcement of civil liabilities by overseas investors in the Equity Shares, including the ability to effect service of process and to enforce judgments obtained in courts outside of India, may be adversely affected by the fact that we are incorporated under the laws of the Republic of India. Nearly all of our assets and the assets of our Directors and Senior Management are also located in India. As a result, it may be difficult to enforce the service of process upon us and any of these persons in jurisdictions outside of India, or to enforce judgments obtained against us and these persons in courts outside of India.

India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, which includes, among others, the United Kingdom, Singapore, United Arab Emirates, and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Civil Code. See “Enforcement of Civil Liabilities” on page 18 for further information.

77. *There may be less information available about the companies listed on stock exchanges in India compared with information that would be available if we were listed on securities markets in certain other countries.

There may be differences between the level of regulation and monitoring of the Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants in India and that in the markets in the United States of America and certain other countries. SEBI is responsible for ensuring and improving disclosure and other regulatory standards for the Indian securities markets. SEBI has issued regulations and guidelines on disclosure requirements, insider trading and other matters. There may, however, be less publicly available information about companies listed on an Indian stock exchange compared with information that would be available if that company were listed on a securities market in certain other countries. As a result, investors may have access to less information about the business, results of operations, cash flows and financial conditions, information on business responsibility and sustainability reporting and those of the competitors that are listed on BSE, NSE, and other stock exchanges in India on an ongoing basis than investors may find in the case of companies’ subject to reporting requirements of other countries.

78. *Our ability to borrow in foreign currencies is restricted by Indian law.

Indian banks and companies are subject to foreign exchange regulations that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies, including those specified under the FEMA. Such regulatory restrictions limit our ability to borrow in foreign currencies and, therefore, could negatively affect our ability to obtain financing on competitive terms. In addition, we cannot guarantee that any required approvals for borrowing in foreign currency will be granted to us without onerous conditions, if at all. Such, and other, limitations on raising foreign capital may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

RISKS RELATING TO THE EQUITY SHARES AND THE ISSUE

79. *Any future issuance of Equity Shares could dilute the holdings of investors and could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

The Bank may be required to finance our future growth through additional equity offerings. Any future issuance of Equity Shares could dilute the investors’ holdings and could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. In addition, any future issuances of Equity Shares, sales by any significant Shareholder or a perception in the market that such issuance or sale may occur, could adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at a price below the then current trading price of the Equity Shares. Further, The SBI Act mandates that the GoI’s shareholding in our Bank cannot fall below 51.00%.

80. *Conditions in the Indian securities market may affect the price or liquidity of the Equity Shares.

Indian securities markets are less developed and more volatile than securities markets in certain other economies, especially countries that are members of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. Indian stock exchanges have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities. Indian stock exchanges have also experienced problems such as temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays and strikes by brokers. The regulation and monitoring of Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants differ, in some cases significantly, from those in Europe and the United States. In addition, the governing bodies of the Indian stock exchanges have from time to time restricted securities from trading, limited price movements and restricted margin requirements. Further, disputes have occurred on occasion between listed companies, the Indian stock exchanges and other regulatory bodies that, in some cases, have had a negative effect on market sentiment. If similar problems occur in the future, the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares could be adversely affected.

The Indian stock markets are influenced by economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries. Investors’ reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located in other countries, including India. Negative economic developments in other emerging market countries, such as rising fiscal or trade deficits, or a default on national debt, may negatively affect investors' confidence in India, or may cause increased volatility in Indian stock markets and cause the price of the Equity Shares to decline.

81. *After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile and the Issue Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue.

Our Bank, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, has determined the Issue Price, which is above the Floor Price. The Issue Price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after this Issue is completed. The price at which the Equity Shares will trade at after the Issue will be determined by the marketplace and may be influenced by many factors, including:

- volatility in the Indian and global securities markets or prospects for our business and the sectors in which we compete;
- our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows;
- the history of and prospects for our business;
- an assessment of our management, our past and present operations and the prospects for, as well as timing of, our future revenues and cost structures;
- the valuation of publicly traded companies that are engaged in business activities similar to ours;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial condition, including our results of operations and financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts' recommendations
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and government regulations that directly or indirectly affect our business;
- changes in interest rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and
- general economic conditions.

The Indian stock markets have, from time to time, experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have affected market prices for the securities of Indian companies. As a result, investors in the Equity Shares may experience a decrease in the value of the Equity Shares regardless of our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. We cannot assure prospective investors that they will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will be sustained after this Issue, or that the price at which the Equity Shares have historically traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to the Issue.

82. *There are restrictions on daily movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a Shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which a Shareholder can sell, the Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

The Equity Shares are subject to a daily scrip-based price band imposed on listed companies by the Stock Exchanges, which does not allow transactions beyond a certain level of volatility in the price of the Equity Shares. This price band operates independently of the index-based, market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on the price band applicable to the Equity Shares is set by the Stock Exchanges based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The Stock Exchanges may change the percentage limit of the scrip-based price band from time to time. This price band would effectively limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, there can be no assurance regarding the ability of Shareholders to sell the Equity Shares or the price at which Shareholders may be able to sell their Equity Shares.

83. *Investors' ability to acquire and sell the Equity Shares offered in this Issue is restricted by the distribution, solicitation and transfer restrictions set forth in this Placement Document. Investors will be prohibited from selling any of the Equity Shares subscribed in this Issue other than on a recognized Indian stock exchange for a period of 12 months from the date of the allotment of the Equity Shares.

Only QIBs as defined under Regulation 2(1)(ss) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and which are (a) not excluded pursuant to Regulation 179(2)(b) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations; or (b) not prohibited or debarred by any regulatory authority from buying, selling or dealing in securities or restricted from participating in this Issue under the SEBI ICDR Regulations and other applicable laws, including foreign exchange related laws, (c) eligible to invest in this Issue. Further, the Equity Shares offered in the Issue have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "U.S. Securities Act"), or the securities laws of any state of the United States and, unless so registered, may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States, except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and any applicable U.S. state securities laws. Accordingly, the Equity Shares are being offered and sold (a) in the United States only to persons who are qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Regulation 144A under the U.S. Securities Act) (“U.S. QIBs”) pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) or another available exemption from registration under the U.S. Securities Act, for avoidance of doubt, the term U.S. QIBs does not refer to a category of institutional investors defined under applicable Indian regulations and referred to in this Placement Document as “QIBs”, and (b) outside the United States, in “offshore transactions”, as defined in and in reliance on Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act (“Regulation S”) and the applicable laws of the jurisdictions where those offers and sales are made.

As such, investors’ ability to acquire Equity Shares offered in this Issue is restricted by the distribution and solicitation restrictions set forth in this Placement Document. For further information, see “Selling Restrictions” on page 224. Further, the Equity Shares offered in this Issue are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale pursuant to the SEBI Regulations, including that investors will be prohibited from selling any of the Equity Shares subscribed in this Issue other than on a recognized Indian stock exchange for a period of 12 months from the date of the allotment of the Equity Shares. Further, allotments made to certain categories of eligible QIBs in this Issue are subject to the rules and regulations applicable to them, including certain lock-in requirements. For further information, see “Transfer Restrictions” on page 233. Investors are required to inform themselves on, and observe, these restrictions. Neither our Bank nor our representatives or agents will be obligated to recognize any acquisition, transfer or resale of the Equity Shares offered in this Issue made other than in compliance with applicable law.

84. *A third party could be prevented from acquiring control over the Bank because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law and the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in the control of the Bank. These provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in the control of the Bank. Under the Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that the interests of investors/ Shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of the Bank. Further, given that the Bank is governed by the RBI, any significant change in shareholding would require the RBI’s prior approval. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of the Bank would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to our Shareholders, such a takeover may not be attempted or consummated because of the regulatory framework applicable to the Bank.

85. *Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on sales of Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company or bank are generally taxable in India. The STT is levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for more than 12 months may be subject to long term capital gains tax in India at the specified rates depending on certain factors, such as whether the sale is undertaken on or off the stock exchanges, the quantum of gains and any available treaty exemptions. Accordingly, investors may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold.

Further, any gain realized on the sale of the Equity Shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is a resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of Equity Shares.

86. *Foreign investors are subject to certain restrictions under Indian law in relation to transfer of Shareholding that may limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain restrictions), if they comply with the valuation and reporting requirements specified under applicable law. If a transfer of shares is not in compliance with such requirements and does not fall under any of the exceptions, then prior approval of the relevant regulatory authority is required. Additionally, Shareholders who seek to convert rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. Further, this conversion is subject to the shares having been held on a repatriation basis and is subject to either the security having been sold in compliance with the pricing guidelines or the relevant regulatory approval having been obtained for the sale of shares and corresponding remittance of the sale proceeds. The Bank cannot guarantee that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained with or without any particular terms or conditions. Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Government of India, and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020, which came into effect from April 22, 2020, investments where the beneficial owner of the Equity Shares is situated in, or is a citizen of, a country which shares one or more land border(s) with India, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the FDI Policy (effective October 15, 2020). These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments. We cannot guarantee that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms, if at all. Our ability to raise foreign capital is therefore constrained by Indian law, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

87. *Rights of Shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities and Shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a bank in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights including in relation to class actions, under Indian law may not be as extensive as Shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as Shareholder in an Indian bank than as Shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction.

88. *The individual investment limit and aggregate foreign investment limit for registered FPIs in the Bank is currently 10.00% and 20.00%, respectively, of the total paid-up equity share capital of the Bank.

Foreign investment in India is governed by the provisions of FEMA along with the rules, regulations and notifications made by the RBI thereunder, and the Consolidated FDI Policy issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, from time to time. Under the current FDI Policy, investment in public sector banks up to 20.00% is permitted under the government approval route. In terms of the SEBI FPI Regulations, the issue of Equity Shares to a single FPI including its investor group (which means the same multiple entities registered as foreign portfolio investors having common ownership directly or indirectly of more than 50.00% or common control) must be below 10.00% of the Bank's post-Issue paid-up equity share capital on a fully diluted basis. Further, in terms of the FEMA Rules, the total holding by each FPI, or an investor group, shall be below 10.00% of the total paid-up equity share capital, on a fully diluted basis, of the Bank, and the total holdings of all FPIs put together can be up to 20.00% of the paid-up equity share capital of the Bank, which is the sectoral cap applicable to the Bank.

As per the SEBI FPI Regulations and the relevant circulars issued thereunder, the above investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of P-Notes. Two or more subscribers of P-Notes having a common beneficial owner shall be considered together as a single subscriber of the P-Notes. In the event an investor has investments as a FPI and as a subscriber of P-Notes, these investment restrictions shall apply on the aggregate of the FPI and P-Note investments in the Bank. See "Offshore Derivative Instruments" on page 10.

89. *Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the rupee and other currencies could have an adverse effect on the value of the Equity Shares in those currencies, independent of our operating results.

The Equity Shares are quoted in rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect to the Equity Shares will be paid in rupees. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividends to investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares, may reduce the net proceeds received by investors. The exchange rates between the rupee and other currencies (including the U.S. dollar, the Euro, the pound sterling, the Hong Kong dollar and the Singapore dollar) have changed substantially in the last two decades and could fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the value of the Equity Shares and returns from the Equity Shares in foreign currency terms, independent of our operating result.

90. *Bidders were not allowed to withdraw their Bids or revise their Bids downwards after the Bid/Issue Closing Date.

In terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, Bidders were not allowed to withdraw their Bids or revise their Bids downwards in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount after the Bid/Issue Closing Date. The Allotment of Equity Shares in this Issue and the credit of such Equity Shares to an Allottees' demat account with the depository participant could take approximately seven days and up to 10 days from the Bid/Issue Closing Date. However, there is no assurance that material, adverse changes in the international or national monetary, financial, political or economic conditions—or other events in the nature of force majeure, material, adverse changes in our business, results of operation or financial condition, or other events affecting the Bidder's decision to invest in the Equity Shares—would not arise between the Bid/Issue Closing Date and the date of the Allotment of Equity Shares in the Issue. The occurrence of any such events after the Bid/Issue Closing Date could also adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares. Bidders did not have the right to withdraw their Bids or revise their Bids downwards in the event of any such occurrence. The Bank may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events may limit the Allottees' ability to sell the Equity Shares after the Issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline.

91. *Investors will be subject to market risks until the Equity Shares credited to their demat accounts are listed and permitted to be traded.

Investors can start trading the Equity Shares allotted to them in the Issue only after they have been credited to an investor's demat account, are listed and are permitted to be traded. Since the Equity Shares are currently traded on the Stock Exchanges, investors will be subject to market risk from the date they pay for the Equity Shares to the date when trading approval is granted for the same. Further, there can be no assurance that the Equity Shares allocated to an investor will be credited to the investor's demat account, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner.

DIVIDEND POLICY

The RBI has laid down certain guidelines on the declaration of dividends by banks. The Bank, inter alia, follows the RBI Dividend Circular.

For eligibility criteria for declaration of dividend in terms of the RBI Dividend Circular, see “Description of the Equity Shares - Declaration of Dividend” on page 241.

For a summary of certain Indian and United States federal tax consequences of dividend distributions to shareholders, see “Taxation” and “Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations” on pages 242 and 253, respectively.

The Bank generally declares and pays dividends in the Fiscal Year following the Fiscal Year to which they relate. In addition, the Bank may also declare interim dividends from time to time.

The details of dividend paid by our Bank are set out in the following table:

| Year/ Period                                           | Subscribed and paid-up share capital (number of Equity Shares) | Face Value of Equity Share (In ₹) | Interim dividend per Equity Share (In ₹) | Final dividend per Equity Share (In ₹) | Total amount of dividend (In ₹ billion) | Dividend Rate (%) |

PRINCIPAL FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION

The following is a discussion of certain factors that have had, and we expect will continue to have, a significant effect on our results of operations and financial condition:

Macroeconomic environment

As a bank with significant operations in India, our Bank's financial position and results of operations have been and will continue to be significantly affected by overall economic growth patterns in India. India's economy has showed its strength and stability in the past few years. India's GDP grew at 6.5% in Fiscal 2025 (Source: RBI Bulletin May 2025), marking the highest growth rate among major economies, propelled by a robust domestic market and government-led investments that have bolstered demand. Strong economic growth tends to positively impact our Bank's results of operations, since it can cause businesses to plan and invest more confidently, in turn driving stronger demand for bank credit as well as other banking products and services (including value-added payment products and services, life insurance, pension and health products and investment advisory and management services) that we offer. The fiscal policy adopted also contributes to our Bank's results of operations. Stronger economic growth also generally increases the interest income that our Bank is able to generate from the loans it offers and tends to improve the overall creditworthiness of our Bank's customers.

Economic growth in India is also influenced by inflation. The level of inflation may limit monetary easing or cause monetary tightening by the RBI. In periods of high rates of inflation, our Bank's costs, such as operating expenses, may increase, which could have an adverse effect on our Bank's results of operations. Inflation may also have a bearing on the overall interest rates which may adversely affect our net interest income. For further information, see "Risk Factors – Risks Relating to doing business in India – High rates of inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our results of operations." on page 65.

NPA levels and provisioning

The quality of our Bank's loan portfolio i.e., how likely it is that borrowers will repay their loans in full and on time is a key factor that determines our Bank's financial performance. Our Bank uses a range of tools to monitor and account for the effect of loans that may not be repaid. In accordance with RBI guidelines, loans are classified as either performing or non-performing.

A non-performing asset is a loan or an advance where: (i) interest and/or instalment of principal remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days in respect of a term loan; (ii) the account remains "out of order" in respect of an overdraft or cash credit; (iii) the bill remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days in the case of bills purchased and discounted; (iv) the instalment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue for two crop seasons for short duration crops; (v) the instalment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue for one crop season for long duration crops; (vi) the amount of liquidity facility remains outstanding for more than 90 days, in respect of a securitization transaction undertaken in terms of Reserve Bank of India (Securitisation of Standard Assets) Directions, 2021; or (vii) in respect of derivative transactions, the overdue receivables representing positive mark-to-market value of a derivative contract, if these remain unpaid for a period of 90 days from the specified due date for payment. According to master circular published by RBI in April 2023, an account should be classified as an NPA on the basis of the record of recovery and not merely on deficiencies which are temporary in nature, such as non-availability of adequate drawing power based on the latest available stock statement, balance outstanding exceeding the limit, non-submission of stock statements and nonrenewal of limits on the due date or non-submission of stock statements. Under the RBI guidelines, NPAs are further classified into "Sub-Standard", "Doubtful" and "Loss" assets based on the age of arrears and whether actual loss has been identified.

The primary measure of asset quality is our Bank's NPA ratio, which is the value of NPAs as a percentage of our Bank's total loans. Our Bank measures the NPA ratio on a gross basis and on a net basis as a percentage of total loans. As of March 31, 2023, 2024 and 2025, our Bank's gross NPA ratio was 2.78%, 2.24% and 1.82%, respectively, and our Bank's net NPA ratio was 0.67%, 0.57% and 0.47%, respectively.

The RBI has increasingly imposed greater focus and stricter standards on identifying and disclosing NPAs. Our Bank's NPA levels directly affect profitability, primarily through the provisions that it is required to recognize to account for the estimated losses it expects to incur on those loan assets. These provisions are recorded on our Bank's profit and loss account for the period in which they are incurred, reducing profit. The RBI requires banks to apply minimum provisioning requirements across their portfolio of NPAs, which consider the classification of the NPA and whether it is secured. Our Bank complies with these guidelines, as well as any stricter requirements in the foreign jurisdictions in which it operates. In addition, our Bank may make additional specific provisions where we believe we are required to reflect anticipated losses.

The overall level of provisioning for NPAs is reflected in our Bank's "provision coverage ratio", which is the value of the provisions our Bank carries, as a percentage of the total NPAs. The RBI guidelines require banks to disclose the provisioning coverage ratio in the notes to their financial statements. Our Bank's net provisioning coverage ratio as of March 31, 2023, 2024 and 2025, computed as per RBI guidelines, was 76.39%, 75.02% and 74.42%, respectively. See "Risk Factors — Risks Relating to our Business — Our business and financial condition may be adversely affected in case of an increase in the level of non-performing assets in our portfolio or RBI mandated provisioning requirements.” on page 37. In addition, the RBI’s annual supervisory process may assess higher provisions than our Bank has made. In addition to provisions for non-performing loans, our Bank may also incur losses as a result of investments it makes.

To the extent that our Bank is able to recover any loans that have been written-off, such amount is credited to our Bank’s income statement. Recoveries in written-off accounts amounted to ₹70.97 billion, ₹69.34 billion and ₹80.02 billion for Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, respectively.

Capital adequacy, liquidity requirements and reserve ratios

The Basel III framework on ‘Liquidity Standards’ includes ‘Liquidity Coverage Ratio’, ‘Net Stable Funding Ratio’ (“NSFR”) and liquidity risk monitoring tools. In June 2014, the RBI issued guidelines in relation to liquidity coverage ratio (“LCR”), liquidity risk monitoring tools and LCR disclosure standards pursuant to the publication of the ‘Basel III: The Liquidity Coverage Ratio and liquidity risk monitoring tools’ in January, 2013 and the ‘Liquidity Coverage Ratio Disclosure Standards’ in January 2014 by the Basel Committee which provided enhanced guidance on liquidity, risk governance, measurement, monitoring and reporting to the RBI on liquidity positions. The guidelines stipulate that banks were to ensure an LCR of 60% for 2015 with effect from January 1, 2015, minimum 90% with effect from January 1, 2018 and were expected to make a transition to an LCR of 100% on January 1, 2019. In order to accommodate the burden on banks’ cash flows on account of the COVID-19 pandemic, RBI issued a notification dated April 17, 2020, permitting banks to maintain LCR as set forth below:

|---------------------------------------------|------|
| From date of circular to September 30, 2020 | 80%  |
| October 1, 2020 to March 31, 2021           | 90%  |
| April 1, 2021 onwards                       | 100% |

Further, RBI issued a notification dated April 21, 2025, to amend the guidelines on ‘Liquidity Coverage Ratio Disclosure Standards’, published in January, 2014, to improve the liquidity resilience of banks in India and further align the guidelines with global standards while ensuring that such an enhancement is done in a non-disruptive manner. The LCR measures a bank’s ability to manage and survive for 30 days under a significant stress scenario that combines idiosyncratic as well as market-wide shock situations that would result in accelerated withdrawal of deposits from retail as well as wholesale depositors, partial loss of secured funding, increase in collateral requirements and unscheduled drawdowns of unused credit lines. At least 60% of the net cash outflows in the next 30 days, computed with these assumptions of a stressed scenario, are required to be supported by High Quality Liquid Assets (“HQLA”). Further, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision issued the final rules on ‘Net Stable Funding Ratio’ on October 31, 2014 and RBI issued the guidelines on NSFR on May 17, 2018 with the objective to ensure that banks maintain a stable funding profile in relation to the composition of their assets and off- balance sheet activities. RBI had published a circular dated November 29, 2018, notifying that the NSFR guidelines shall come into effect from April 1, 2020. RBI had published circulars dated March 27, 2020, September 27, 2020 and February 5, 2021 which deferred to the implementation. The NSFR guidelines came into effect on October 1, 2021.

As of March 31, 2025, our Bank’s capital adequacy ratio was 14.25% as per Basel III comprising Tier I capital of ₹ 4,419.70 billion and Tier II capital of ₹ 780.92 billion. Although our Bank currently exceeds the applicable capital adequacy requirements, adverse developments could affect our Bank’s ability to satisfy these requirements in the future, including deterioration in asset quality, decline in the value of investments and inability to meet any regulatory requirements or changes. The regulatory minimum Common Equity Tier 1 capital (“CET1”), including capital conservation buffer, is 8.8% with effect from April 1, 2025.

Our Bank’s profit may be affected by the amount of its provisions against loans. Banks are required to disclose the provisioning coverage ratio in the notes to accounts to their balance sheet. For further information, see “Risk Factors – We are subject to capital adequacy norms and are required to maintain a capital-to-risk asset ratio (“CRAR”) at the minimum level required by RBI for domestic banks. Any inability to maintain adequate capital due to change in regulations or lack of access to capital or otherwise could materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.” on page 48.

Interest income

Interest income has historically been the most significant component of our Bank’s revenue. In Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, our Bank’s interest income was ₹ 3,321.03 billion, ₹ 4,151.31 billion and ₹ 4,624.89 billion, respectively, representing 90.07%, 88.93% and 88.23%, respectively, of our Bank’s total income.

In Fiscals 2023, 2024 and 2025, net interest income was ₹ 1,448.41 billion, ₹ 1,598.76 billion and ₹ 1,669.65 billion, respectively, representing 39.28%, 34.25% and 31.85%, respectively, of our Bank’s total income. Net interest income is the difference between the total interest earned on interest-earning assets and the total interest paid on interest-bearing liabilities.

Our Bank's net interest income is dependent on a number of factors including the general prevailing level of interest rates, its ability to allocate its funds to assets that provide high interest rates and its cost of funding.

Interest rates

Changes in interest rates affect the interest rates we charge on our interest-earning assets and that we pay on our interest-bearing liabilities. Movements in short-term and long-term interest rates affect our interest income and interest expense as well as the level of gains and losses on our securities portfolio. Indian banks including us follow the direction of interest rates set by the RBI and adjust both deposit rates and lending rates upwards or downwards accordingly. Decreases in the RBI policy rates would prompt Indian banks to re-examine their lending rates. Adverse changes in prevailing interest rates may result in a decline in net interest income due to increase in our costs of funds or deposits without a corresponding increase in our yield on assets. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many external factors beyond our control, including growth rates in the economy, inflation, money supply, RBI's monetary policies, deregulation of the financial sector in India, domestic and international economic and political conditions and other factors.

Further, the RBI issued a circular on September 4, 2019 making it mandatory for banks to link all floating rate personal or retail loans and floating rate loans to micro and small enterprise borrowers to an external benchmark with effect from October 1, 2019. With a view to further strengthening monetary policy transmission, RBI issued a circular on February 26, 2020, to further link all new floating rate loans to the medium enterprises extended by banks to the external benchmarks with effect from April 1, 2020. The banks are free to choose one of the several benchmarks indicated in the circular. The banks are also free to choose their spread over the benchmark rate, subject to the condition that the credit risk premium may undergo change only when borrower's credit assessment undergoes a substantial change, as agreed upon in the loan contract. Linking floating rate loans to external benchmarks, as required by recent RBI circulars, makes our lending rates more responsive to changes in monetary policy and reduces rate-setting discretion. This increases transparency for borrowers but can lead to greater volatility in our net interest margins, directly affecting our profitability and results of operation. For further information, see "Risk Factors – Risks relating to our Business - Our business is particularly vulnerable to interest rate risk, and any volatility in interest rates could adversely affect our net interest margins, the value of our fixed income portfolio, income from treasury operations, our financial condition and results of operations" on page 36.

Allocation of funds

The growth of the Indian economy has enabled us to allocate our funds from Government securities to advances, which offer us higher returns subject to maintaining minimum statutory requirements. Further, we diversify our net interest income portfolio by lending to retail customers, large corporates and small and medium enterprises across various industry segments. If the volume of our loans decreases due to a general slowdown in the economy, increased competition or other factors, our net interest income will decrease as well. In addition, we seek to allocate our funds in an optimum manner at any point of time depending on our liquidity and prevailing interest rates.

Sources of funding

Our primary interest-bearing liability is our deposit base. Adverse economic conditions may also limit or negatively affect our ability to attract deposits, replace maturing liabilities in a timely manner and at commercially acceptable rates, satisfy statutory liquidity requirements and access funding. To continue to source low-cost funding through customer deposits, we must, among other measures, further develop our rapidly expanding branch network, increase brand recall and develop products and services to distinguish ourselves in an increasingly competitive industry. However, increasing customer sophistication, competition for funding, any sharp increase in prevailing interest rates and changes to the RBI's liquidity and reserve requirements may increase the rates that we pay on our deposits. As of March 31, 2023, 2024 and 2025, we had total deposits of ₹ 44,237.78 billion, ₹ 49,160.77 billion and ₹ 53,821.90 billion, respectively, and a credit-to-deposit ratio of 72.32%, 75.34% and 77.35%, respectively. As of March 31, 2025, our Bank's domestic CASA deposits were ₹ 20,651.61 billion. Our domestic CASA ratio decreased from 43.80% as of March 31, 2023 to 41.11% as of March 31, 2024 and was 39.97% as of March 31, 2025.

Our ability to meet demand for new loans and lower our cost of funding will depend on our ability to continue to broad base deposit profile, our ability to attract and retain new customers, and continued access to term deposits from the retail, corporate and inter-bank market. Our debt service costs and cost of funds depend on many external factors, including developments in the Indian credit markets and, in particular, interest rate movements and the existence of adequate liquidity in the inter-bank markets. Internal factors that will impact cost of funds include changes in credit ratings, available credit limits and ability to mobilize low-cost deposits, particularly through our retail banking branches.

Regulatory measures and reforms

The banking industry in India is subject to extensive regulations issued by Governmental organizations and regulatory bodies including the RBI, SEBI and the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority, and self-regulatory organisations. These regulations cover various aspects such as loans and advances, investments, deposits, risk management, foreign investment, corporate governance and market conduct, customer protection, foreign exchange management, capital adequacy, margin requirements, know-your customer and anti-money laundering, and provisioning for NPAs. The RBI also prescribes required levels of lending to “priority sectors” such as agriculture, which may expose us to higher levels of risk than we may otherwise face.

Since 2014, the GoI has introduced various economic reforms intended to provide increased control and transparency in the banking and financial services industry. In order to strengthen banks’ ability to effectively resolve stressed assets and enhance transparency, the RBI has issued guidelines on the sale of stressed assets by banks and introduced measures to deal with stressed assets. These guidelines require banks to identify the specific financial assets identified for sale to other institutions, including securitisation companies/ reconstruction companies.

Basel III reforms are the response of Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (“BCBS”) to improve the banking sector’s ability to absorb shocks arising from financial and economic stress, whatever the source, thus reducing the risk of spill over from the financial sector to the real economy. Basel III reforms strengthen the bank-level i.e. micro prudential regulation, with the intention to raise the resilience of individual banking institutions in periods of stress. Besides, the reforms have a macro prudential focus also, addressing system wide risks, which can build up across the banking sector, as well as the pro cyclical amplification of these risks over time.

Monetary policy is heavily influenced by the condition of the Indian economy, and changes in the monetary policy affect the interest rates of advances and deposits. The RBI responds to fluctuating levels of economic growth, liquidity concerns and inflationary pressures in the economy by adjusting its monetary policy. A monetary policy designed to combat inflation typically results in an increase in RBI lending rates. Further, in addition to having gradually established more stringent capital adequacy requirements, the RBI has also instituted several prudential measures including an increase in risk weights for capital adequacy computation and general provisioning for certain types of asset classes.

For further information, see “Regulations and Policies” on page 198. Other similar measures and regulatory developments relating to the Indian banking and financial services industry may have a significant impact on our operations and financial performance.

Competition

Although difficult to quantify, competition may significantly affect our Bank’s results of operations and will continue to shape the products and services offered, efficiency and ultimately profitability of Indian banks. Our Bank faces strong competition in all its principal lines of business. Our Bank’s primary competitors are other large public sector banks, private sector banks, non-banking financial companies, foreign banks and, in some product areas, development financial institutions. In particular, consolidation in the Indian banking industry has increased and may continue to increase competitive pressures experienced by our Bank. For example, in Fiscal 2019, the Government announced the merger of three other public sector banks, Bank of Baroda, Vijaya Bank and Dena Bank, effective from April 1, 2019. In Fiscal 2020, the Government announced several additional mergers of public banks, each of which became effective from April 1, 2020: amalgamation of Syndicate Bank with Canara Bank; amalgamation of Andhra Bank and Corporation Bank; and Allahabad Bank’s merger with Indian Bank.

Our Bank also faces competition from big tech and fintech companies in the financial landscape. Big tech firms are increasingly encroaching on traditional banking territories by offering digital payment solutions, lending services, and other financial products, leveraging their vast user bases and technological capabilities. Fintech startups, on the other hand, are introducing innovative solutions such as peer-to-peer lending, blockchain-based services, and mobile banking applications, which appeal to technologically savvy customers looking for convenience and lower costs. These players not only provide enhances customer experiences but also operate with greater agility, posing a challenge to our Bank’s traditional banking model. To stay competitive in these landscapes, our Bank invests in digital transformation to meet the rising expectations of our modern customers, such as our YONO mobile banking platform.

In addition, entities within our Group, such as SBI Cards, SBI Life and SBI Funds, face significant competition in their respective sectors. For example, SBI Cards competes directly with other credit card issuers and value-added payment product providers, which are continually innovating to attract and retain customers. SBI Life is exposed to competitive pressures from both established insurers and new market entrants offering life insurance, pension and such other products. Similarly, SBI Funds competes with domestic and international asset management companies for investment advisory and management services. Increased competition in these areas could affect the market position, growth prospects, and profitability of these group companies, thereby impacting the overall performance of our Group.

As competitive pressures intensify, our Bank may be required to expend additional resources to offer a more attractive value proposition to its customers, which could make our products more customer friendly. In addition, increasing competition may exert downward pressures on the interest rates and may have impact on Bank’s margins.

CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

There were no changes in the significant accounting policies adopted during Fiscal 2025 as compared to those followed in the previous Fiscal 2024, except for the following:

(i) Policies on classification and valuation of investments:

With effect from April 1, 2024, our Bank adopted the revised framework of classification and valuation of investments issued by RBI vide Master Direction No. RBI/DOR/2023-24/104 DOR.MRG.36/21.04.141/2023-24 on Classification, Valuation and Operation of Investment Portfolio of Commercial Banks (Directions), 2023 dated September 12, 2023. For the purpose of consolidation, all the subsidiaries and joint ventures of our Bank have followed the revised investment framework except SBI Life Insurance Company Limited and SBI General Insurance Company Limited, (the subsidiaries regulated by IRDAI) which continue to follow IRDAI guidelines.

(ii) Method of recording the transactions in Held to Maturity (“HTM”) securities:

As per the extant policy, the premium paid on acquisition of HTM category investments was amortised over the term to maturity on a constant yield basis. In terms of new investment framework, our Bank had switched over to Weighted Average Carrying Cost (WACC) from First in First Out (FIFO) method of recording transactions uniformly across all categories of investments and amortization of both, premium and discount on acquisition.

(iii) Method of amortization for Floating Rate Bonds:

The revised framework on investment allow amortisation of premium and discount across all categories of investments. To comply with these amortization norms, our Bank had switched over to Straight Line Method from constant yield method.

(iv) Impact on account of (i), (ii) and (iii) above

In terms of the transition guidelines of the revised framework, on April 1, 2024, our Group debited net loss of ₹ 7.15 billion (net of tax) to the general reserve and balance in profit and loss account and credited net gain of ₹ 44.29 billion (net of tax) to the Available for Sale (AFS) Reserve. The impact of the revised framework for the period prior to the transition date is not ascertainable. As a result, the income / profit or loss from investments for the year ended March 31, 2025 are not comparable to figures reported for the year ended March 31, 2024.

There were no changes in the significant accounting policies adopted during Fiscal 2023 and 2024. For further details, see “Financial Statements” on page 263.

Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to the accounting estimates is recognized prospectively from the period of change unless otherwise stated.

- i. If the sale is at a price below the Net Book Value ("NBV") (i.e., book value less provisions held), the shortfall is debited to the Profit and Loss Account in the year of transfer / sale.
- ii. If the sale is for a price higher than the NBV, the excess provision is written back in the year the amounts are received. ### Investments

Investments are accounted for in accordance with the extant RBI guidelines on investment classification and valuation, as given below:

Classification

Our Bank classifies the entire investment portfolio (except investments in our own Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates) under three categories viz., Held to Maturity ("HTM"), Available for Sale ("AFS") and Fair Value through Profit and Loss ("FVTPL") with a subcategory named Held for Trading ("HFT").

For disclosure in Balance Sheet, the investments are classified as Investments in India and outside India. The investments in India are further classified as (i) Government Securities, (ii) Other Approved Securities, (iii) Shares, (iv) Bonds and Debentures, (v) Subsidiaries and/or Joint Ventures (including Associates) and (vi) Other Investments.

The investments outside India are further classified as (i) Government Securities (ii) Subsidiaries and/or Joint Ventures (including Associates) (iii) Other Investments.

Basis of Classification

- i. Held to Maturity ("HTM"): The securities acquired with the intention of holding it to maturity to collect the contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the security give rise to cash flows that are SPPI criterion on specified date are categorized as Held to Maturity.

- ii. Available for Sale (“AFS”): The securities acquired with the objective that is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling securities before maturity; and the contractual terms of the security give rise to cash flows that are SPPI criterion is categorized as Available for Sale.

On initial recognition, our Bank make an irrevocable selection to classify an equity instrument, that is not held with the objective of trading, under AFS, in line with the RBI guidelines.
- iii. Fair Value through Profit and Loss (“FVTPL”): Securities that do not qualify for inclusion in HTM or AFS are classified under Fair Value through Profit and Loss with a subcategory named Held for Trading. Any instrument that is held for one or more of the following purposes is designated as a Held for Trading instrument:
  - a. short-term resale;
  - b. profiting from short-term price movements;
  - c. locking in arbitrage profits; or
  - d. hedging risks that arise from instruments meeting (a), (b) or (c) above.

Initial Recognition of Investments

The transactions in all securities are measured at fair value on initial recognition with a presumption that acquisition cost is the fair value. This presumption is tested for transactions with related parties, transaction taking place in duress, transaction outside principal market and any other situation where facts and circumstances warrant testing of the presumption.

Fair value measurements are categorised into following 3 fair value hierarchy based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable,

- (a) “Level 1” – wherein inputs used for valuation of a financial instrument are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical instruments that the bank can access at the measurement date;
- (b) “Level 2” – wherein inputs used for valuation of a financial instrument are inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (such as yield curve, credit spread etc.);
- (c) “Level 3” – wherein valuation is based on unobservable inputs.

- i. Recognition of Day 1 Gain/Loss:
  - a. Day 1 gain / loss arising in initial recognition of Level 1 and Level 2 hierarchy, is recognized in the Profit and Loss Account, under ‘Profit/Loss on revaluation of investments(net)’ under ‘Other Income’.
  - b. Any Day 1 loss arising from Level 3 investments is recognized immediately.
  - c. Any Day 1 gains arising from Level 3 investments is deferred. In the case of debt instruments, the Day 1 gain is amortized on a straight- line basis up to the maturity date (or earliest call date for perpetual instruments), while for unquoted equity instruments, the gain is set aside as a liability until the security is listed or derecognized.
- ii. The transactions in all securities are recorded on a Settlement Date and the securities are held at weighted average cost method for all categories of investments.
- iii. Brokerage, Commission, Securities Transaction Tax (STT) etc. paid in connection with acquisition of investments are expensed upfront and excluded from cost.
- iv. Broken period interest paid/ received on debt instruments is treated as interest expense/ income and is excluded from cost/ sale consideration.

Subsequent Measurement of Investments

- i. Securities held in HTM are carried at cost and are not marked to market (“MTM”) after initial recognition.
- ii. The securities held in AFS are fair valued at quarterly intervals. The valuation gains and losses across all performing investments held under AFS are aggregated. The net appreciation or depreciation is directly credited or debited to AFS-Reserve without routing through the Profit and Loss Account.
- iii. Securities that are classified under the HFT sub- category within FVTPL are fair valued on a daily basis, whereas other securities in FVTPL are fair valued at the end of every quarter. The net gain or loss arising on such valuation is credited or debited to the Profit and Loss Account.
- iv. Subsequent valuation of investment in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures:’
  - a. All investments (i.e., including debt and equity) in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are held at acquisition cost.

- b. In case an existing investment becomes a Subsidiary, Associate or Joint Venture, the revised carrying value of the same on the date of change in classification is as determined as under:
  - For an investment held under HTM: the carrying value less the permanent impairment.
  - For an investment held under AFS: the carrying value adjusted for cumulative gains and losses previously recognized in AFS Reserve along with the permanent diminution, if any.
  - For an investment held under FVTPL: the fair value on date of the change in the classification.
- c. When an investment ceases to be a Subsidiary, Associate or Joint Venture, the reclassification to respective category is made as under:
  - For investment reclassified into HTM, there shall be no change in the carrying value.
  - For investment reclassified into AFS or FVTPL, the fair value on the date of reclassification is considered as carrying value by transferring the difference between the revised and the previous carrying values to AFS-Reserve and Profit and Loss account respectively.
- d. Our Bank evaluates investments in subsidiaries, associates or joint ventures for impairment at quarterly intervals. When the need to determine whether the impairment has occurred arises in respect of a subsidiary, associate or joint venture, the same is made on the basis of the valuation of the investment by an independent registered valuer and diminution if any is recognized as an expense in the Profit and Loss Account. It is subsequently reversed through Profit and Loss Account, if there is a reversal of the diminution.
- v. Valuation in the event of inter category transfer of investments: The reclassification between the categories (viz. HTM, AFS and FVTPL) if any, is done with approval of the Board and prior approval of the RBI. The reclassification is applied prospectively from reclassification date and is accounted in compliance with RBI guidelines.
- vi. Valuation of Security Receipts (“SRs”):
  - a. The SRs obtained by way of sale of NPA to Securitisation Company (SC)/ Asset Reconstruction Company (ARC), is recognised at lower of: (i) Net Book Value (NBV) (i.e. book value less provisions held) of the NPA; and (ii) Redemption value of SR.
  - b. Investments in Security Receipts are valued in accordance with the guidelines applicable to non-SLR instruments. Accordingly, in cases where the SRs issued by the SC/ ARC are limited to the actual realisation of the financial assets assigned to the instruments in the concerned scheme, the Net Asset Value, obtained from the SC/ ARC, is reckoned for valuation of such investments.
  - c. SRs guaranteed by the Government of India are valued at face value or Net Asset Value (NAV) declared by the ARC (based on the recovery ratings received for such instruments) whichever is lower. Any SRs outstanding after the final settlement of government guarantee or expiry of the guarantee period, whichever is earlier, are valued at ₹1.
- vii. Zero-coupon discounted instruments such as Treasury Bills, Commercial Paper, Certificate of Deposits and Zero-Coupon Bonds are held at carrying cost i.e. the acquisition cost adjusted for the discount accrued at the rate prevailing at the time of acquisition.

Non-performing investments (NPI)

- i. In domestic offices, the investments are classified as non-performing or upgraded to standard in terms of the criterion laid down in extant Prudential Norms on Income Recognition, Asset Classification and Provisioning (“IRACP”) pertaining to advances.
  - a. Debt instruments such as bonds or debentures are recognized as NPIs where interest/ instalment (including maturity proceeds) is due and remains unpaid for more than 90 days. It applies mutatis mutandis to preference shares where fixed dividend is not declared/paid in any year; and the date of Balance Sheet of the issuer for that particular year is reckoned as due date for asset classification.
  - b. In the event the investment in equity shares of any company is valued at ₹1 per company on account of non-availability of the latest balance sheet or the same is more than 18 months old, those equity shares would be reckoned as NPI.
  - c. Our Bank also classifies an investment including preference shares as a non-performing investment in case any credit facility availed by the same borrower has been classified as a non-performing asset and vice versa. However, this stipulation is not applicable in cases where only preference shares are classified as NPI. i.e. in such cases, neither the investment in any of the other performing securities issued by the same issuer is classified as NPI nor any performing credit facilities granted to that borrower is treated as NPA.

- d. In case of conversion of principal and / or interest into equity, debentures, bonds, etc., such instruments are classified under HTM, AFS or FVTPL (including HFT) with the same asset classification category as that of the loan and provision is made as per the norms.
- ii. Investment classified as an NPI is segregated from rest of the investments within the same category and not considered for netting valuation gains and losses. Income on non-performing investments is recognised only on realisation of the same. MTM appreciation if any in these NPI securities is ignored.
- iii. Irrespective of the category (i.e., HTM, AFS or FVTPL (including HFT)) in which the investment has been placed, the expense for the provision for impairment are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account. The provision to be held on an NPI is the higher of the amount of provision on the carrying value of the investment immediately before it was classified as NPI as per IRACP norms and the depreciation on the investment with reference to its carrying value on the date of classification as NPI.

Provided that in the case of an investment categorised under AFS against which there are cumulative gains in AFS-Reserve, the provision required is created by charging the same to AFS-Reserve to the extent of such available gains. Provided further that in the case of an investment categorised under AFS against which there are cumulative losses in AFS-Reserve, the cumulative losses are transferred from AFS- Reserve to the Profit and Loss Account.
- iv. Upon upgradation of the investment, the provision recognised is reversed and recognition of MTM gains and losses is resumed.
- v. In respect of foreign offices, classification and provisions for non-performing investments (NPIs) are made as per the local regulations or as per the norms of RBI, whichever are more prudent.

Accounting for Repo/Reverse Repo Transactions

Our Bank enters Repurchase and Reverse Repurchase Transactions with RBI under Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) and with market participants. Repurchase transaction represents borrowing by selling the securities with an agreement to repurchase the securities. Reverse Repo Transactions on the other hand, represent lending funds by purchasing the securities.

- i. Transactions with RBI under Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) are accounted for as Collateralized Lending and Borrowing transactions.
- ii. In Repo and Reverse Repo transaction, securities sold (purchased) and repurchased (resell) are accounted as normal outright sale (purchase) transactions and such movement of securities is reflected using the Repo/ Reverse Repo Accounts and contra entries. The above entries are reversed on the date of maturity.
- iii. Balance in Repo Account is classified under 'Borrowings'.
- iv. All type of Reverse Repos with RBI including those under Liquidity Adjustment Facility are presented under sub item (ii) 'In Other Accounts' of item (II) Balances with RBI under 'Cash and balances with RBI'.
- v. Reverse Repos with banks and other institutions having original tenors up to and inclusive of 14 days are classified as Money at call and short notice under 'Balance with Banks and Money at call and short notice'. Reverse Repos with original maturity more than 14 days but up to 1 year are classified as Cash Credits, overdrafts, and loans repayable on demand, under 'Advances'. All other Reverse Repos are classified as Term Loans under 'Advances'.
- vi. Borrowing cost of repo transactions and revenue on reverse repo transactions, with RBI or others, is accounted for as interest expense and interest income, respectively.

Loans/Advances and Provisions thereon

Based on the guidelines / directives issued by the RBI, loans and advances in India are classified as performing and non-performing, as follows:

- i. A term loan is classified as a non-performing asset if interest and / or instalment of principal remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days.
- ii. An overdraft or cash credit is classified as a non- performing asset, if, the account remains "out of order", i.e. if the outstanding balance in the CC/OD account is less than the sanctioned limit/drawing power but there are no credits continuously for 90 days, or the credits are not enough to cover the interest debited during the previous 90 days period.
- iii. The bills purchased / discounted are classified as non-performing Asset if the bill remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days.
- iv. The agricultural advances are classified as a non- performing if,
  - a. for short duration crops, where the instalment of principal or interest remains overdue for two crop seasons; and

- b. for long duration crops, where the principal or interest remains overdue for one crop season.

NPAs are classified into Sub-Standard, Doubtful and Loss Assets, based on the following criteria stipulated by RBI:

- i. Sub-standard: A loan asset that has remained non-performing for a period less than or equal to 12 months.
- ii. Doubtful: A loan asset that has remained in the sub-standard category for a period of 12 months or Sub-Standard Accounts where erosion in the value of security by more than 50% of the value assessed by the bank or accepted by RBI at the time of last inspection, as the case may be.
- iii. Loss: A loan asset where loss has been identified but the amount has not been fully written off or if the realizable value of the security as assessed by the Bank/approved valuers/RBI is less than 10 percent of the outstanding.

Provisions are made for NPAs as per the extant guidelines prescribed by the regulatory authorities:

| Provisions for NPAs |                                                                                                      |                       |      |
|---------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------|------|
| Substandard Assets  | Secured                                                                                              |                       | 15%  |
|                     | Unsecured ab-initio (i.e. where realizable value of security is not more than 10 percent ab-initio). |                       | 25%  |
|                     | In respect of infrastructure advances where certain safeguards such as escrow accounts are available |                       | 20%  |
| Doubtful Assets     | Secured Portion                                                                                      | Up to one year        | 25%  |
|                     |                                                                                                      | One to three years    | 40%  |
|                     |                                                                                                      | More than three years | 100% |
|                     | Unsecured Portion                                                                                    |                       | 100% |
| Loan Assets         |                                                                                                      |                       | 100% |

In respect of foreign offices, the classification of loans and advances and provisions for NPAs are made as per the local regulations or as per the norms of RBI, whichever is more stringent.

Advances are net of specific loan loss provisions, unrealized interest, Export Credit and Guarantee Corporation claims received and bills rediscounted.

For restructured/ rescheduled assets, provisions are made in accordance with the guidelines issued by the RBI, which require that the difference between the fair value of the loans/ advances before and after restructuring is provided for, in addition to provision for the respective loans/ advances. The Provision for Diminution in Fair Value (DFV) and interest sacrifice, if any, arising out of the above, is reduced from advances.

In the case of loan accounts classified as NPAs, an account may be reclassified as a performing asset if it conforms to the guidelines prescribed by the regulatory authorities.

Amounts recovered against debts written off in earlier years are recognized as revenue in the year of recovery.

In addition to the provision on NPAs, provisions are also made for standard assets as per extant RBI guidelines. These provisions are reflected in Schedule 5 of the Balance Sheet under the head "Other Liabilities and Provisions – Others" and are not considered for arriving at the Net NPAs.

The Bank also makes additional provisions on specific non-performing assets.

Recoveries from Non-Performing Assets (NPAs) are appropriated in the following order of priority:

- i. Charges, Costs, Commissions, etc.
- ii. Unrealized Interest / Interest
- iii. Principal

However, in compromise and resolution/ settlement through National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) cases, the recoveries are appropriated as per the terms of respective compromise/ resolution/ settlement. And in case of suit filed accounts, recovery is appropriated as per directives of respective courts.

Floating Provisions and Countercyclical Provisioning Buffer

Our Bank has a policy for creation and utilization of Countercyclical Provisioning Buffer in good times as well as for floating provisions separately for advances, investments, and general purposes. The quantum of floating provisions and countercyclical provisioning buffer to be created is assessed at the end of the financial year. These provisions are utilized only for contingencies under extraordinary circumstances specified in the policy with prior permission of the RBI.

Provision for Country Exposure

In addition to the specific provisions held according to the asset classification status, provisions are also made for individual country exposures (other than the home country). Countries are categorised into seven risk categories, namely, Insignificant, Very Low, Low, Medium, High, Very High, Restricted and provisioning made as per extant RBI guidelines. If the country exposure (net) of our Bank in respect of each country does not exceed 1% of the total funded assets, no provision is maintained on such country exposures. The provision is reflected under the head “Other Liabilities & Provisions – Others” in the Balance Sheet.

Derivatives

Our Bank enter into interest rate derivatives (e.g. Interest Rate Swaps, Interest Rate Futures, Interest Rate Options, Interest Rate Caps and Floors, Forward Rate Agreements) and Foreign Currency Derivatives (e.g. Foreign Exchange Contracts, Currency/Cross Currency Swaps, Currency Options, Currency Futures) to hedge on-balance sheet/ off- balance sheet assets and liabilities or for trading purposes. Bank categorizes the derivatives portfolio into three fair value hierarchies viz. Level 1, Level 2, and Level 3 as defined for investments.

Our Bank follow the hedge accounting treatment stipulated in the Guidance Note on Accounting for Derivative Contracts (Revised 2021) issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI), wherein:

- i. Under the Fair Value Hedge Accounting Model, the hedging instrument is measured at fair value with the change in fair value recognized in the Profit and Loss Account. The hedged item is re-measured at fair value in respect of the hedged risk and the resulting change is recognized in the Profit and Loss. Thus, the fair value changes of the hedged item and the hedging instrument offset and result in no net impact in the statement of Profit and Loss except for the impact of hedge ineffectiveness.
- ii. Under the Cash Flow Hedge, the hedging instrument is measured at fair value with the change in fair value of an effective hedge recognized in the Cash Flow Hedge Reserve and change in fair value of ineffective portion of gain or loss recognized in Profit and Loss Account. The changes in fair value of hedging instruments recognized in Cash Flow Reserve are recycled and recognized in Profit and Loss account while the impact of the hedged item is recognized in the Profit and Loss Account.

Application of hedge accounting is stopped when the risk management objective as defined originally at the time of first applying hedge accounting principles is no longer met. The hedge relationship is discontinued if:

- The hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised.
- Hedge items mature or is sold/terminated or forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur.
- Hedging relationship (or a part of a hedging relationship) cease to meet the qualifying criteria for hedge accounting.

Except as mentioned above, all other derivative contracts are marked to market as per the Generally Accepted Accounting Practices prevalent in the industry. In respect of derivative contracts that are marked to market, changes in the market value are recognized in the Profit and Loss Account in the period of change. Any receivable under derivative contracts, which remain overdue for more than 90 days, are reversed through Profit and Loss Account to “Suspense Account Crystallized Receivables”. In cases where the derivative contracts provide for more settlement in future and if the derivative contract is not terminated on the overdue receivables remaining unpaid for 90 days, the positive MTM pertaining to future receivables is also reversed from Profit and Loss Account to “Suspense Account - Positive MTM”.

Option premium paid or received is recorded in Profit and Loss Account at the expiry of the option. The balance in the premium received on options sold and premium paid on options bought is considered to arrive at Mark-to-Market value for forex Over the Counter (OTC) options.

Exchange Traded Derivatives entered in for trading purposes are valued at prevailing market rates based on rates given by the Exchange and the resultant gains and losses are recognized in the Profit and Loss Account.

Fixed Assets, Depreciation and Amortization

Fixed Assets are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation/ amortization except for freehold premises carried at revalued amount, being fair value at the date of revaluation less accumulated depreciation, unless stated otherwise.

Cost includes cost of purchase and all expenditure such as site preparation, installation costs and professional fees incurred on the asset before it is put-to-use. Subsequent expenditure(s) incurred on the assets put-to-use are capitalized only when it increases the future benefits from such assets or their functioning capability. The fixed assets in domestic offices are depreciated at straight line method based on useful life of the assets stated as under:

| S/N | Description of Fixed Assets                                                                                  | Useful life for Depreciation |
|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1.  | Computers                                                                                                    | 3 years                      |
| 2.  | Computer Software forming an integral part of the computer hardware                                          | 3 years                      |
| 3.  | Computer Software which does not form an integral part of Computer hardware and cost of Software Development | 3 years                      |
| 4.  | Automated Teller Machine/ Cash Deposit Machine/ Coin Dispenser/ Coin Vending Machine                         | 5 years                      |

In respect of assets acquired during the year (for domestic operations), depreciation is charged on proportionate basis for the number of days the assets have been put-to-use during the year.

In respect of leasehold premises, the lease premium, if any, is amortised over the period of lease (except for premises and land on perpetual lease) and lease payments for assets taken on operating lease are recognised as expense in the Profit & Loss account over the lease term on straight line basis.

In respect of fixed assets held at foreign offices, depreciation is provided as per the regulations / norms of the respective countries.

Our Bank revalue freehold immovable assets at every three years. The increase in Net Book Value of the asset due to revaluation is credited to the Revaluation Reserve Account without routing through the Profit and Loss Account. Additional Depreciation on the revalued asset is charged to the Profit and Loss Account and appropriated from the Revaluation Reserves to General Reserve. The revalued asset is depreciated over the balance useful life of the asset as assessed at the time of revaluation.

Impairment of Assets

Assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances warrant that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future Net Discounted Cash Flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are impaired, the impairment to be recognised is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset.

Effect of changes in the foreign exchange rate

Foreign Currency Transactions

Foreign currency transactions are recorded on initial recognition in the reporting currency by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency on the date of transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items are reported using the Foreign Exchange Dealers Association of India (“FEDAI”) closing (spot/ forward) rates.

Foreign currency non-monetary items, which are carried at historical cost, are reported using the exchange rate on the date of the transaction.

Contingent liabilities denominated in foreign currency are reported using the FEDAI closing spot rates.

Outstanding foreign exchange spot and forward contracts held for trading are revalued at the exchange rates notified by FEDAI for specified maturities, and the resulting Profit or Loss is recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

Foreign Currency Forward or Future Contract entered to hedge payment of a monetary asset or a liability and a Currency Swap Contract (principal only; no interest rate element) that hedges the repayment of principal of foreign currency loan are revalued at the closing spot rate and exchange difference on such contracts is recognised in Profit and Loss Account. The premium or discount arising at the inception of these contracts is amortised as expense or income over the life of the contract. Any Profit or Loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such contracts is recognised as income or expense for the period.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded are recognised as income or as expense in the period in which they arise.

Gains / Losses on account of changes in exchange rates of open position in currency futures trades are settled with the exchange clearing house on daily basis and such gains/ losses are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

Average Balance Sheet of the Bank

The tables below present the average balances for interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities together with the related interest revenue and expense amounts, resulting in the presentation of the average yields and cost for each period of the Bank on a standalone basis. The average balance is the average of quarterly balances outstanding. The average yield on average assets is the ratio of interest revenue to average interest-earning assets (except that investments include equity investments and interest revenue with respect to investments includes dividends on such equity investments). The average cost on average interest-bearing liabilities is the ratio of interest expense to average interest-bearing liabilities.

Loan Portfolio

As of March 31, 2025, the Bank's gross loan portfolio was ₹ 42,207.03 billion. The majority of the Bank's gross loans and credit substitutes are to borrowers in India.

The Bank makes loans to a wide range of customers in the public and private sectors, including commercial and industrial customers, agricultural customers and individual customers, in each case within the guidelines issued by the RBI. Working capital facilities consist of revolving cash credit facilities and short-term loans. Revolving cash credit facilities, based on a traditional overdraft system of lending, have been the most common form of working capital financing in India. Pursuant to RBI guidelines, only a specified percentage of a working capital facility can be accessed as cash credit, with the balance being short-term loans having a minimum maturity of one year.

The following tables set forth, for the periods indicated, the Bank's loan portfolio.

Concentration of Loans and Credit Substitutes

The Bank follows a policy of portfolio diversification and evaluates its total financing exposure in a particular industry in the light of the Bank's growth and profitability forecasts for that industry. The Bank's Risk Department monitors all major sectors of the economy and specifically follows industries in which the Bank has credit exposure. The Bank actively manages its loan portfolio by responding to economic weaknesses in an industry segment by restricting new credits to that industry segment and by increasing new credits to growing industry segments. In order to avoid concentration, the Bank has set internal ceilings on portfolio exposures to different industry sectors.

The following tables set forth, at the dates indicated, the Bank's industry portfolio for corporate and SME advances by borrower industry or economic activity.

Priority Sector Lending

As stipulated by the RBI guidelines, commercial banks in India are required to lend, through advances or investment, 40.00% of their adjusted net bank credit ("ANBC") or credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposures, whichever is higher, to certain specified "priority sectors", subject to certain exemptions permitted by the RBI from time to time. We actively extend financial support and finance to such sectors. Our "priority sector" advances include loans to the agriculture, small-scale industries and services, loans to certain sectors targeted as requiring special assistance, such as education, food and agriculture-based processing sectors, and loans to the housing sector. Although the GoI and the RBI have identified the "priority sectors" and provided lending guidelines, we have complete discretion in determining the commercial terms and conditions in extending financing to borrowers in such sectors.

In the case of non-achievement of priority sector lending targets, including sub-targets, we are required to invest in the Rural Infrastructure Development Fund established with NABARD and other government directed funds as decided by the RBI from time to time. The amount to be deposited, interest rates on such deposits and periods of deposits, and other terms, are determined by the RBI from time to time. We report priority sector loans to the RBI on a quarterly basis. Pursuant to the RBI guidelines, at least 18.00% of ANBC or credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposures, which is higher, and 7.50% of ANBC or credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposures, which is higher, is also required to be provided to the agriculture sector and micro enterprises sector, respectively, within priority sector lending requirements. Our Bank's advances to the agriculture sector and micro enterprises sector as a percentage of our ANBC was 17.01% and 7.64%, as of March 31, 2025.

As of March 31, 2023, 2024 and 2025, our outstanding priority sector lending, as a percentage of our ANBC were 40.05 %, 40.94 % and 40.00 %, respectively. The following table presents certain information on our outstanding priority sector lending, as a percentage of our ANBC as of the dates indicated:

Non-Performing Assets

The Bank has in the past suffered losses through impairment of loans as some borrowers were impacted by negative trends in the global market place, recessionary conditions in the domestic economy, increased competition and volatility in industrial growth and commodity prices. The Bank has adopted several measures to refine its credit selection processes and appraisal capabilities.

The management of NPAs has been one of the focus areas of the Bank with the objective to achieve global benchmarks. Towards this goal, the Bank has focused on:

- identification and monitoring of Special Mention Accounts as per RBI guidelines in order to check the movement of Standard Assets into the NPA category, conducting regular reviews and taking quick corrective action;
- restructuring impaired standard accounts as well as viable NPAs, both under the Corporate Debt Restructuring ("CDR") scheme developed by the RBI as well as under the Bank's own scheme for limiting NPAs;
- upgrading the Bank's assets; and
- high-value accounts and cases referred to the BIFR.

The Bank's gross NPA ratio decreased from 2.78% as of March 31, 2023 to 2.24% as of March 31, 2024 and was 1.82% as of March 31, 2025. The Bank's net NPA ratio decreased from 0.67% as of March 31, 2023 to 0.57% as of March 31, 2024 and was 0.47% as of March 31, 2025.

Recognition of NPAs and Provisioning

RBI Classification and Provisioning Requirements

The Bank classifies its assets in accordance with the RBI guidelines. The guidelines require Indian banks to classify their NPAs into three categories, as described below, based on the period for which the asset has remained nonperforming and the estimated realization of amounts due in relation to such asset. Further, the NPA classification is at the borrower level, rather than at the facility level and, accordingly, if one of the advances granted to a borrower becomes non-performing, such borrower is classified as non-performing and all advances due from it are so classified.

A non-performing asset is a loan or an advance where: (i) interest and/or instalment of principal remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days in respect of a term loan; (ii) the account remains "out of order" in respect of an overdraft of cash credit; (iii) the bill remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days in the case of bills purchased and discounted; (iv) the instalment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue for two crop seasons for short duration crops; (v) the instalment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue for one crop season for long duration crops; (vi) the amount of liquidity facility remains outstanding for more than 90 days, in respect of a securitization transaction undertaken in terms of the Reserve Bank of India (Securitization of Standard Assets) Directions, 2021; or (vii) in respect of derivative transactions, the overdue receivables representing positive mark-to-market value of a derivative contract, if these remain unpaid for a period of 90 days from the specified due date for payment. According to guidelines specified by RBI, an account should be classified as an NPA on the basis of the record of recovery and not merely on deficiencies which are temporary in nature, such as non-renewal of limits on the due date or non-submission of stock statements.

Further, RBI requires the banks to classify an account as a non-performing asset only if the interest due and charged during any quarter is not serviced fully within 90 days from the end of the quarter.

|  | serious credit impairment, an asset is required to be immediately classified as doubtful or as a loss asset, as appropriate. Further, erosion in the value of the security provided may also be considered significant when the realizable value of the security is less than 50.00% of the value as assessed by the bank or as accepted by RBI at the time of the last inspection of the security, as the case may be. In such a case, the assets secured by such impaired security may immediately be classified as doubtful, and provisioning should be made as applicable to doubtful assets. If the realizable value of the security, as assessed by the bank or approved valuation agents or by RBI, is less than 10.00% of the outstanding amount in the borrower's accounts, the existence of security should be ignored and the asset should be immediately classified as a loss asset and it may be either written off or fully provided for by the bank. |

Non-Accrual Policy

When an asset is classified as non-performing, interest accrual is stopped and the unrealized interest is reversed by debit to the profit and loss account. In accordance with the RBI guidelines, interest realized on NPAs may be added to the income account provided the credits in the accounts towards interest are not out of additional credit facilities sanctioned to the borrower. The RBI has also stipulated that in the absence of a clear agreement between the Bank and the borrower for the purpose of appropriating recoveries in NPAs (i.e. towards principal or interest due), banks should adopt an accounting principle and exercise the right of appropriation of recoveries in a uniform and consistent manner.

Restructuring of Debts

The Bank's NPAs are restructured on a case-by-case basis after it is determined that restructuring is the best means of maximizing realization of the loan. These loans continue to be on a non-accrual basis and are reclassified as performing loans only after sustained performance under the loan's renegotiated terms for a period of at least one year.

The tables below set forth details of the Bank's standard restructured assets by segment as of the dates indicated:

| Segment                             | As of March 31, |               |               |

For restructured/rescheduled advances, provisions are made in accordance with guidelines issued by RBI from time to time. Provision for diminution in fair value of restructured advances is measured at net present value terms as per RBI guidelines for accounts where total dues to the bank are ₹ 10 million and above. For other accounts, the provision for diminution in fair value is computed notionally at 5% of total exposure to the bank as per RBI guidelines.

Management of Stressed Assets

An integrated approach to review and management of stressed assets including rehabilitation and restructuring has been put in place. The primary intent in the approach is to ensure that an SMA does not slip into an NPA. Identification, determination of the cause of the problem and initiation of remedial measures on a proactive basis with a thrust on restructuring of accounts that are intrinsically viable, are the hallmarks of this approach.

A review of stressed assets is provided to the appropriate reviewing authority at specified intervals, who would then give necessary directions on the recommended action plan. Based on a detailed viability study, if the unit is found viable, it is put on a rehabilitation package.

NPA Management

The Bank is committed to efficiently managing and reducing its NPAs and has implemented the following measures to manage and reduce its NPA ratio:

- Initiating recovery action on slippage of accounts, including taking non-legal recovery actions or initiating legal action.
- Conducting recovery meetings at regional and Circle levels to arrive at settlements which are both cost effective and mutually beneficial. Recovery meetings involve inviting defaulting borrowers to the Bank in order to negotiate and reach mutually agreeable settlement proposals.
- Compromise settlements through Lok Adalats, (“people’s courts”), established by the Government to facilitate the efficient settlement of disputes by way of mutual agreement. While only claims not exceeding ₹ 100 million can be brought to a permanent Lok Adalat and any amount to Lokadalat of DRT given that the Lok Adalats do not charge any fees and their decisions are binding on the parties, it is often quicker to resolve disputes through a Lok Adalat than through regular courts. In light of this, the Bank strives to recover NPAs through the Lok Adalats as much as practicable.
- Reporting of wilful defaulters with overdue amounts equal to ₹ 2.5 million and above to the RBI. The RBI then consolidates the data of such wilful defaulters and disseminates this information amongst banks for their use. While the Bank does not rehabilitate or restructure NPAs of a wilful defaulter, it enters into an acceptable mutual settlement with such a borrower.
- Close monitoring of “compromise settled accounts” for recovery in accordance with the terms of settlement. By maintaining open dialogue with borrowers of the compromise settled accounts, the Bank seeks to recover its NPAs within specified periods and with minimum costs.
- Aggressively pursuing and achieving substantial progress in respect of measures allowed to be implemented by the Bank under the SARFAESI Act (as further explained below).
- Monitoring the recovery of overdue amounts under any account by law officers subject to a court ruling. The role of such law officers is to liaise with the advocate, branch and debtor and the Debt Recovery Tribunal (“DRT”) during the relevant debt recovery action, and to take timely action.
- Strict adherence to rehabilitation packages under the CDR (for both normal and SME accounts) and monitoring the accounts closely for early recovery.

See “Risk Factors — Risks Relating to our Business — Our business and financial condition may be adversely affected in case of an increase in the level of non-performing assets in our portfolio or RBI mandated provisioning requirements.” on page 37.

The Bank has been improving its asset quality by resolving stressed accounts through the National Company Law Tribunal (“NCLT”). By focusing on the recovery of NPAs through the legal framework of the NCLT, the Bank has been able to expedite the resolution of large corporate defaults and improve its financial health, successfully recover dues from several distressed companies, thereby reducing its NPA ratio. ### Global Macroeconomic Outlook

After being buffeted by a series of adverse shocks over 2020-24, the global economy is facing another significant headwind this year, with increased trade barriers and heightened policy uncertainty leading to a notable deterioration of the outlook relative to January 2025. Subdued global growth prospects are unlikely to improve materially without policy actions to address increasing trade restrictions, geopolitical tensions, heightened uncertainty, and limited fiscal space. Against this backdrop, global growth is set to slow this year, to 2.3% — weaker than previously projected amid the impact of higher trade barriers and weakened confidence. Thereafter, growth is forecast to firm to about 2.5% over 2026-27, as trade flows continue adjusting to higher tariffs such that global trade edges up, while policy uncertainty moderates from record-high levels. (Source: World Bank Global Economic Prospects, June 2025)

For advanced economies, growth under the reference forecast is projected to drop from an estimated 1.8% in 2024 to 1.4% in 2025 and 1.5% in 2026. For emerging market and developing economies, growth under the reference forecast is projected to drop to 3.7% in 2025 and 3.9% in 2026, following an estimated 4.3% in 2024. (Source: IMF World Economic Outlook Update, April 2025)

Inflation expectations, particularly at the shorter horizon, have picked up in 2025, mainly in some major economies. This is likely explained by the expected impact of tariff increases on consumer prices, even as trade tensions weigh on economic activity and commodity prices. On a GDP weighted basis, global inflation is projected to average 2.9% in both 2025 and 2026, before easing to 2.5% in 2027 — about in line with the average inflation target. However, there is significant heterogeneity across countries, with inflation projections revised slightly lower in Emerging Market and Developing Economy (EMDEs) in 2025 due to the impact of weaker demand for traded goods, while being revised significantly higher in advanced economies, primarily the United States. (Source: World Bank Global Economic Prospects, June 2025)

Commodity prices have fallen since February, largely owing to weaker growth prospects amid increased trade barriers and policy uncertainty. Largely reflecting these movements, annual average commodity prices are expected to decline by 10% in 2025. In 2026, commodity prices are projected to soften further, by 6%, as production of some energy and metals commodities expands and supply constraints on several agricultural commodities ease. Thereafter, commodity prices are projected to edge up as global growth continues to recover, supporting commodity consumption. Risks to the commodity price projections are tilted to the downside, as a renewed escalation of trade tensions between major economies could further weaken global trade and investment, undermining commodity demand. ### Indian Economy

The Indian economy, supported by strong macroeconomic fundamentals, remained the fastest growing major economy in the world during 2024-25. Moreover, as India's growth is largely dependent on domestic demand, the impact of external shocks remained limited. In terms of growth outturns (actual economic growth compared to what was originally forecast) for 2024, India's actual growth rate did not deviate significantly from projections even amidst deteriorating global outlook. The RBI has projected the real GDP to grow at 6.5% in 2025-2026, same as in 2024-2025, supported by buoyant rural demand, revival in urban demand, an uptick in investment activity on the back of above-average capacity utilisation, government's continued thrust on capex and congenial financial conditions. The continued momentum in various high frequency indicators of services sector, robust agricultural production and above normal southwest monsoon forecasts, and strong goods and services tax (“GST”) collections underscore the sustained momentum and resilience of the economy. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report June 2025)

Domestic inflation has been steadily declining with the headline consumer price index (“CPI”) inflation recording a six-year low of 2.8% in May 2025. The outlook for food inflation remains favourable on account of softening prices and robust crop production. Moreover, the risk of imported inflation largely remains low with the anticipated slowdown in global growth likely to soften commodity and crude oil prices, although the recent escalation of geopolitical tensions in the Middle East has led to heightened uncertainty. The near-term and medium-term outlook gives greater confidence of a durable alignment of headline inflation with the target of 4%, and it is likely to undershoot the target at the margin as per the projections of the RBI. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report June 2025)

India’s fiscal position and credibility has enhanced significantly in recent years on account of ongoing fiscal consolidation, improvement in the quality of expenditure and earmarking of debt-to-GDP as the nominal anchor for the central government’s fiscal policy. In addition, the government debt is predominantly rupee-denominated. The resilience of the external sector has been a key contributing factor to India’s macroeconomic and financial stability. Current account deficit (“CAD”) at 0.6% of GDP during 2024-2025 remains eminently manageable, supported by sustained buoyancy in services exports and remittances. Moreover, current account balance turned into a surplus of 1.3% of GDP in Q4:2024-2025. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report June 2025)

Notwithstanding the uncertainty surrounding the trade outlook, India’s external vulnerability indicators remain robust and continue to show improvement. Foreign exchange reserves at US$ 697.9 billion, as on June 20, 2025, are sufficient to cover more than 11 months of merchandise imports on balance of payment basis; external debt stood at a moderate 19.1% of GDP at end March 2025; the share of short-term debt on residual maturity basis stood at 45.4% of foreign exchange reserves at end-March 2025; and net international investment position improved. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report June 2025)

Domestic financial conditions tightened during January-March 2025, driven by widening of money and corporate bond market spreads. Since April 2025, financial conditions have eased supported by the Reserve Bank’s liquidity infusion measures and policy rate cuts. The Reserve Bank has injected durable liquidity amounting to about ₹9.5 lakh crore through suite of liquidity measures since January 2025, which led to system liquidity transitioning from deficit to surplus at end-March 2025. Additionally, the decision to cut cash reserve ratio (“CRR”) by 100 bps in a staggered phase will release ₹2.5 lakh crore of primary liquidity starting September till December 2025. Cumulatively, these measures have not only turned durable liquidity into surplus but will also contribute to faster transmission of monetary policy to the financial and credit markets. ## Indian Banking Authority

The RBI was established on April 1, 1935 in accordance with the provisions of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934. The central office of the RBI was initially established in Kolkata but was permanently moved to Mumbai in 1937. The central office is where the Governor sits and where policies are formulated. Though originally privately owned, since nationalization in 1949, the RBI has been fully owned by the GoI. The RBI performs a supervisory function under the guidance of the Board for Financial Supervision. The Board was constituted in November 1994 as a committee of the Central Board of Directors of the RBI. (Source: RBI Manual on Financial and Banking Statistics, <https://www.rbi.org.in/Scripts/AboutusDisplay.aspx>)

The banking system in India comprises commercial and cooperative banks, of which the former accounts for more than 90% of banking system's assets. Besides a few foreign and Indian private banks, the commercial banks comprise nationalized banks (majority equity holding is with the Government). These banks, along with regional rural banks, constitute the public sector (state owned) banking system in India. A diagrammatic structure of Indian banking, including cooperatives. The banking system in India, which evolved over several decades, is well established and has been serving the credit and banking needs of the economy. The banking ecosystem is providing impetus to economic growth and development of the country and catering to the specific and varied financial requirements of different customers and borrowers. ## Impact of Liberalization on the Indian Financial Sector

Until 1991, the financial sector in India was heavily controlled and commercial banks and long-term lending institutions had mutually exclusive roles and objectives, operating in a largely stable environment with little to no competition. Long-term lending institutions were focused on achieving the GoI's various socioeconomic objectives, including balanced industrial growth and employment creation, especially in areas requiring development. Long-term lending institutions were extended access to long-term funds at subsidized rates through loans and equity from the GoI, funds guaranteed by the GoI originating from commercial banks in India and foreign currency resources from multilateral and bilateral agencies. The focus of commercial banks was primarily to mobilise household savings through demand and time deposits and to use these deposits to meet the short-term financial needs of borrowers in industry, trade and agriculture. In addition, commercial banks provided a range of banking services to individuals and business entities. (Source: RBI Circular on Approach to Universal Banking dated April 28, 2001)

However, since 1991, there have been comprehensive changes in the Indian financial system. Various financial sector reforms have transformed the operating environment of banks and long-term lending institutions. In particular, the deregulation of interest rates, the emergence of a liberalised domestic capital market and the entry of new private sector banks, along with the broadening of long-term lending institutions' product portfolios, have progressively intensified the competition between banks and long-term lending institutions. The RBI has permitted the transformation of long-term lending institutions into banks subject to compliance with the prudential standards applicable to banks. (Source: RBI Circular on Approach to Universal Banking dated April 28, 2001) Further, development of GIFT city as the international financial hub in India containing India's first International Financial Services Centre ("IFSC") and several international banks and exchanges has been a massive step towards liberalization. GIFT city is envisaged to be the hub of financial and technological services for the world. (Source: investindia.gov.in) The government and the RBI have also been striving to promote the use of INR for cross-border trade and other current account transactions. In 2023, the RBI put in place a mechanism for trade settlement in INR with 18 countries wherein banks from these countries have been permitted to open Special Rupee Vostro accounts for settlement in INR. RBI has also enabled external commercial borrowings in Indian Rupees (especially through Masala Bonds). (Source: investindia.gov.in)

Banks that are included in the Second Schedule of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 are considered to be scheduled commercial banks. Other than public sector banks and regional rural banks, all other scheduled commercial banks are granted banking licenses by RBI under the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 ("Banking Regulation Act"). In addition, RBI also gives licenses to Co-operative Banks for providing banking services under Banking Regulation Act. (Source: "Department of Financial Services", <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Scheduled Commercial Banks

Scheduled Commercial Bank ("SCBs") is commercial bank which has been included in the Second Schedule of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 ("RBI Act"). Conditions for inclusion in the Second Schedule of the RBI Act are as stated in Section 42(6)(a) of the RBI Act. It includes public sector, private sector, foreign banks, Regional Rural Banks ("RRB"), small finance banks and payment banks. (Source: <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Public Sector Banks (“PSBs”) are SCBs with significant government shareholding. PSBs constitute the largest category of banks in the Indian banking system. These include the 12 nationalised banks, as of August 2024. (Source: RBI, List of Scheduled Commercial Banks (SCBs))

Foreign Banks is a bank that has its headquarters outside India but runs its offices as a private entity at any other locations in India. Such banks are under an obligation to operate under the regulations provided by the Reserve Bank of India as well as the rule prescribed by the parent organization located outside India. (Source: Department of Financial Services, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Private Sector Banks are banking companies licensed to operate under Banking Regulation Act other than Urban Co-operative Banks, Foreign Banks and banks licensed under specific Statutes. (Source: <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>, RBI)

Small Finance Banks (SFBs) licensed under Banking Regulation Act and created with an objective of furthering financial inclusion by primarily undertaking basic banking activities to un-served and underserved sections including small business units, small and marginal farmers, micro and small enterprises and other underserved sections. Payment Banks are public limited companies licensed under Banking Regulation Act, with specific licensing conditions restricting its activities mainly to acceptance of demand deposits and provision of payments and remittance services. (Source: “Department of Financial Services”, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>). The objective of small finance banks is to further financial inclusion by providing savings vehicles and supplying credit to small business units, small and marginal farmers, micro and small industries and other unorganized sector entities through high technology-low-cost operations.

Payment Banks are public limited companies licensed under Banking Regulation Act, with specific licensing conditions restricting its activities mainly to acceptance of demand deposits and provision of payments and remittance services. (Source: “Department of Financial Services”, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>) The RBI has liberalised the licensing regime for banks in India and intends to issue licences on an ongoing basis, subject to meeting the RBI’s criteria. The RBI is supportive of creating more specialised banks and granting differentiated banking licences, e.g., for payment banks and small finance banks. The RBI also plans to create wholesale and long-term finance banks in the near future. As of September 2024, there are six (6) payments banks in India. (Source: RBI, List of Payment Banks, accessed in September 2024)

Co-operative Banks

Co-operative Banks means State Co-operative Banks, Central Co-operative Banks and Primary Co-operative Banks. Primary Co-operative Banks are also known as Urban Cooperative Banks and over the years, it has registered a significant growth in number, size and volume of business handled. State Cooperative Banks are the highest-level cooperative banks in each of the states. They raise funds and assist in their proper allocation among various sectors. Individual borrowers receive funds from state cooperative banks via central cooperative banks and primary credit societies. (Source: <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Co-operative Banks are registered under State Co-operative Societies Act of the State concerned or the Multi State Cooperative Societies Act, 2002 and its banking business is licensed and regulated by Reserve Bank of India. These banks are the financial entities that belong to its members, who are also the owners as well as the customers of their bank. Cooperative banks primarily support the agricultural activities, some small-scale industries and self-employed workers. (Source: <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

In addition to Scheduled Commercial Banks and co-operative banks, All India Financial Institutions and Non-Banking Financial Companies also plays an important role in promoting inclusive growth in the country. (Source: <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

All India Financial Institutions

Financial institutions play an important role in the Indian financial system as they provide medium to long term finance to different sectors of the economy. These institutions have been set up to meet the growing demands of particular sectors, such as export, import, rural, housing and small industries. These institutions have been playing a crucial role in channelizing credit to these sectors and addressing the challenges / issues faced by them. India Financial Institutions in India. (Source: “Department of Financial Services”, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Non-Banking Financial Companies (“NBFCs”)

NBFCs are playing an important role in sustaining consumption demand as well as capital formation in small and medium industrial segment of the country. The reach and last mile advantages of NBFCs have empowered them with agility and innovation with cutting edge technology in providing formal financial services to under banked and unserved sections of the society. (Source: “Department of Financial Services”, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>)

Depending upon the line of activity, NBFCs are categorised into different types such as asset finance company, loan company, infrastructure finance company, securitisation/asset reconstruction companies, investment company, (systemically important) core investment company, infrastructure debt fund – NBFC, NBFC – micro finance institution, NBFC – factors, mortgage guarantee companies, NBFC – non-operative financial holding company. (Source: RBI, Discussion Paper on Wholesale & Long-Term Finance Banks, April 2017)

As per the Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Company – Scale Based Regulation) Directions, 2023, updated as on May 5, 2025, regulatory structure for NBFCs shall comprise of four layers based on their size, activity and perceived riskiness. NBFCs in the lowest layer shall be known as NBFC – Base Layer (“NBFC-BL”). NBFCs in middle layer and upper layer shall be known as NBFC – Middle Layer (“NBFC-ML”) and NBFC – Upper Layer (“NBFC-UL”) respectively. The Top layer is ideally expected to be empty and will be known as NBFC – Top Layer (“NBFC-TL”).

Housing Finance Companies

Housing finance companies are specialised institutions which extend housing credit, along with SCBs. Effective August 9, 2019, Housing finance companies (“HFCs”) are being regulated as a category of NBFCs, after the transfer of regulation of HFCs to the Reserve Bank by amendment of the National Housing Bank Act, 1987. As of June 2025, there were 82 HFCs, of which only 11 were deposit taking entities. (Source: NHB, List of HFCs in India, available, accessed in September 2024, <https://www.nhb.org.in/list-of-housing-finance-companies-granted-certificate/?prophazecheck=2>, <https://www.nhb.org.in/a-list-of-housing-finance-companies-granted/>)

Microfinance Institutions

Microfinance institutions form a distinct sub-group of non-banking financial companies. They focus on providing access to small-scale financial services, especially to the poor, and play an important role in delivering credit to people at the bottom of the economic pyramid. Microfinance institutions differ from other financial service providers as they do not depend on grants or subsidies to provide unsecured loans to borrowers with low incomes and no access to the mainstream banking system. They encompass a host of financial institutions engaged in advancing loans to low-income groups. The essential features of microfinance loans are that they are of small amounts, have short tenures, are extended without collateral, and require a frequency of loan repayments that is greater than that for traditional commercial loans. These loans are generally taken for income-generating activities but are also provided for consumption, housing and other purposes. (Source: RBI Bulletin, Microfinance: Reaching out to the Bottom of the Pyramid dated September 11, 2020)

Regional Rural Banks

Regional rural banks were formed under the Regional Rural Bank Act, 1976 with a view towards developing the rural economy by providing, for the purpose of developing agriculture, trade, commerce, industry and other productive activities in the rural areas, credit and other facilities, particularly to the small and marginal farmers, agricultural labourers, artisans and small entrepreneurs, and for matters connected therewith and incidental thereto. (Source: Banking, Regional Rural Banks, Department of Financial Services) The area of operation of RRBs is limited to the area notified by the Central Government. RRBs are owned jointly by the GoI, the State Government and Sponsor Banks. (Source: “Department of Financial Services”, <https://financialservices.gov.in/beta/en/banking-overview>) The GoI took a landmark decision to sanction ₹108.90 billion of recapitalisation assistance to RRBs during Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2023. As on March 31, 2024, these 22 RRBs have received the entire amount of recapitalisation assistance from sponsor banks and state governments. (Source: NABARD Annual Report 20203-2024)

As of March 31, 2024, there were 43 RRBs sponsored by 12 SCBs with 21,069 branches (21,995 branches as on 31 March 2023) with operations extending to 313.30 million deposit accounts and 30.30 million loan accounts. ## Long-Term Lending Institutions

Long-term lending institutions were established to provide medium-term and long-term financial assistance to various industries for setting up new projects and expanding and modernising existing facilities. These institutions provided fund-based and non-fund-based assistance to industries in the form of loans, underwriting and direct subscription to shares, debentures and guarantees.

Long-term lending institutions were expected to play a critical role in Indian industrial growth and, accordingly, had access to concessional government funding. However, in recent years, the operating environment of long-term lending institutions has changed substantially. Although the initial role of these institutions was largely limited to providing a channel for government funding to industries, the reform process required such institutions to expand the scope of their business activities, including into fee-based activities like investment banking and advisory services and into short-term lending activities including corporate finance and working capital loans.

Recent Developments in the Banking Sector

The RBI from time to time also comes out with regulations and guidelines for the above-mentioned institutions to ensure overall effectiveness and supervision of the banking system:

- The Monetary Policy Committee (“MPC”) met on the June 4- 6, 2025 to deliberate and decide on the policy repo rate. After a detailed assessment of the evolving macroeconomic and financial developments and the outlook, the MPC decided to reduce the policy repo rate under the liquidity adjustment facility (“LAF”) by 50 basis points to 5.50% with immediate effect; consequently, the standing deposit facility (“SDF”) rate shall stand adjusted to 5.25% and the marginal standing facility (“MSF”) rate and the Bank Rate to 5.75%. To further provide durable liquidity, it has been decided to reduce the CRR by 100 basis points (bps) to 3.0% of net demand and time liabilities (“NDTL”) in a staggered manner during the course of the year. This reduction will be carried out in four equal tranches of 25 bps each with effect from the fortnights beginning September 6, October 4, November 1 and November 29, 2025. The cut in CRR would release primary liquidity of about ₹2.5 lakh crore to the banking system by December 2025. Besides providing durable liquidity, it will reduce the cost of funding of the banks, thereby helping in monetary policy transmission to the credit market. (Source: RBI Governor’s Statement, 6 June 2025)
- The RBI in November 2023 had come out with a notification wherein it increased the risk weights on consumer loans and NBFCs by 25% points (from 100% to 125%). For AAA-rated loans to NBFCs, the risk weight has been increased to 45% from the existing 20% (25% point increase). These guidelines are applicable to Commercial Banks (including Small Finance Banks, Local Area Banks and Regional Rural Banks) and Non-Banking Financial Companies (including HFCs). (Source: RBI Circular Regulatory measures towards consumer credit and bank credit to NBFCs) On a review, vide a circular dated February 25, 2025, it was decided to restore the risk weight on SCBs funding to NBFCs to the risk weight associated with the given external rating of NBFCs (where the extant risk weight as per external rating of NBFCs is below 100%). And the microfinance loans in the nature of consumer credit shall be risk weighted at 100%. (Source: RBI Annual Report 2024-25)
- The Reserve Bank recently came out with draft guidelines on the financing of Projects under Implementation. The existing prescribed provisions for standard Project assets is 0.40% which the RBI has proposed to increase to 5%. This is expected to substantially increase the provisioning requirements for banks in India. These guidelines are applicable to all Commercial Banks (including Small Finance Banks but excluding Payments Banks), Local Area Banks and Regional Rural Banks, all Primary (Urban) Co-operative Banks, all All-India Financial Institutions, and all Non-Banking Financial Companies. ## Other Financial Institutions

Specialised Financial Institutions

In addition to the long-term lending institutions, there are various specialised financial institutions which cater to the specific needs of different sectors. These include the NABARD, the EXIM, the SIDBI, Risk Capital and Technology Finance Corporation Limited, Tourism Finance Corporation of India Limited, the NHB, Power Finance Corporation Limited, Infrastructure Development Finance Corporation Limited, the Industrial Investment Bank of India, the North Eastern Development Finance Corporation and the India Infrastructure Finance Company. (Source: Report on Trend and Progress of Banking in India, 2003-2004). To provide financial support to the diversified growth of Industries across the sectors Industrial Finance Corporation of India as a statutory organisation was set up in 1948. To support the long-term infrastructure financing in India, the Government set-up the NaBFID in 2021. (Source: RBI Press Release dated March 9, 2022)

State Financial Institutions

SFCs operate at the state level and form an integral part of the institutional financing system. SFCs were set up to finance and promote small and medium-sized enterprises. State financial institutions are expected to achieve balanced regional socio-economic growth by generating employment opportunities and widening the ownership base of industries. At the state level, there are also state industrial development corporations, which primarily finance medium-sized and large enterprises. ## Insurance Companies

The General Insurance Corporation of India, a re-insurance company, the Life Insurance Corporation of India and other public sector general insurance companies provide long-term financial assistance to the industrial sector.

The insurance sector in India is regulated by the IRDAI. In December 1999, the Indian Parliament passed the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority Act, 1999, which amended the Insurance Act, 1938 and opened up the Indian insurance sector for foreign and private investors. The Insurance Act, 1938 was further amended by the Insurance Law (Amendment) Act, 2015 which raised permitted foreign equity participation in new insurance companies from 26.00% to 49.00%. (Source: DPIIT, Consolidated FDI Policy (Effective from October 15, 2020))

Foreign investment in insurance companies in India is subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the IRDAI and/ or the Central Government. The Indian Insurance Companies (Foreign Investment) (Amendment) Rules, 2021 (“2021 FI Rules”) amended the Indian Insurance Companies (Foreign Investment) Rules, 2015 and provided that the foreign investment limits for insurance companies would be increased from 49% to 74% of their paid-up equity share capital. Recently, it was announced in the Union Budget for Fiscal 2025-2026, that the foreign investment limits in the insurance sector will be raised from 74% to 100%. The enhanced foreign investment limit of 100% is yet to be implemented.

IRDAI has operationalized a series of regulatory changes in 2024 regarding health coverage. These changes include the removal of the upper age cap and the introduction of new features such as a customer information sheet to enhance transparency and the option to distribute claim amounts across multiple policies held with different companies. Also, Health insurance companies have to do final authorisation for cashless claims within three hours of receiving a patient discharge request from the hospital and policy holders cannot be kept waiting to be discharged from hospital under any circumstances. (Source: Press release IRDAI). The amendment to the Expenses of Management (“EOM”) regulations grants significant greater flexibility and autonomy to industry players. This provision supports the industry in multiple ways as now they can determine how to manage their fixed costs and commissions according to the model that best suits their needs. As stakeholders gain better control over managing their expenses and reducing distribution costs, this will lead to improved pricing structures, ultimately benefiting the end consumer. This approach will harmonize the industry’s diverse efforts towards the overarching goal of closing India’s protection gap. (Source: IRDAI Amendment dated March 27, 2023) The IRDAI (Expenses of Management, Including Commission of Insurers) Regulations, 2024 were amended to give insurers greater flexibility in managing their expenses, including commissions. This aims to help them optimize resource use, enhance benefits for policyholders, and improve insurance penetration, all within the limits set by the IRDAI. These amendments seek to balance operational flexibility and regulatory oversight by imposing EoM limits at the company level, rather than the previous segmental level, for general and health insurance sectors, while simplifying the monitoring process for life insurance. This initiative is part of a broader regulatory reform aimed at shifting towards principle based regulations and rationalizing the existing regulatory framework. (Source: IRDAI Annual Report 2023-24)

Mutual Funds

The mutual funds industry was opened up to the private sector in 1993. The industry is regulated by the SEBI (Mutual Funds) Regulations, 1996.

In June 2009, the SEBI removed the entry load, up-front charges deducted by mutual funds for all mutual fund schemes and required that the up-front commission to distributors should be paid by the investor to the distributor directly. In November 2009, to enhance the reach and marketability of mutual fund schemes, the SEBI permitted the use of stock exchange terminals to facilitate transactions in mutual fund schemes, as a result of which mutual fund units can now be traded on recognized stock exchanges. In February 2010, the SEBI introduced guidelines for the valuation of money market and debt securities with a view to ensure that the value of money market and debt securities in the portfolio of mutual fund schemes reflect the current market value. The valuation guidelines were effective from August 1, 2010.

The mutual fund industry crossed the ₹ 70 lakh crore AUM milestone for the first time ever in May 2025, with total assets rising to ₹ 72.20 lakh crore, a 3.04% increase from ₹ 69.99 lakh crore in April 2025 (Source: AMFI Monthly Note, May 2025)

Key Banking Industry Trends in India

The soundness and resilience of SCBs are bolstered by robust capital buffers, multi-decadal low non-performing loans and strong earnings. The Indian financial sector remained strong and resilient amidst global headwinds. Banks and NBFCs reinforced their capital and liquidity buffers, while improving their asset quality. Bank credit growth decelerated and moved closer to deposit growth, narrowing the gap between both. The credit expansion by NBFCs was supported by improving credit quality and strong capital buffers. A favourable interest rate environment, conditioned by monetary policy easing, is expected to catalyse credit offtake, going forward. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Post-pandemic, bank loan growth was largely driven by lending to the retail and services sector, particularly through unsecured retail loans and lending to the NBFCs. Pursuant to the RBI's decision to increase risk weights on certain segments of consumer credit and bank lending to the NBFCs, loan growth in these two sectors has fallen sharply, contributing to a slowdown in total loan growth. Overall, a more cautious approach by lenders, improvement in lending standards, and the restoration of risk weights on bank lending to NBFCs are stability-enhancing and credit positive. Notwithstanding the solid performance of banks during the last three years, they could face some pressure in the near-term: (1) easing monetary policy cycle could impact the net interest margin ("NIM") as growing share of loan book is linked to the external benchmark-based lending rate ("EBLR"), which is reset more frequently with change in repo rate. On the other hand, term deposits, which are also growing, have fixed contractual rates that change less frequently. The recent 100 bps cut in CRR, however, will cushion this impact by releasing funds for banks and reducing their costs; (2) credit growth has slowed, and credit impulse has turned negative. Economic slowdown, if any, amidst heightened uncertainty could drag credit demand lower, which may impact asset quality and profitability; and (3) banks' liability profile is changing with the share of higher-cost term deposits and CDs growing compared to low-cost current account and savings account ("CASA") deposits. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

SCBs' aggregate deposits grew at 10.7% (y-o-y) during 2024-2025, notwithstanding a deceleration in respect of private sector banks ("PVBs") and foreign banks ("FBs"). Growth in term deposits continued to outpace that in current and savings account deposits. As on June 13, 2025, SCBs' y-o-y deposits growth stood at 10.5%. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

SCBs' credit growth decelerated in 2024-2025 across bank groups. Credit growth of public sector banks ("PSBs") outpaced that of PVBs during the year, after more than a decade. As on June 13, 2025, y-o-y credit growth of SCBs moderated to 9.6%. The shares of agricultural and industrial loans in aggregate credit have contracted, while those of services and personal loans have expanded over the last fiscal year. Growth (y-o-y) in agriculture, services and personal loans has moderated over the last few quarters, while a marginal uptick is observed in the growth of industrial loans in March 2025. Personal loans and services loans continued to remain the top two contributors to the overall credit growth of SCBs. Despite a broad deceleration in bank credit growth, the share of credit to the micro, small and medium enterprises ("MSME") sector in total non-food bank credit has been growing steadily and its growth has outpaced that in other sectors during 2024-25. Within the MSME sector, however, credit to the micro enterprises, which formed 49.0% of total credit to the MSME sector, witnessed slower incremental growth in 2024-25 compared to small and medium enterprises. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

SCBs continued to record improvement in their asset quality, with the gross non-performing asset ("GNPA") ratio and net non-performing asset ("NNPA") ratio declining to multi-decadal lows of 2.3% and 0.5%, respectively. The half-yearly slippage ratio, measuring new accretions to NPAs as a share of standard advances at the beginning of the half-year, remained stable at 0.7%. The provisioning coverage ratio (PCR) of SCBs at 76.3% in March 2025 was marginally lower than that in September 2024. The write-offs to GNPA ratio for SCBs moved up marginally to 31.8% in 2024-25 from 29.5% in the previous year, led by PVBs and FBs, while write-offs by PSBs exhibited a marginal decline. Disaggregation of NPA movements revealed that write-offs were a major component of NPA reduction over the last 5 years. Even as unsecured retail lending has moderated – it forms 25.0% of retail loans and 8.3% of gross advances – its asset quality has relatively weakened compared to the overall retail portfolio - GNPA ratio at 1.8% vis-à-vis 1.2% in March 2025 - especially in respect of PVBs. On the other hand, the Special Mention Account ("SMA") ratio, an indicator of possible stress build-up in loan book, has risen, led by PSBs. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Performance – Assets and Earnings

Bank deposits grew (y-o-y) by 10.6% during Fiscal 2025 as compared to 13.0%, in the previous year. Household sector accounted for the largest share of SCB's deposits at 60.2%; the share of female depositors was 20.7% in March 2025. Branches in metropolitan areas, which constituted the dominant share in deposits, recorded 11.7% annual growth in March 2025; whereas rural, semi-urban and urban centres registered 10.1%, 8.9%, and 9.3% annual growth, respectively. The higher returns on term deposits led to higher accretion in such deposits as compared to other type of deposits; the share of saving deposits declined to 29.1% in March 2025 as compared to 30.8% a year ago and 33.0% two years ago. Nearly 68.4% of term deposits were having the original maturity of one to three as on March 2025. The share of term deposits bearing interest rate of '7% and above' increased and stood at 72.7% in March 2025 as compared to 64.2% a year ago and 33.5% two years ago. The share of term deposits of size 'Rs. one crore and above' increased to 45.1% in March 2025 from 43.7% in March 2024. The share of senior citizens' deposits was 20.2% of total deposits as on March 2025 (Source: RBI – BSR 2: Deposits with Scheduled Commercial Banks - March 2025 dated May 30, 2025).

Bank credit growth (y-o-y) decelerated to 11.1% in March 2025 from 15.3% (net of merger) in the previous financial year. The deceleration in credit growth (y-o-y) was observed across all bank groups during Fiscal 2025. Private sector banks witnessed the steepest decline to 9.5% in March 2025 after a sustained credit growth above 15% for the preceding three years. With higher credit growth in rural, semi-urban and urban areas compared to metropolitan area, the share of metropolitan branches in total credit declined to 58.7% in March 2025 from 63.5% five years ago. The growth in personal loans, though moderated sharply to 13.2%, continued to outpace headline credit growth, which has led to an increase in their share to 31.0% (24.1% five years ago). Share of housing loans bearing interest rate 9% and above came down to 36.8% in March 2025 from 54.5% a year ago which signifies decline in cost of housing loans. Consumer durables and other personal loans accounted for nearly one third of total personal loans; the share of these loans bearing interest rate 11% and above has declined to 47.4% in March 2025 from 50.3% in the previous year. Loans to industry accounted for nearly one fourth of total bank credit and increased at a (y-o-y) rate of 9.4% in March 2025, down from 10.4% a year earlier. The share of Individuals in total credit maintained its increasing momentum and stood at 47.8% in March 2025 as compared to 41.5% in March 2020. Within individuals, the share of female borrowers also gradually rose to 23.8% from 22.0% in the said period (Source: RBI – BSR -1: Outstanding Credit of Scheduled Commercial Banks – March 2025 dated May 30, 2025).

The profitability of SCBs remained strong in 2024-2025, with profit after tax (“PAT”) increasing by 16.9% (y-o-y). PAT of PSBs recorded a robust growth of 31.8%, compared to much lower growth (9.2%) for PVBs. PSBs’ higher profitability was primarily driven by a rise in their other operating income. On the other hand, higher growth in operating expenses was the key contributor to the relatively lower profitability of PVBs. NIM declined driven by cost of funds even as yield on assets has remained stable. Both return on equity (RoE) and return on assets (RoA) ratios have declined in March 2025. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Asset Quality and Capital Adequacy

As of March 2025, the capital to risk weighted assets ratio (“CRAR”) of SCBs increased to a record high of 17.3%. All bank groups reported higher CRAR in March 2025, compared to their September 2024 positions. The increase in CRAR during the quarter ending March 2025 can be attributed to higher growth in total capital relative to the growth in RWA during this period. CET1 capital ratio also increased across bank groups, indicating accretion of high-quality capital by banks. The overall tier 1 leverage ratio remained stable at 7.9%. SCBs continued to record improvement in their asset quality, with the GNPA ratio and NNPA ratio declining to multi-decadal lows of 2.3% and 0.5%, respectively. The half-yearly slippage ratio, measuring new accretions to NPAs as a share of standard advances at the beginning of the half-year, remained stable at 0.7%. The provisioning coverage ratio (“PCR”) of SCBs at 76.3% in March 2025 was marginally lower than that in September 2024. The write-offs to GNPA ratio for SCBs moved up marginally to 31.8% in 2024-25 from 29.5% in the previous year, led by PVBs and FBs, while write-offs by PSBs exhibited a marginal decline. Disaggregation of NPA movements revealed that write-offs were a major component of NPA reduction over the last 5 years. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Sectoral Asset Quality

SCBs' asset quality exhibited broad-based improvement across bank groups in all major sectors, in terms of both GNPA ratio and stressed advances ratio. Agriculture sector continued to record the highest GNPA ratio and was the major contributor to the overall stock of GNPA. In the personal loans segment, asset quality remained broadly stable across major subsegments. Within the industrial sector, asset quality exhibited sustained improvement across all sub-sectors. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Slippages in unsecured retail loans remain elevated for PVBs. Fresh slippage in unsecured retail loans continues to dominate the overall slippage in retail loan segment with PVBs' contribution significantly higher among bank groups. Alongside, write-offs continue to remain a key contributing factor to NPA reduction in the unsecured retail portfolio, especially among PVBs. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Even as loan growth to consumer segment slowed down, the quality of the portfolio has improved. Delinquency levels, except credit cards, have decreased, upgradations from SMA-2 accounts have risen, and slippages from SMA-2 accounts have fallen. The GNPA ratio of the SCBs' consumer segment loans stood at 1.4% in March 2025. Moreover, in a sign of improving underwriting standards, the share of borrowers rated prime and above increased for both PSBs and PVBs. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Asset quality has shown improvement with gross NPA ratio of MSME portfolio of SCBs falling from 4.5% in March 2024 to 3.6% as at end-March 2025. This is also reflected in the significant moderation in SMA-2 ratio, an indicator of incipient stress. In terms of amount outstanding, the share of sub-prime borrowers in the MSME portfolio of the SCBs has decreased from 33.5% in June 2022 to 23.3% in March 2025. PSBs, however, had a higher share of sub-prime borrowers in their MSME portfolio compared to PVBs and NBFCs. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

The ratio of stressed assets in the microfinance sector increased in H2:2024-25, with 31-180 days past due rising from 4.3% in September 2024 to 6.2% in March 2025. The banking sector also saw an increase in stress in their microfinance loan book with 31-180 days past due rising from 4.7% in September 2024 to 6.5% in March 2025. However, borrower indebtedness, measured by the share of borrowers availing loans from three or more lenders, is showing a declining trend. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Overall, the resilience of the banking system has improved, as indicated by the banking stability indicator, which strengthened during H2:2024-2025. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Credit Quality of Large Borrowers

The credit quality of larger borrowers has improved steadily over the last few years and their share in total GNPA of SCBs stood at 37.5% in March 2025, while their share in overall credit of SCBs stood at 43.9%. The large borrower cohort's GNPA ratio declined from 3.8% in September 2023 to 1.9% in March 2025. On a quarter-on-quarter (q-o-q) basis, while volume of

SMA-1 loans increased, that of SMA-0 and SMA-2 loans and NPAs declined during March 2025 quarter. Correspondingly, SMA-2 ratio of large borrowers, that rose significantly in September 2024, led by PSBs, recorded a sharp decline in March 2025. The proportion of standard assets to total funded amount outstanding has consistently improved over the past few years, reaffirming the positive shift in asset quality. The share of top 100 borrowers in total advances of SCBs remained stable at 15.2% in March 2025 and none of them were classified as NPA. (Source: RBI - Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Capital Adequacy & Liquidity

As of March 2025, the CRAR of SCBs increased to a record high of 17.3%. All bank groups reported higher CRAR in March 2025, compared to their September 2024 positions. The increase in CRAR during the quarter ending March 2025 can be attributed to higher growth in total capital relative to the growth in RWA during this period. CET1 capital ratio also increased across bank groups, indicating accretion of high-quality capital by banks. The overall tier 1 leverage ratio remained stable at 7.9%. (Source: RBI - Financial Stability Report, June 2025) SCBs have further improved their liquidity positions in March 2025, as evident from the strengthening of both liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) and net stable funding ratio (NSFR). Both LCR and NSFR have been comfortably above the regulatory minimum of 100% across bank groups. (Source: RBI - Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

Resilience – Macro Stress Tests

Macro stress tests aim to assess the resilience of the banking system to macroeconomic shocks. The tests project capital ratios of banks under three scenarios - a baseline and two adverse macro scenarios over a two-year horizon, incorporating credit risk, market risk and interest rate risk in the banking book in the framework. The capital projections do not take into account any further planned recapitalisation by stake-holders or any future regulatory changes. While the Baseline Scenario is derived from the forecasted path of macroeconomic variables, the two Adverse Scenarios are hypothetical stringent stress scenarios derived by performing simulations using a VARX model (i) Adverse Scenario 1 (Geopolitical risk scenario): This scenario assumes a volatile global environment with heightened geopolitical risks and escalation of global financial market volatility. Supply chain disruptions adversely affect the commodity prices leading to rise in domestic inflation. The scenario further assumes that the domestic monetary policy tightens and the spread between lending rates and policy rate widens due to market instability. (ii) Adverse Scenario 2 (Global growth slowdown scenario): This scenario assumes a synchronized sharp growth slowdown in key global economies. Spillovers through trade and financial channels as well as market fragmentation dent domestic GDP growth. As a result, monetary policy eases to support growth. The scenario further assumes widening of lending spread due to higher uncertainty. The macro stress tests results emphasise the resilience of SCBs to macroeconomic shocks. (Source: RBI - Financial Stability Report, June 2025)

The results revealed that the aggregate CRAR of 46 major SCBs may marginally dip to 17.0% by March 2027 from 17.2% in March 2025, under the Baseline Scenario. It may decline to 14.2% under Adverse Scenario 1, and to 14.6% under Adverse Scenario 2. However, none of the banks would fall short of the regulatory minimum requirement of 9% even under the Adverse Scenarios. The CET1 capital ratio of the select 46 banks may rise from 14.6% in March 2025 to 15.2% by March 2027 under the Baseline Scenario. However, it may fall to 12.5% under Adverse Scenario 1, and to 12.9% under Adverse Scenario 2. None of the banks would breach the regulatory minimum requirement of 5.5% under any of these scenarios. The aggregate GNPA ratio of the 46 banks may marginally rise from 2.3% in March 2025 to 2.5% in March 2027 under the Baseline Scenario and to 5.6% and 5.3%, under Adverse Scenario 1 and Adverse Scenario 2, respectively. ### Shift towards a Digital and Cashless Economy

The GoI is taking steps to promote a cashless economy such as its flagship ‘Digital India’ program, which envisions transforming India into a digitally empowered society and knowledge economy. As part of promoting cashless transactions, various modes of digital payment are available, including debit cards, credit cards, mobile banking, point of sale, unified payments interface and forex cards. (Source: RBI Annual Report – 2019-20)

For instance, the volume (in terms of number of transfers) of RTGS, IMPS, NEFT, UPI transfers were 302.5 million, 5,625.0 million, 9,619.8 million, and 185,866.0 million, respectively, in Financial Year 2024- 2025, up from 270.0 million, 6,005.3 million, 7,264.0 million, and 131,129.5 million, respectively in Financial Year 2023- 2024. The value of RTGS, IMPS, NEFT and UPI transfers were ₹ 2,013,900 billion, ₹ 71,400 billion, ₹ 443,600 billion and ₹ 260,600 billion, respectively, in Financial Year 2024- 2025, compared to ₹ 1,708,900 billion, ₹ 65,000 billion, ₹ 391,400 billion and ₹ 20,000 billion, respectively, in Financial Year 2023- 2024. (Source: RBI Annual Report – 2024-2025).

The RBI is also engaged in introduction of Digital Rupee (“e₹”), the Central Bank Digital Currency (“CBDC”) in India. It is similar to the physical currency in terms of being a legal tender, accepted as a medium of payment and a safe store of value. The e₹ will provide an additional form of money to be used by the public. (Source: RBI – Financial Stability Report Issue No. 26, December 2022). Additionally, the RBI plans to expand access to CBDC wallets to a broader customer base by allowing non-bank payment system operators to offer them.

Recently, the RBI has also proposed to set up a Digital Payments Intelligence Platform which will harness advanced technologies to mitigate payment fraud risks, and to bring recurring payments such as Fastag, NCMC, UPI Lite, etc. within the ambit of the e-mandate framework by introducing an auto-replenishment facility for such payments. (Source: RBI Statement on Developmental and Regulatory Policies, June 19, 2024).

To mitigate the attendant risks like algorithmic bias, explainability of decisions, data privacy, etc., it proposed to constitute a committee to develop a Framework for Responsible and Ethical Enablement of AI (FREE-AI) in the Financial Sector. The Committee will comprise of experts from diverse fields and shall recommend a robust, comprehensive, and adaptable AI framework for the financial sector. The details of the committee will be notified separately. Furthermore, the Reserve Bank has been taking various measures in coordination with banks and other stakeholders to prevent and mitigate digital frauds in the financial sector. These include RBI guidelines to regulated entities for strengthening cybersecurity, cyber fraud prevention and transaction monitoring. (Source: RBI Statement on Developmental and Regulatory Policies, December 06, 2024)

Certain Key Banking Business Sectors

MSME Sector

Both public and private sector banks increased their lending to the MSME sector in Fiscal 2024. The strong growth, despite the expiry of the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (“ECLGS”), introduced during the COVID-19 pandemic, points to the underlying growth momentum of the sector.

In the Union Budget for Fiscal 2024, the government announced the revamping of credit guarantee scheme for micro and small enterprises with effect from April 1, 2023, with an infusion of ₹ 90,000 million to the corpus to enable additional collateral-free guaranteed credit of ₹ 2,000 billion and the reduction in the cost of the credit by about 1.00%. Besides, the limit on ceiling for guarantees has been enhanced from ₹ 20 million to ₹ 50 million (Source: RBI Annual Report - 2023-2024)

The Union Budget 2025-2026 introduced a series of measures aimed at strengthening the MSME sector. The credit guarantee cover for micro and small enterprises has been increased from ₹5 crore to ₹10 crore, enabling additional credit of ₹1.5 lakh crore over five years. Startups will see their guarantee cover double from ₹10 crore to ₹20 crore, with a reduced fee of 1% for loans in 27 priority sectors. Exporter MSMEs will benefit from term loans up to ₹20 crore with enhanced guarantee cover. (Source: Press Information Bureau - Budget 2025-26: Fuelling MSME Expansion – posted on 4th Feb 2025)

Priority Sector - I

The PSL for SCBs stood at 43.1% as on March 31, 2025. All bank groups achieved the prescribed PSL target of 40% during Financial Year 2024- 2025. (Source: RBI Annual Report 2024-2025)

Developments and Reforms in the Banking Sector

Implementation of the Basel III Capital Regulations

The RBI has issued guidelines based on the Basel III reforms on capital regulation to the extent applicable to banks operating in India. These guidelines require, among other things, higher levels of Tier I Capital and common equity, a capital conservation buffer (“CCB”), maintenance of a minimum prescribed leverage ratio on a quarterly basis, higher deductions from common equity and Tier I Capital for investments in subsidiaries and changes in the structure of non-equity instruments eligible for inclusion in Tier I and Tier II capital.

In December 2010, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision issued a comprehensive reform package for capital regulations (Basel III). The objective of the reform package is to improve the banking sector’s ability to absorb shocks arising from financial and economic stress, thus reducing the risk of spill over from the financial sector to the real economy. (Source: RBI – Guidelines on Implementation of Basel III Capital Regulations in India)

The Basel III capital regulations were implemented in India with effect from April 1, 2013 and have been fully implemented as on October 1, 2021. Banks shall maintain a minimum Pillar 1 capital to risk-weighted assets ratio of 9% on an on-going basis (other than CCB and countercyclical capital buffer amongst others). Common Equity Tier 1 capital must be at least 5.5% of risk-weighted assets (“RWAs”). Tier 1 capital must be at least 7% of RWAs on an ongoing basis. Thus, within the minimum Tier 1 capital, Additional Tier 1 capital can be admitted maximum at 1.5% of RWAs. ### The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (Second Amendment) Act, 2020

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (Second Amendment) Act, 2020 (effective June 5, 2020) provides a time-bound process for resolving insolvency in companies and among individuals. The Act seeks to temporarily suspend initiation of the CIRP under the IBC. The Act provides that, for defaults arising during the six months from March 25, 2020, the CIRP can never be initiated by either the company or its creditors. The central government may extend this period to one year by way of a notification. The Act clarifies that, during this period, the CIRP can be initiated for any defaults arising before March 25, 2020. Under the IBC, a Director or Partner of the corporate debtor may be liable to make personal contributions to the assets of the company in certain situations. This liability can occur if, despite knowing that the insolvency proceedings could not be avoided, the person did not exercise due diligence in minimizing potential loss to the creditors. The resolution professional may apply to the National Company Law Tribunal to hold such persons liable. The resolution professional is appointed to manage the resolution process upon the acceptance of an application for initiation of the CIRP. The Act prohibits the resolution professional from filing such an application in relation to the defaults for which initiation of the CIRP has been prohibited. #### Rural Business (Outreach) / Financial Inclusion

The Bank continues to focus on rural banking as a key driver of future growth. It has been involved in extending banking facilities to rural areas in India even before such requirements became mandatory for banks. It is also an active participant in financial inclusion programs.

Rural banking requires an innovative approach in respect of delivery of services in remote areas to a population with low financial literacy, and involves a large number of small-value transactions. In order to cater to rural customer needs, the Bank has developed alternative delivery channels for banking services and products through the business correspondent model. As of March 31, 2025, the Bank had engaged over 77,251 customer service points with business correspondents in rural areas.

Pursuant to the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (“PMJDY”) scheme launched by the GoI on August 15, 2014, to ensure access to basic finance services to weaker sections and low income groups, the Bank has opened 151 million accounts as of March 31, 2025. ## Competition

The Indian banking industry is highly competitive, and we face competition in all our principal areas of business. Private sector banks, foreign banks and other public sector banks are our main competitors, followed closely by finance companies, insurance companies, asset and wealth management companies, development financial institutions, mutual funds and investment banks.

We may also face increased competition from foreign banks if the Indian retail market is further liberalized or if regulations and restrictions upon branch network growth by foreign banks are simplified or reduced, foreign banks may operate in India by establishing wholly owned subsidiaries which are allowed to raise Rupee resources through issue of non-equity capital instruments. Further, under the foreign exchange regulations, an aggregate foreign investment of up to 49.00% under the automatic route, and 74.00% under the government approval route, in Indian private sector banks is allowed, subject to government approval. For public sector banks, subject to the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, foreign direct investment of up to 20% under the government approval route is permitted.

An increase in operations of existing competitors or entry of additional banks offering a similar or a wider range of products and services could increase competition. In addition, the moderation of growth in the Indian banking sector is expected to lead to greater competition for business opportunities. The GoI is also actively encouraging banks and other financial institutions to significantly increase their lending to the agricultural sector, which will make this segment more competitive. We seek to gain a competitive advantage by its innovative products and services, maximizing the functions of its extensive branch network, in particular in rural and semi-urban areas, investing in technology and building on relationships with our key customers.

Corporate Banking

Corporate banking faces competition from foreign banks, private banks and other public sector banks in such areas as pricing, Rupee loans, foreign currency loans, foreign exchange transactions, trade finance services and cash management services. The lower risk rating of corporate clients, as well as the higher income generating capacity due to the volume and diversity of their business, attracts foreign and private banks to this sector. Foreign banks also have the advantage of their home country connections, with much larger and cost effective resource raising abilities. However, the Bank believes its extensive low-cost deposit base in India and its large branch network in India and abroad provides it with a competitive advantage in meeting customers' borrowing expectations. In addition, traditional corporate banking faces competition from the disintermediation of financial products. Customers increasingly have multiple financing sources available to them beyond those generally provided by traditional banks, which in turn is putting pressure on margins. The Bank believes that it has been able to manage this competition through strong customer relationships, as well as through efficient and focused delivery of products and services in areas such as trade finance services, including letters of credit. To further counter the downward pressure on margins, the Bank intends to focus on developing fee-based services, such as supply chain financing and wholesale banking services such as payment and collections services through its CMP platform and other associated services through its Joint Ventures.

Retail Banking

In the retail banking sector, the Bank faces competition primarily from foreign and Indian commercial banks and housing finance companies. Foreign banks typically focus on limited customer segments, such as high net worth individuals and affluent locations due to limitations of their smaller branch networks relative to Indian commercial banks. Indian commercial banks generally have wider distribution networks than foreign banks, but relatively weaker technology and marketing capability. The Bank seeks to compete in this sector by offering a wide product portfolio through its extensive branch network and by leveraging its client relationships in diverse market and geographic segments. Competition in this area is also likely to increase with the proposed introduction of small finance banks and payments banks in the private sector in the banking industry.

The Bank seeks to leverage its extensive and diverse corporate relationships to gain individual customer accounts through payroll management products. Furthermore, it intends to continue to pursue a multi-channel distribution strategy using physical branches, ATMs, call centers and the internet to reach customers. The Bank also seeks to address competitive pressure by offering a wider range of mutual fund products to its customers in addition to traditional deposits.

International Banking

The Bank's international strategy is focused on India-linked opportunities, and the Bank also intends to expand its banking operations to serve non-resident Indians as well as local clients in these jurisdictions. In its international operations, the Bank faces competition from other Indian banks with international operations, as well as foreign banks with products and services targeted at non-resident Indians and Indian businesses and other service providers.

Insurance

The Bank's standard insurance policies cover for losses of or damage to property including premises, furniture, fixtures, computer hardware and ATMs. Precious metals and other valuables are covered against theft, burglary, house breaking robbery and natural calamities. The Bank also has a standard fire and special perils policy. The Bank's insurance policies include a banker's indemnity insurance policy. In addition, the Bank has directors' and officers' liability insurance which covers all claims arising out of discharge of duties as the Bank's directors and officers. The Bank carries insurance coverage commensurate with its level of operations and risk perception, including for business interruption.

Environment, Social and Governance

We believe that true business sustainability means creating value that goes beyond what is reflected in financial statements. While tangible assets are essential, we also place significant emphasis on intangible value, considering the broader spectrum of stakeholders, including society and the environment.

We value creation is central to our philosophy, leading us to integrate Environmental, Social, and Governance ("ESG") factors into every aspect of our operations. Embracing sustainable development not only aligns with our vision but also offers the opportunity to conduct business in an innovative and responsible manner, ensuring long-term viability.

We have implemented an extensive suite of ESG practices as detailed below.

Environmental

As part of the Bank's sustainability efforts, the Bank has set a target to achieve net zero greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions across Scopes 1, 2, and 3 by 2055, with interim goals to become carbon neutral in internal operations (Scopes 1 and 2) by 2030. The Bank also is targeting that at least 7.50% of its domestic gross advances are to be green by 2030, and have made efforts to ensure sustainability by disclosing and reducing its carbon footprint, including portfolio emissions and climate risks. As at March 31, 2025, 4,534 of the Bank's buildings (branches/offices/ATMs) are equipped with solar rooftop installations with aggregate capacity of over 31 MW, which contributes to the Bank being able to avoid 61,400 tCO<sub>2</sub>e emissions annually with such use of renewable energy. The Bank's private cloud, Meghdoot, integrates with public cloud services, combining security and scalability, using just 8.00% of the data centre footprint while hosting 76.00% of applications, reducing carbon emissions and supporting ESG initiatives.

Social

The Bank hosts a wide array of social initiatives. Among others, during Fiscal 2023, the Bank contributed ₹ 240.00 million for the construction and setting up of an orthopaedic wing in support for the multi-speciality hospital being built in the IISC, Bengaluru campus. The Bank has also provided additional support with an amount of ₹ 39.00 million during Fiscal 2025 for procurement and setting up of medical instruments at ENT wing of the hospital. The Bank has also set up 153 Rural Self Employment Training Institutes ("RSETIs") which offer vocational training, entrepreneurship support, and financial literacy to youth, women, and marginalised groups. In Fiscal 2025, the Bank arranged vocational training exclusively for women, where 5,200 women across India were provided with such training.

Governance

The Bank has implemented several governance policies to enhance transparency and accountability. These include the Whistle Blower Policy, Customer Rights, Grievance Redressal and Compensation Policy and Equal Opportunity Policy.

Employees

As of March 31, 2025, the Bank had 236,226 employees (including employees posted at foreign offices) of whom 48.71% were officers, 39.83% were clerical staff, and 11.46% were subordinate staff. The Bank continues to focus on a collaborative culture and consultative process at various levels of administration within the Bank to ensure amicable relations with its employees.

A career development system ("CDS"), known as 'Saksham' was launched in Fiscal 2016 with the objective of providing a scientific and objective approach towards performance measurement of employees and resource planning at all levels in the Bank. The CDS provides for transparency and is designed to provide an opportunity for providing a systematic, dynamic and progressive career plan to the individual. The CDS is intended to be an effective tool for promotion, incentives and rewards for the Bank's employees.

To maintain best-in-class HR practices, the Bank reviews the CDS policy annually. Recent enhancements include:

- Performance Improvement Plans (PIPs) to support employee growth.
- Team Performance KRAs to foster collaboration.
- KRA Grouping for better goal alignment.
- Cost-to-Income Ratio for financial efficiency.
- Green Advances Budget Achievement to support ESG and climate finance goals.
- Data Quality Index (DQI) with real-time tracking (e.g. ageing scores, TAT adherence).

Currently, 89% of employees under CDS are evaluated using objective, data-backed KRAs, applied consistently up to the Deputy Managing Director level.

In 2023, The Bank launched its first Employee Engagement Survey, Abhyuday, gathering insights across all levels to identify strengths and improvement areas. Based on the findings, several strategic initiatives were introduced, including the Employee Happiness Survey, LEAP, Abhivridhi, Employee Contribution Score Dashboard, Team Key Result Area ("KRA") Implementation, Super SBI and SBI ACE.

Launched on January 26, 2025, SBI ACE (Achievement, Celebration, and Empowerment) empowers employees to celebrate achievements and milestones, creating a culture of appreciation and shared success. During Fiscal 2025, The Bank conducted a comprehensive skill development programme, Abhivridhi – Grooming Leadership and Rebuilding State Bank Culture, for mid-management officials including Regional Managers, AGMs, and Branch Heads.

The Ethics and Business Control Department of the Bank was established in 2017 under the management of the Bank's Chief Ethics Officer, who plays a major role in maintaining business ethics in the Bank.

Human capital is the most critical component for the Bank to achieve its strategic corporate goals. The Bank's HR policy is being constantly reviewed to align with its business goals. The Bank's HR vision has been built around the principles of inclusiveness, empowerment and development. The Bank has also commenced various initiatives for the benefit of its employees to promote a healthy work-life balance.

The Bank has also rolled out the scheme called "SBI Gems" to honor employee achievements digitally. The Bank also launched the "SANJEEVANI-SBI HR" helpline, a multimodal and integrated platform for addressing employee concerns efficiently and transparently.

The majority and representative unions in the Bank, are the All India State Bank Officers' Federation ("AISBOF") and All India State Bank of India Staff Federation ("AISBISF"). During Fiscal 2025, there were no instances where strikes were carried out involving AISBOF and AISBISF. ## REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

The following description is a summary of certain sector specific laws and regulations in India, which are applicable to the Bank. The information detailed in this section has been obtained from publications available in the public domain. The regulations set out below may not be exhaustive, and are only intended to provide general information to the investors and are neither designed nor intended to substitute for professional legal advice or a detailed review of the relevant laws and regulations.

Our Statutory Framework

The primary legislation governing commercial banks in India is the Banking Regulation Act. The provisions of the Banking Regulation Act are in addition to and not, unless expressly stated otherwise therein, in derogation of any other law for the time being in force. The Bank has been constituted and is governed by the provisions of the SBI Act and the SBI General Regulations. Certain provisions of the Banking Regulation Act are also applicable to the Bank. Other important laws relevant to banks in India, including the Bank, include the RBI Act, the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, as amended, the FEMA and the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891, as amended. The Bank is a scheduled commercial bank as per the provisions of the RBI Act. Additionally, the RBI periodically issues guidelines, regulations, policies, notifications, press releases and circulars, which the Bank is required to follow. The RBI supervises the Bank's compliance with the applicable laws and regulations.

The SBI Act

The Bank has been constituted under the SBI Act to facilitate the execution of public policies related to banking and finance, such as the large-scale extension of banking facilities throughout the country, with particular emphasis on the extension of such facilities in rural and semi-urban areas. Under the SBI Act, the Bank shall be guided by such directions in matters of policy involving public interest as the Government may, in consultation with the governor of the RBI and the chairman of the Bank, prescribe.

The Bank is managed by the Central Board, which consists of the Chairman and not more than four Managing Directors, each appointed by the Government in consultation with the RBI; elected directors of the shareholders; one director each from the employees of the Bank who are workmen as well as who are not workmen to be appointed by the Government; other nominee directors appointed by the Government from among persons having special knowledge of the working of cooperative institutions and of rural economy or experience in commerce, industry, banking or finance; one director to be nominated by the Government; and, one director possessing necessary experience in matters relating to regulation or supervision of commercial banks to be nominated by the Government on the recommendation of the RBI.

According to the SBI Act, the Bank must act as an agent of the RBI at all places where it has a branch, if so required by the RBI. Further, the accounts of the Bank must be audited by external statutory auditors appointed by the Bank with the previous approval of the RBI. If the Government desires, it may appoint auditors to examine and report on the Bank's accounts. Also, according to Section 45 of the SBI Act, the provisions of law relating to the winding up of companies do not apply to the Bank and the Bank cannot be placed in liquidation except by order of the Government.

The SBI Act was amended with effect from June 29, 2007 by the State Bank of India (Amendment) Act 2007 to effect a total transfer of the RBI's shareholding of the Bank to the Government.

Further, the SBI Act was amended with effect from September 15, 2010 by the State Bank of India (Amendment) Act, 2010. Some salient features of the SBI Act, after the said amendment, are as follows:

- a) the Bank may raise capital through the issue of preference shares by public issue, rights issue, preferential allotment or private placement, with the previous approval of the RBI and the Central Government;
- b) the Government's minimum required shareholding of the Bank's issued capital is reduced from 55.00% to 51.00%;
- c) the Central Board may increase the issued capital of the Bank by the issue of bonus shares to existing equity shareholders in such manner as the Government may, after consultation with the RBI, direct;
- d) the exercise of voting rights by preference shareholders is restricted to resolutions directly affecting the rights of preference shareholders;
- e) the voting rights of preference shareholders other than the Government are restricted to a ceiling of 10.00% of the total voting rights of all shareholders holding only preference share capital;
- f) the Government, in consultation with the RBI, may appoint up to four Managing Directors to the Central Board;
- g) the RBI may appoint additional directors whenever necessary in the interest of banking policy or in the public interest or in the interests of the Bank or its depositors;
- h) the Government may supersede the Central Board in certain cases on the recommendation of the RBI, for a period not exceeding 6 months which may be extended provided that the total period shall not exceed 12 months and may appoint an administrator for such period as it may determine;
- i) the Bank may accept instalment payments, make calls, and forfeit and re-issue unpaid shares;

- j) a person registered as a holder in his own right of unencumbered shares in the Bank, either as sole holder or as first named holder when jointly held, of a nominal value of at least 5,000 can contest an election for a directorship of the Bank; and
- k) the Bank may transfer any unpaid or unclaimed dividends, if not claimed or paid within 30 days from the date of declaration of dividend, to the 'unpaid dividend account' within 7 days from the date of expiry of the said period of 30 days and thereafter to the 'Investor Education and Protection Fund' if it remains unpaid or unclaimed for a period of 7 years from the date of transfer to the unpaid dividend account.

The State Bank of India General Regulations, 1955 (the "SBI General Regulations")

Section 50 of the SBI Act empowers the Central Board of the Bank, after consultation with the Reserve Bank and with the previous sanction of the Central Government to make regulations for all matters for giving effect to the provisions of the SBI Act and in particular to the specific items mentioned in the said section. Accordingly, the SBI General Regulations was formulated in accordance with the SBI Act.

The SBI General Regulations contain specific provisions dealing with matters related to, inter alia, the shares and share register of the Bank; safeguards to be provided in maintaining the register of shareholders in computers; meeting of shareholders; voting rights of shareholders; election of directors; meetings and related matters of the Central Board and its executive committee; jurisdiction of local head offices of the Bank; local boards and its committees; remuneration of directors and local board members; loans and advances to directors, employees, etc.; execution of documents by the Bank and signing power of officials of the Bank; and, payment of dividend by the Bank, etc.

The Bank's relationships with the Government and the RBI

The Bank has relationships with the Government and the RBI in several contexts as described below.

The Government as majority shareholder

The Government purchased the RBI's entire shareholding in the Bank on June 29, 2007 and the President of India, acting through the Ministry of Finance, Government of India is the Bank's Promoter with a shareholding of approximately 56.92% as of March 31, 2025. The SBI Act provides that the Government shall hold not less than 51.00% of the Bank's Equity Shares.

Statutory powers of the Government under the SBI Act

As the formation and constitution of the Bank is under the SBI Act, it does not have articles or a memorandum of association. However, under the SBI Act, the Government has been given rights and powers typically given to shareholders under typical corporate structures. For example, the Government has the power to increase or reduce the authorised capital of the Bank. The SBI Act also provides that no shareholder other than the Government shall be entitled to exercise voting rights in respect of any shares held in excess of 10.00% of the Bank's issued share capital.

The SBI Act and the regulations thereunder provide the Government and the RBI with certain additional rights in respect of the Bank. For instance, the SBI Act expressly provides that the Bank shall be guided in matters of policy involving public interest by such directions as the Central Government may, in consultation with the Governor of RBI and the Chairman of the Bank. Further, the Government also nominates a director, on the recommendation of the RBI, to the Central Board, under Section 19(f) of the SBI Act. The Chairman and a maximum of four managing directors are directly appointed by the Government in consultation with the RBI. The Government has the power to remove any director from the Central Board.

As per Section 24A of the SBI Act, if the Government, on the recommendations of the RBI, is satisfied that in the public interest or for preventing the affairs of the Bank being conducted in a manner detrimental to the interest of the depositors or the Bank or for securing the proper management of the Bank, the Government is empowered to supersede the Central Board for a period not exceeding six months, which can be further extended for a total period not exceeding twelve months. In case of such supersession of the Central Board, the Government, in consultation with the RBI, shall appoint an administrator, who shall exercise all the powers of the Central Board. Further, in case of such supersession, the Chairman, Managing Directors and other directors of the Bank shall vacate their office. The Government is also empowered to constitute a committee of three or more persons having experience in law, finance, banking, economics or accountancy to assist the administrator in the discharge of his duties. The Government has also passed the State Bank of India Administrator (Salary and Allowances) Rules, 2013 and the State Bank of India Committee (Procedure) Rules, 2013, vide notification dated July 11, 2013 for the purpose of prescribing the salary and allowances of the administrator and the members of the committee to assist the administrator and also in respect of the procedure of the meetings of the committee. Additionally, the Government has also passed The State Bank of India (Appointment of Employee Directors) Rules, 1974 vide notification dated June 29, 1974 for the purposes of governing the appointment of two employee directors to be appointed by the Central Government as required under Section 19(ca) and Section 19 (cb) of the SBI Act.

The Government and the RBI as regulators

The Government and the RBI regulate the banking sector in India. In particular, the RBI has the authority to issue instructions and notifications, which are typically broad in scope, thereby giving the RBI considerable latitude over banks in general, including the Bank. Pursuant to such instructions and notifications, the RBI defines the scope of the Bank's activities and otherwise controls many factors affecting the Bank's competitive position, operations and financial condition. It also has the power to license new banks which may compete with the Bank.

The RBI and its Regulations

Section 35A of the Banking Regulation Act gives power to the RBI to issue directions to banking companies generally or to any banking company in particular, as the RBI may deem fit. For instance, the RBI may issue directions: (i) in public interest; (ii) in the interest of banking policy; (iii) to prevent the affairs of any banking company from being conducted in a manner detrimental to the interests of depositors or prejudicial to the interests of the banking company; or (iv) to secure the proper management of any banking company generally. The banking companies are bound to comply with all such directions from the RBI.

The Bank is a body corporate constituted under the SBI Act. By virtue of Section 33 of the SBI Act, the Bank may carry on and transact the business of banking as set out in Section 5 and Section 6 of the Banking Regulation Act. Section 51 of the Banking Regulation Act makes some of the Act's provisions applicable to the Bank. Further, the Bank is also regulated and supervised by the RBI for other matters relating to banking. The RBI requires the Bank to furnish statements, information and certain details relating to its business. The RBI has issued guidelines on several matters including, but not limited to, recognition of income, classification of assets, valuation of investments, maintenance of capital adequacy and provisioning for impaired assets. The RBI has set up a Board for Financial Supervision ("BFS"), under the chairmanship of the Governor of the RBI. The primary objective of the BFS is to undertake consolidated supervision of the financial sector comprising commercial banks, financial institutions and non-bank financial companies. The appointment of the auditors of the Bank is subject to the approval of the RBI. The RBI can direct a special audit in the interest of the depositors or in the public interest.

Restrictions on Investments in a Single Company

A bank may hold shares in a subsidiary company in accordance with the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act. Further the "Investments in subsidiaries and other companies - Guidelines", issued by the RBI on December 12, 2011 and the master circular on "para banking activities" dated July 1, 2015 lays down the framework for banks' investments in companies which are not subsidiaries.

Regulatory Reporting and Examination Procedures

The RBI is empowered under the Banking Regulation Act to call for certain information from a bank as well as to inspect a bank. The RBI monitors prudential parameters at periodic basis.

RBI has introduced the Centralised Information Management System (CIMS) to revolutionize its data handling, analysis, and governance. The system leverages advanced technology to manage big data, enabling powerful data mining, text mining, visual analytics, and statistical analysis. Apart from CIMS, RBI has also launched Daksh—a new suptech initiative aimed at developing an Advanced Supervisory Monitoring System. The application allows for the collection and analysis of data from various sources and the automation of various steps of the supervisory process. Recently in May 2025 the RBI has implemented Mandatory Digital Lending App Reporting. The RBI has mandated all regulated entities to report details of their Digital Lending Apps (DLAs) through the CIMS portal starting May 13, 2025.

RBI has adopted a Risk Based Supervisory (RBS) approach, based on the recommendations of the High-Level Steering Committee (HLSC) for Review of Supervisory Processes of Commercial Banks. RBI's revised supervisory approach is called Supervisory Program for Assessment of Risk and Capital – SPARC. RBI conducts Inspection for Supervisory Evaluation (ISE) of the Bank under Section 35 of Banking Regulation Act, 1949 and shares Inspection and Risk Assessment Report (IRAR) as part of Supervisory Programme for Assessment of Risk and Capital (SPARC). This involves on-site inspection of the Banks on matters relating to the bank's portfolio, risk management systems, governance and oversight, internal controls, credit allocation and regulatory compliance.

Regulations Relating to the Opening of Branches

The opening of new branches and shifting of existing branches of banks are governed by Section 23 of the Banking Regulation Act. Before granting any permission on an annual basis, the RBI may require to be satisfied, by an inspection under Section 35 or otherwise, as to the financial condition and history of the banking company, the general character of its management, the adequacy of its capital structure and earning prospects and that public interest will be served by the opening or, as the case may be, change of location of the existing place of business. The RBI may cancel the license for violations of the conditions under which it was granted.

As per the “Master Circular on Branch Authorization” dated July 1, 2015, banks are not required to obtain licenses from the RBI to open or shift its branches. As per the RBI circular dated October 21, 2013, domestic scheduled commercial banks (other than RRBs) are permitted to open branches in Tier 1 to Tier 6 centres without prior permission from RBI in each case subject to reporting. From September 2005 the process of giving authorization to individual branches was replaced by a system of aggregated approvals on an annual basis. Permission of the RBI is not required for installation of on-site ATMs. Further since June 2009 RBI has permitted installation of off-site ATMs at centres identified by banks, without the need for permission from the RBI in each case.

Additionally, pursuant to a notification dated July 7, 2014 and the issuance of revised guidelines for financial literacy centres dated January 14, 2016, the RBI also set up a reporting system for financial literacy activities conducted by financial literacy centres and rural branches of banks, since rural branches of banks are mandated to conduct a minimum of one financial literacy camp in a month.

Further, RBI has reviewed the instructions regarding merger, closure, shifting, part shifting, opening of extension counters and reporting requirements and issued new instructions with respect to the same pursuant to its circular on ‘Section 23 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 - Relaxations in Branch Authorisation Policy’ dated August 6, 2015. RBI has issued revised guidelines on opening of new place of business and transfer of existing places of business dated May 18, 2017. These guidelines are applicable to all domestic scheduled commercial banks (excluding RRBs), small finance banks and payment banks. Domestic SCBs (other than RRBs) are permitted to open, unless otherwise specifically restricted, banking outlets in tier 1 to tier 6 centres without having the need to take permission from RBI in each case, subject to the conditions mentioned therein. A banking outlet has been defined to mean a fixed point service delivery unit, manned by either the bank’s staff or its business correspondent where services of acceptance of deposits, encashment of cheques / cash withdrawal or lending of money are provided for a minimum of four hours per day for at least five days a week. Additionally, banks having general permission may shift, merge or close all ‘banking outlets’ (except rural outlets and sole semi-urban outlets) at their discretion.

Capital Adequacy Requirements

RBI has issued guidelines based on the Basel III reforms on capital regulation on May 2, 2012, to the extent applicable to banks operating in India. The Basel III capital regulation has been implemented from April 1, 2013 in India in a phased manner. Banks have to comply with the regulatory limits and minima as prescribed under Basel III capital regulations, on an ongoing basis. The below table summarises the capital requirements under Basel III guidelines for banks in India:

| Sr. No. | Regulatory Capital                                           | As % of Risk Weighted Assets (RWAs) |
|---------|--------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1       | Minimum Common Equity Tier I (CET I) Ratio                   | 5.50%                               |
| 2       | D-SIB — made up of CET I capital                             | 0.80%                               |
| 3       | Capital Conservation Buffer (CCB) — made up of CET I capital | 2.50%                               |
| 4       | CET I + CCB (1 + 2 + 3)                                      | 8.80%                               |
| 5       | Additional Tier I (AT I) Capital                             | 1.50%                               |
| 6       | Minimum Tier I Capital Ratio (CET I + AT I) = (1 + 5)        | 7.00%                               |
| 7       | Tier II Capital                                              | 2.00%                               |
| 8       | Minimum Total Capital Ratio (Tier I + Tier II) = (6 + 7)     | 9.00%                               |
| 9       | Minimum Total Capital Ratio + CCB + D-SIB = (8 + 2 + 3)      | 12.30%                              |

To ensure smooth transition to Basel III, appropriate transitional arrangements were provided for meeting the minimum Basel III capital ratios, full regulatory adjustments to the components of capital etc. and accordingly, RBI had introduced the master circular on “Basel III Capital Regulations” dated July 1, 2015 (Master Circular No. DBR.No.BP.BC.1/21.06.201/2015-16 dated July 1, 2015). The Basel III capital regulations were implemented in India with effect from April 1, 2013 and have been fully implemented as on October 1, 2021. Banks have to comply with the regulatory limits and minima as prescribed under Basel III capital regulations, on an ongoing basis.

RBI has thereafter issued revisions to the Master Circular - Basel III Capital Regulations lastly dated April 1, 2025 vide its notification, namely, Master Circular – Basel III Capital Regulations (bearing number RBI/2025-26/08 DOR.CAP.REC.2/21.06.201/2025-26).

Liquidity coverage ratio

The Basel III framework on ‘Liquidity Standards’ includes ‘Liquidity Coverage Ratio’, ‘Net Stable Funding Ratio’ (“NSFR”) and liquidity risk monitoring tools. In June, 2014, the RBI issued guidelines in relation to liquidity coverage ratio (“LCR”), liquidity risk monitoring tools and LCR disclosure standards pursuant to the publication of the ‘Basel III: The Liquidity Coverage Ratio and liquidity risk monitoring tools’ in January, 2013 and the ‘Liquidity Coverage Ratio Disclosure Standards’ in January, 2014 by the Basel Committee which provided enhanced guidance on liquidity, risk governance, measurement, monitoring and reporting to the RBI on liquidity positions. The guidelines stipulate that banks were to ensure an LCR of 60% for the calendar year 2015 with effect from January 1, 2015, minimum 90% with effect from January 1, 2018 and were expected to make a transition to an LCR of 100% on January 1, 2019. In order to accommodate the burden on banks' cash flows on account of the Covid-19 pandemic, RBI vide notification dated April 17, 2020, permitted banks to maintain LCR as under:

|---------------------------------------------|------|
| From date of circular to September 30, 2020 | 80%  |
| October 1, 2020 to March 31, 2021           | 90%  |

The notification further provides that banks shall prepare LCR restoration plans upon breach of the LCR requirement set out above, for scrutiny by the RBI's Department of Supervision.

The LCR measures a bank's ability to manage and survive for 30 days under a significant stress scenario that combines idiosyncratic as well as market-wide shock situations that would result in accelerated withdrawal of deposits from retail as well as wholesale depositors, partial loss of secured funding, increase in collateral requirements and unscheduled drawdown of unused credit lines. 100% of the net cash outflows in the next 30 days, computed with these assumptions of a stressed scenario, are required to be supported by High Quality Liquid Assets ("HQLA").

The RBI has permitted banks to reckon Government securities as Level 1 HQLA under FALLCR within the mandatory SLR requirement up to 16 per cent of their NDTL. Accordingly, the total HQLA carve out from the mandatory SLR, which can be reckoned for meeting LCR requirement will be 18 per cent of NDTL (2 per cent MSF plus 16 per cent FALLCR).

Prudential framework for resolution of stressed assets

RBI has, pursuant to its circular dated June 7, 2019 established a new regulatory framework for resolution of stressed assets ("Revised Framework"). Pursuant to the Revised Framework, existing guidelines and schemes for debt resolution such as revitalising distressed assets, corporate debt restructuring scheme, flexible structuring of existing long term project loans, strategic debt restructuring ("SDR"), change in ownership outside SDR, and scheme for sustainable structuring of stressed assets have been withdrawn. In addition, the guidelines /framework for joint lenders' forum have also been discontinued. According to the Revised Framework, the lenders must identify incipient stress in loan accounts immediately on default by classifying stressed assets as special mention account.

Under the Revised Framework, RBI has introduced a revised framework for resolution of stressed assets, where banks are required to put in place a board approved policy for resolution of stressed assets. Upon the occurrence of a default, banks are required to, within a period of 30 days from the date of such default ("Review Period"), review the account of the borrower and determine a strategy for implementing a resolution plan or choose to initiate legal proceedings or recovery. If a resolution plan route is chosen by the lenders during the Review Period, the lenders are required to enter into an inter-creditor agreement to provide rules for finalisation and implementation of the resolution plan and also provide in such inter-creditor agreement that decisions by lenders representing 75% of outstanding facilities and 60% by number shall bind all lenders to the inter-creditor agreement. The resolution plan is to be implemented within 180 days from the end of the Review Period in respect of accounts with aggregate exposure above a threshold (as listed below) with the lenders.

Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, as amended, as amended by the Enforcement of Security Interest and Recovery of Debts Laws and Miscellaneous Provisions (Amendment) Act, 2016 (the "SARFAESI Act")

The SARFAESI Act provides for the enforcement of security interest without the intervention of the courts. Under the provisions of the SARFAESI Act, a secured creditor can recover dues from its borrowers by taking any of the measures as provided therein. Rights, with respect to the enforcement of security interest, under the SARFAESI Act cannot be enforced unless the account of the borrower has been classified as an NPA in the books of account of the secured creditor in accordance with the directions or guidelines issued by the RBI or any other applicable regulatory authority. The secured creditors must serve a 60-day notice on the borrower demanding repayment of the amount due and specifying the borrower's assets over which the bank proposes to exercise remedies. If the borrower still fails to pay, the secured creditors, on expiry of the 60-day notice period, can: (i) take possession of the secured assets; (ii) take over the management of the secured assets along with the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale of the secured assets; (iii) appoint any person to manage the secured assets; and (iv) require any person who has acquired any of the secured assets from the borrower to pay amounts necessary to satisfy the debt. The security interests covered by the SARFAESI Act are security interests over immovable and movable property, existing or future receivables, certain intangible assets (such as know-how, patents, copyrights, trademarks, licenses, franchises) and any debt or any right to receive payment of money, or any receiveable, present or future, and in which security interest has been created. In the event that the secured creditor is unable to recover the entire sum due by exercise of the remedies under the SARFAESI Act in relation to the assets secured, such secured creditor may approach the Debt Recovery Tribunal or the relevant court for the recovery of the balance amounts. A secured creditor may also simultaneously pursue its remedies under the SARFAESI Act as well as the Debt Recovery Tribunal.

The SARFAESI Act also provides for sale of financial assets by banks and financial institutions to asset reconstruction companies. The financial assets can be sold to asset reconstruction companies in accordance with the extant guidelines and prudential norms issued by the RBI. As per extant guidelines, a bank may sell only those assets classified as an SMA-2 or an NPA to asset reconstruction companies.

The Master Directions - Reserve Bank of India (Priority Sector Lending – Targets and Classification) Directions, 2025 (“PSL Master Directions”), as amended from time to time, sets out the broad policy in relation to priority sector lending. Under the PSL Master Directions, RBI requires that every domestic commercial bank excluding RRBs and SFBs and foreign banks with 20 branches and above, extend at least 40.00% of its adjusted net bank credit or the credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposure, whichever is higher, to “priority sectors” such as agriculture, MSMEs, export credit, education, housing, social infrastructure, renewable energy and others as determined by the RBI. Of this, banks have targets or sub-targets of 18%, 7.5% and 12% for lending to agriculture, micro-enterprises and advances to weaker sections respectively

Exposure norms

As a prudent measure aimed at better risk management and avoidance of concentration of credit risk, the RBI advised the banks to fix limits on their exposure to specific industry or sectors and has prescribed credit exposure for banks in respect of their lending to individual borrowers and to all borrowers belonging to a single group. In addition, banks are also required to observe certain statutory and regulatory exposure limits in respect of advances against / investments in shares, convertible debentures /bonds, units of equity-oriented mutual funds and all exposures to venture capital funds (“VCFs”).

Section 19(2) of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, restricts a banking company from holding shares in any company, whether as pledgee, mortgagee or absolute owner, of an amount exceeding 30% of the paid-up share capital of that company or 30% of its own paid-up share capital and reserves, whichever is less, except as provided in sub-section (1) of Section 19 of the Act.

The aggregate exposure of a bank to the capital markets in all forms (both fund based and non-fund based) should not exceed 40% of its net worth, on both standalone and consolidated basis as on March 31 of the previous year. Within this overall ceiling, the bank’s direct investment in shares, convertible bonds/debentures, units of equity oriented mutual funds and all exposures to VCFs (both registered and unregistered) should not exceed 20% of its net worth on both standalone and consolidated basis.

On August 25, 2016, the RBI released guidelines on ‘Enhancing Credit Supply for Large Borrowers through Market Mechanism’ with the objective of mitigating the risk posed to the banking system on account of large aggregate lending to a single corporate. As per the framework, exposure to corporate with large borrowing from banking system beyond the prescribed limit would attract additional provisions and higher risk weights.

On June 3, 2019, the RBI released the guidelines on ‘Large Exposures Framework to align the exposure norms for Indian banks’ with the Basel Committee. As per the framework, the sum of all exposure values of a bank to a counterparty or a group of connected counterparties is defined as a ‘Large Exposure (LE)’, if it is equal to or above 10 percent of the bank’s eligible capital base (i.e., Tier 1 capital) and the bank is required to report their LE to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and Department of Banking Supervision, Central Office, (DBS, CO). Further, exposure limits to a single counterparty and group of connected counterparties will be 20% (extendable up to additional 5% exposure by the board of the banks during exceptional circumstances) and 25% of available eligible capital base respectively. Further, RBI vide its notification dated September 12, 2019 prescribes that bank’s exposure to a single NBFC (excluding gold loan companies) will be restricted to 20 percent of that bank’s eligible capital base. Banks’ exposures to a group of connected NBFCs or group of connected counterparties having NBFCs in the group will be restricted to 25 percent of their Tier I Capital.

The CRILC is designed entirely for supervisory purposes and its focus is on the reporting entities’ exposure to the borrower (as individual and/or as a group) under various heads, such as bank’s exposure to a large borrower; the borrower’s current account balance; bank’s written-off accounts; and identification of non-cooperative borrowers, among others. Further, the CRILC system started with information on SMA2 (default for 61-90 days) to be submitted on as and when basis i.e., whenever repayment for a large borrower’s account becomes overdue for 61 days it is to be reported by the bank immediately.

Further, in terms of RBI circular dated June 7, 2019, all banks are required to report to CRILC, on a monthly basis, exposures of individuals and entities having exposure (both fund and non-fund based) of ₹ 50 million and above. Banks are also required to report to CRILC, on a weekly basis for all borrower entities in default, having aggregate exposure of more than ₹50 million. In addition, banks are required to report to CRILC the classification of an account to ‘special mention account’ in respect of borrower entities having aggregate exposure of more than ₹ 50 million. #### Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Securitisation of Standard Assets) Directions, 2021

Securitisation involves transactions where credit risk in assets are redistributed by repackaging them into tradeable securities with different risk profiles which may give investors of various classes access to exposures which they otherwise might be unable to access directly. Keeping in view that complicated and opaque securitisation structures could be undesirable from the point of view of financial stability, prudentially structured securitisation transactions can be an important facilitator in a well-functioning financial market in that it improves risk distribution and liquidity of lenders in originating fresh loan exposures, the RBI issued the RBI (Securitisation of Standard Assets) Directions, 2021 vide its circular dated September 24, 2021(updated as on December 5, 2022),which are applicable to all the scheduled commercial banks in India.

An asset, including a leased asset, becomes non-performing when it ceases to generate income for the bank. The Prudential Norms further, specify the timeline within which specific assets are to be considered non-performing. Once the account has been classified as a non-performing asset, the unrealized interest and other income already debited to the account is derecognized and further interest is not recognized or credited to the income account unless collected in cash. The Prudential Norms require banks to further classify NPAs into the following three categories based on the period for which the asset has remained non-performing and the realisability of the dues (i) sub-standard assets; (ii) doubtful assets; and (iii) loss assets. These norms also specify provisioning requirements specific to the classification of the assets.

The banks should maintain provisioning coverage ratio, including floating provisions, of at least 70.00%. In case of restructuring, the accounts classified as 'standard' shall be immediately downgraded as non-performing assets. Scheduled commercial banks shall report credit information, including classification of an account as SMA to Central Repository of Information on Large Credits ("CRILC"), on all borrowers having aggregate exposure of ₹5 crore and above with them. Banks must put in place Board-approved policies for resolution of stressed assets, including the timelines for resolution. Since default with any lender is a lagging indicator of financial stress faced by the borrower, it is expected that the lenders initiate the process of implementing a resolution plan (RP) even before a default.

In any case, once a borrower is reported to be in default by any of the lenders, lenders shall undertake a prima facie review of the borrower account within thirty days from such default. Any action by the Banks with an intent to conceal the actual status of accounts or evergreen the stressed accounts, will be subjected to stringent supervisory / enforcement actions as deemed appropriate by the Reserve Bank, including, but not limited to, higher provisioning on such accounts and monetary penalties.

Issue Procedure

1. On the Bid / Issue Opening Date, our Bank in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers had circulated serially numbered copies of the Preliminary Placement Document and the serially numbered Application Form, either in electronic or physical form, to Eligible QIBs. The Application Form had been specifically addressed to each such Eligible QIB. Our Bank was required to maintain records of the Eligible QIBs to whom the Preliminary Placement Document and the serially numbered Application Form were dispatched.
2. The list of Eligible QIBs to whom the Preliminary Placement Document and the Application Form was delivered, and to whom this Placement Document will be delivered, was determined by our Bank in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers at their sole discretion. Unless a serially numbered Preliminary Placement Document along with the serially numbered Application Form, which included the details of the bank account wherein the Bid Amount was to be deposited, had been addressed to a particular Eligible QIB, no invitation to make an offer to subscribe was deemed to have been made to such Eligible QIB. Even if such documentation were to come into the possession of any person other than the intended recipient, no offer or invitation to offer was deemed to have been made to such person and any application that did not comply with this requirement was treated as invalid and was rejected. The Application Form could have been signed physically or digitally, if required under applicable law in the relevant jurisdiction applicable to each Eligible QIB and as permitted under such applicable law. An Eligible QIB was required to submit an unsigned copy of the Application Form, as long as the Bid Amount was paid along with submission of the Application Form within the Bid/Issue Period. Once a duly filled Application Form was submitted by an Eligible QIB, whether signed or not, and the Bid Amount had been transferred to the Escrow Account, such Application Form constituted an irrevocable offer and could not have been withdrawn or revised downwards after the Bid/Issue Closing Date. In case Bids were being made on behalf of the Eligible QIB and the Application Form is unsigned, it was assumed that the person submitting the Application Form and providing necessary instructions for transfer of the Bid Amount to the Escrow Account, on behalf of the Eligible QIB was authorised to do so.

3. Eligible QIBs were required to submit a duly completed Application Form, including any revisions thereof along with the Bid Amount (which is to be transferred to the Escrow Account specified in the Application Form) and a copy of the PAN card or PAN allotment letter and/or any other documents mentioned in the Application Form, during the Bid/Issue Period to the Book Running Lead Managers.
4. QIBs were required to indicate the following in the Application Form:
  - full official name of the Eligible QIB to whom Equity Shares are to be Allotted, complete address, e-mail id, PAN details, phone number and bank account details;
  - number of Equity Shares Bid for;
  - price at which they were agreeable to subscribe for the Equity Shares and the aggregate Bid Amount for the number of Equity Shares Bid for;
  - details of the beneficiary account maintained with the Depository Participant to which the Equity Shares should be credited;
  - Equity Shares held by the Eligible QIBs in our Bank prior to the Issue;
  - that it has agreed to certain other representations set forth in the Application Form; and
  - a representation that it is either (i) outside the United States acquiring the Equity Shares in an offshore transaction under Regulation S, or (ii) a “qualified institutional buyer” as defined in Rule 144A, and it has agreed to certain other representations set forth in the “Representations by Investors” on page 5 and “Transfer Restrictions” on page 233 and certain other representations made in the Application Form.

Note: Eligible FPIs were required to indicate the SEBI FPI registration number in the Application Form. The Bids made by the asset management companies or custodian of Mutual Funds specifically stated the names of the concerned schemes for which the Bids are made. In case of a Mutual Fund, a separate Bid could have been made in respect of each scheme of the Mutual Fund registered with SEBI and such Bids in respect of more than one scheme of the Mutual Fund were not treated as multiple Bids provided that the Bids clearly indicate the scheme for which the Bid had made. Application by various schemes or funds of a Mutual Fund will be treated as one application from the Mutual Fund. Bidders were advised to ensure that any single Bid from them does not exceed the investment limits or maximum number of Equity Shares that can be held by them under applicable laws.

5. Eligible QIBs were required to make the entire payment of the Bid Amount for the Equity Shares Bid for, along with the Application Form, only through electronic transfer to the Escrow Account opened in the name of “Escrow Account State Bank of India QIP 2025” with the Escrow Agent, within the Bid/Issue Period as specified in the Application Form sent to the respective Bidders. Please note that any payment of Bid Amount for the Equity Shares was required to be made from the bank accounts of the relevant Bidders and our Bank was required to keep a record of the bank account from where such payment has been received. Bid Amount payable on Equity Shares to be held by joint holders was required to be paid from the bank account of the person whose name appeared first in the Application Form. Until Allotment, and receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges, Bid Amount received for subscription of the Equity Shares shall be kept by the Bank in a separate bank account with a scheduled bank. Notwithstanding the above, in the event (a) any Bidder is not allocated Equity Shares in the Issue, (b) the number of Equity Shares Allotted to a Bidder is lower than the number of Equity Shares applied for through the Application Form and towards which Bid Amount has been paid by such Bidder, (c) the Bid Amount has been arrived at using an indicative price higher than the Issue Price, or (d) any Eligible QIB lowered or withdrew their Bid after submission of the Application Form but prior to the Bid Closing Date, the excess Bid Amount will be refunded to the same bank account from which it was remitted, in the form and manner set out in “– Refunds” on page 220.
6. Once a duly completed Application Form was submitted by a Bidder and the Bid Amount had been transferred to the Escrow Account, such Application Form constituted an irrevocable offer and the Bid could not be withdrawn or revised downwards after the Issue Closing Date. In case of an upward revision before the Issue Closing Date, an additional amount was required to be deposited towards the Bid Amount in the Escrow Account along with the submission of such revised Bid. The Issue Closing Date was notified to the Stock Exchanges and the Eligible QIBs were deemed to have been given notice of such date after receipt of the Application Form.

7. Upon receipt of the duly completed Application Form and the Bid Amount in the Escrow Account, on or after the Issue Closing Date, our Bank has, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, determined the final terms, including the Issue Price of the Equity Shares to be issued pursuant to the Issue. Upon such determination, the Book Running Lead Managers will send the serially numbered CANs, along with serially numbered copies of this Placement Document, in electronic form only, to the successful Bidders who have been Allocated the Equity Shares. The dispatch of a CAN, and this Placement Document to a Successful Bidder shall be deemed a valid, binding and irrevocable contract for the Successful Bidders to subscribe to the Equity Shares Allocated to such Successful Bidders at an aggregate price equivalent to the product of the Issue Price and Equity Shares Allocated to such Successful Bidders. The CAN contains details such as the number of Equity Shares Allocated to the Successful Bidders, Issue Price and the aggregate amount received towards the Equity Shares Allocated. Allocation was at the absolute discretion of our Bank, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers.
8. Upon dispatch of the serially numbered CAN and this Placement Document, our Bank shall Allot Equity Shares as per the details in the CANs sent to the Successful Bidders. Our Bank will inform the Stock Exchanges of the details of the Allotment.
9. After passing the resolution for Allotment and prior to crediting the Equity Shares into the beneficiary account of the Successful Bidders maintained by the Depository Participant, as specified in the records of the depositories or as indicated in their respective Application Form, our Bank shall apply to the Stock Exchanges for listing approvals in respect of the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Issue.
10. After receipt of the listing approvals of the Stock Exchanges, our Bank shall credit the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to this Issue into the beneficiary accounts of the respective Allottees.
11. Our Bank will then apply for the final trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges.
12. The Equity Shares that would have been credited to the beneficiary account with the Depository Participant of the Eligible QIBs shall be eligible for trading on the Stock Exchanges only upon the receipt of final trading and listing approvals from the Stock Exchanges.
13. As per applicable law, the Stock Exchanges will notify the final listing and trading approvals, which are ordinarily available on their websites, and our Bank may communicate the receipt of the listing and trading approvals to those Eligible QIBs to whom the Equity Shares have been Allotted. Our Bank and the Book Running Lead Managers shall not be responsible for any delay or non-receipt of the communication of the final trading and listing permissions from the Stock Exchanges or any loss arising from such delay or non-receipt. Investors are advised to apprise themselves of the status of the receipt of the permissions from the Stock Exchanges or our Bank.

THE SECURITIES MARKET OF INDIA

The information in this section has been extracted from publicly available documents from various sources, including officially prepared materials from SEBI and the Stock Exchanges and has not been prepared or independently verified by our Bank or the Book Running Lead Managers or any of their respective affiliates or advisors.

The Indian Securities Market

India has a long history of organised securities trading. In 1875, the first stock exchange was established in Mumbai. BSE and NSE are the significant stock exchanges in terms of the number of listed companies, market capitalisation and trading activity.

Indian Stock Exchanges

Indian stock exchanges are regulated primarily by SEBI, as well as by the Government acting through the Ministry of Finance, Financial Markets Division, under the SCRA and the SCRR. SEBI, in exercise of its powers under the SCRA and the SEBI Act, notified the Securities Contracts (Regulation) (Stock Exchanges and Clearing Corporations) Regulations, 2018 (the “SECC Regulations”), which regulate inter alia the recognition, ownership and internal governance of stock exchanges and clearing corporations in India together with providing for minimum capitalisation requirements for stock exchanges. The SCRA, the SCRR and the SECC Regulations along with various rules, bye-laws and regulations of the respective stock exchanges, regulate the recognition of stock exchanges, the qualifications for membership thereof and the manner, in which contracts are entered into, settled and enforced between members of the stock exchanges.

The SEBI Act empowers SEBI to regulate the Indian securities markets, including stock exchanges and intermediaries in the capital markets, protect the interests of investors in securities, promote and monitor self-regulatory organisations and prohibit fraudulent and unfair trade practices. Regulations concerning minimum disclosure requirements by public companies, rules and regulations concerning investor protection, insider trading, substantial acquisitions of shares and takeover of companies, buybacks of securities, employee stock option schemes, stockbrokers, merchant bankers, mutual funds, foreign portfolio investors, credit rating agencies and other capital market participants have been notified by the relevant regulatory authority.

Listing and Delisting of Securities

The listing of securities on a recognised Indian stock exchange is regulated by the applicable Indian laws including the Companies Act, 2013, the SCRA, the SCRR, the SEBI Act and various guidelines and regulations issued by SEBI and the SEBI Listing Regulations. The SCRA empowers the governing body of each recognised stock exchange to suspend trading of or withdraw admission to dealings in a listed security for breach of or non-compliance with any conditions or breach of a company’s obligations under the SEBI Listing Regulations or for any reason, subject to the issuer receiving prior written notice of the intent of the exchange and upon granting of a hearing in the matter. SEBI also has the power to amend the SEBI Listing Regulations and bye-laws of the stock exchanges in India, to overrule a stock exchange’s governing body and withdraw recognition of a recognised stock exchange.

Further, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Delisting of Equity Shares) Regulations, 2021 govern the voluntary and compulsory delisting of equity shares from the stock exchanges. In addition, certain amendments to the SCRR have also been notified in relation to delisting.

Minimum Level of Public Shareholding

Pursuant to an amendment to SCRR in June 2010 and Regulation 38 of SEBI Listing Regulations, all listed companies are required to maintain a minimum public shareholding of 25%. In this regard, SEBI has provided several mechanisms to comply with this requirement. Where the public shareholding in a listed company falls below 25% at any time, such company shall bring the public shareholding to 25% within a maximum period of 12 months from the date of the public shareholding having fallen below the 25% threshold. However, every listed public sector company whose public shareholding falls below 25% at any time after the commencement of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) (Second Amendment) Rules, 2018, shall increase its public shareholding to at least 25%, within a period of two years from the date of such fall, respectively, in the manner specified by SEBI. However, in terms of Rule 19A(6) of the SCRR, the Central Government may, in public interest, exempt any listed entity in which the Central Government or State Government or public sector company, either individually or in any combination with other, hold directly or indirectly, majority of the shares or voting rights or control of such listed entity, from any or all of the provisions of this rule.

Disclosures under the SEBI Listing Regulations

Public listed companies are required under the SEBI Listing Regulations to prepare and circulate to their shareholders audited annual accounts which comply with the disclosure requirements and regulations governing their manner of presentation and which include sections relating to corporate governance, related party transactions and management’s discussion and analysis as required under the SEBI Listing Regulations. In addition, a listed company is subject to continuing disclosure requirements pursuant to the terms of the SEBI Listing Regulations.

Index-Based Market-Wide Circuit Breaker System

In order to restrict abnormal price volatility in any particular stock, SEBI has instructed stock exchanges to apply daily circuit breakers which do not allow transactions beyond a certain level of price volatility. The index based market-wide circuit breaker system (equity and equity derivatives) applies at three stages of the index movement, at 10%, 15% and 20%. The Stock Exchanges on a daily basis translate the circuit breaker limits based on previous day's closing level of the index. These circuit breakers, when triggered, bring about a co-ordinated trading halt in all equity and equity derivative markets nationwide. The market-wide circuit breakers are triggered by movement of either the BSE SENSEX or the NIFTY 50 of NSE, whichever is breached earlier.

In addition to the market-wide index-based circuit breakers, there are currently in place individual scrip-wise price bands of up to 20% movements either up or down. However, no price bands are applicable on scrips on which derivative products are available or scrips included in indices on which derivative products are available. The stock exchanges in India can also exercise the power to suspend trading during periods of market volatility. Margin requirements are imposed by stock exchanges that are required to be paid by the stockbrokers.

BSE

Established in 1875, BSE is the oldest stock exchange in India. In 1957, it became the first stock exchange in India to obtain permanent recognition from the Government under the SCRA. Pursuant to the BSE (Corporatization and Demutualization) Scheme 2005, BSE was incorporated as a company under the Companies Act, 1956 in 2005. BSE was listed on NSE with effect from February 3, 2017.

NSE

NSE provides nationwide online, satellite-linked, screen-based trading facilities with market-makers and electronic clearing and settlement for securities including government securities, debentures, public sector bonds and units. NSE was recognised as a stock exchange under the SCRA in April 1993 and commenced operations in the wholesale debt market segment in June 1994. The operations in the derivatives segment commenced in June 2000.

Internet-based Securities Trading and Services

Internet trading takes place through order routing systems, which route client orders to exchange trading systems for execution. Stockbrokers interested in providing this service are required to apply for permission to the relevant stock exchange and also have to comply with certain minimum conditions stipulated under applicable law. NSE became the first exchange to grant approval to its members for providing internet based trading services. Internet trading is possible on both the "equities" as well as the "derivatives" segments of NSE.

Trading Hours

Trading on both NSE and BSE occurs from Monday to Friday, during prescribed trading hours. BSE and NSE are closed on public holidays. The recognised stock exchanges have been permitted to set their own trading hours (in the cash and derivatives segments) subject to certain conditions.

Trading Procedure

In order to facilitate smooth transactions, BSE replaced its open outcry system with BSE On-line Trading (or "BOLT") facility in 1995. This automated screen-based trading in securities was put into practice nationwide. This has enhanced transparency in dealings and has assisted considerably in smoothening settlement cycles and improving efficiency in back-office work. In the year 2014, BSE introduced its new generation trading platform BOLT Plus.

NSE has introduced a fully automated trading system called National Exchange for Automated Trading (or "NEAT"), which operates on strict time/price priority besides enabling efficient trade. NEAT has provided depth in the market by enabling large number of members all over India to trade simultaneously, narrowing the spreads.

Takeover Regulations

Disclosure and mandatory bid obligations for listed Indian companies under Indian law are governed by the Takeover Regulations, which provides specific regulations in relation to substantial acquisition of shares and takeover. Once the equity shares of a company are listed on a stock exchange in India, the provisions of the Takeover Regulations will apply to any acquisition of the company's shares/voting rights/control. The Takeover Regulations prescribe certain thresholds or trigger points in the shareholding a person or entity has in the listed Indian company, which give rise to certain obligations on part of the acquirer. Acquisitions up to a certain threshold prescribed under the Takeover Regulations mandate specific disclosure requirements, while acquisitions crossing particular thresholds may result in the acquirer having to make an open offer of the shares of the target company. The Takeover Regulations also provides for the possibility of indirect acquisitions, imposing specific obligations on the acquirer in case of such indirect acquisition.

The SEBI Takeover Regulations also provides certain general exemptions which exempt certain acquisitions from the obligation to make an open offer. The SEBI Takeover Regulations were amended on August 13, 2021 to relax certain continual and other disclosures.

Insider Trading Regulations

SEBI had earlier notified the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 1992 to prohibit and penalise insider trading in India. The regulations, among other things, prohibited an ‘insider’ from dealing in the securities of a listed company when in possession of unpublished price sensitive information (“UPSI”).

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015 were notified on January 15, 2015 and came into effect on May 15, 2015, which repealed the regulations of 1992. The Insider Trading Regulations, inter alia, impose certain restrictions on the communication of information by listed companies. Under the Insider Trading Regulations, (i) no insider shall communicate, provide or allow access to any UPSI relating to such companies and securities to any person including other insiders; and (ii) no person shall procure or cause the communication by any insider of UPSI relating to such companies and securities, except in furtherance of legitimate purposes, performance of duties or discharge of legal obligations. However, UPSI may be communicated, provided or allowed access to or procured, under certain circumstances specified in the Insider Trading Regulations.

The Insider Trading Regulations make it compulsory for listed companies and certain other entities that are required to handle UPSI in the course of business operations to establish an internal code of practices and procedures for fair disclosure of UPSI and to regulate, monitor and report trading by insiders. To this end, the Insider Trading Regulations provide principles of fair disclosure for purposes of code of practices and procedures for fair disclosure of UPSI and minimum standards for code of conduct to regulate, monitor and report trading by insiders. There are also initial and continuing shareholding disclosure obligations under the Insider Trading Regulations.

The board of directors of all listed companies are required to formulate and publish on the company’s website a code of procedure for fair disclosure of UPSI along with a code of conduct for its employees for compliances with the SEBI Insider Trading Regulations. Further, on July 17, 2020, SEBI amended the SEBI Insider Trading Regulations to prescribe that the board of directors or head(s) of listed companies shall ensure that a structured digital database be maintained, containing the nature of unpublished price sensitive information, the names and details of persons who have shared the information and the names and details person with whom information is shared.

Depositories

The Depositories Act provides a legal framework for the establishment of depositories to record ownership details and effect transfers in book-entry form. Further, SEBI framed regulations in relation to, among other things, the formation and registration of such depositories, the registration of participants as well as the rights and obligations of the depositories, participants, companies and beneficial owners. The depository system has significantly improved the operation of the Indian securities markets.

Derivatives (Futures and Options)

Trading in derivatives is governed by the SCRA, the SCRR and the SEBI Act. The SCRA was amended in February 2000 and derivatives contracts were included within the term “securities”, as defined by the SCRA. Trading in derivatives in India takes place either on separate and independent derivatives exchanges or on a separate segment of an existing stock exchange. The derivatives exchange or derivatives segment of a stock exchange functions as a self-regulatory organisation under the supervision of SEBI.

There are two types of general meetings of shareholders: general meetings and special general meetings. For convening a general meeting, a notice signed by the Chairman or the Managing Director authorized by the Chairman, should be published at least 28 (twenty-eight) days before the meeting in the Gazette of India and also in not less than two daily newspapers having wide circulation in India. Where the gains arising on the transfer of shares are included in the business income of an assessee, assessable under the head "Profit and Gains from Business or Profession" on which STT has been charged, such STT shall be a deductible expense from the business income as per the provisions of Section 36(1)(xv) of the Act.
11. Dividend income earned by the shareholders would be taxable in their hands at the applicable rates. The rate of surcharge for all taxpayers will not exceed 15% on the income-tax. Further, deduction of expenses u/s. 57 of the Act shall be allowed against such dividend income only in respect of interest expense up to a maximum of 20% of such dividend.
12. Section 80M of the Act - Deduction in respect of certain inter-corporate dividends - Section 80M of the Act inter-alia provides that where the gross total income of a domestic company in any previous year includes any income by way of dividends from any other domestic company or a foreign company or a business trust, then such domestic company (subject to the provisions of this section) shall be allowed, in computing the total income, a deduction of an amount equal to the dividend received from such other domestic company, foreign company or business trust, to the extent such dividend does not exceed the amount of dividend distributed by it on or before one month prior to the due date for furnishing the return of income under sub-section (1) of section 139 of the Act.

C. STATEMENT OF GENERAL DIRECT TAX BENEFITS AVAILABLE TO THE NON-RESIDENT SHAREHOLDERS / FOREIGN INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS ("FII"):

1. Under the provisions of Section 90(2) of the Act a non-resident will be governed by the provisions of the Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement ("DTAA") and the country of tax residence of the non-resident as modified by the Multilateral convention to implement Tax treaty related measures to prevent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (MLI) or the provisions of the Act to the extent they are more beneficial to the non-resident.
2. Dividend income from equity shares is taxable in the hands of shareholders at the applicable tax rates. Further, deduction of expenses u/s. 57 of the Act shall be allowed against such dividend income only in respect of interest expense up to a maximum of 20% of such dividend. The domestic company declaring/distributing/paying dividends shall be liable to withhold taxes at 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) in accordance with section 115A (for FII non-resident shareholders) and section 196D of the Act (FIIs) subject to the provisions of the relevant DTAA read with the MLI (wherever applicable). The rate of surcharge for all taxpayers will not exceed 15% on the income-tax.

3. Income arising from transfer of shares held for more than 12 months and subject to STT, shall be considered as long-term capital assets. Assets not considered as long-term capital assets shall be considered as short-term capital assets. The characterization of gains/losses, arising from sale of shares, as Capital Gains or Business Income would depend on the nature of holding in the hands of the shareholder and various other factors. The Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) in a circular has clarified that income arising from transfer of listed shares and securities, which are held for more than 12 months would be taxed as “Capital Gains” unless the shareholder itself treats these as its Stock-in-trade and income arising from transfer thereof as its business income.
4. As per Section 2(14) of the Act transfer of any shares/securities by FIIs being invested in accordance with the regulations made under the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 shall be treated as Capital Assets.
5. Section 112A of the Act provides for concessional rate of 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) on long term capital gains (exceeding ₹1,25,000) arising on transfer of equity shares, if STT has been paid on both acquisition and transfer in case of equity shares (subject to certain exceptions).

As per section 55(2)(ac) of the Act cost of acquisition of equity shares (referred in aforesaid Section 112A of the Act) acquired prior to February 1, 2018, shall be higher of -

- a) Cost of acquisition of asset; and
  - b) Lower of (I) The fair market value of the asset as defined in Explanation to Section 55(2)(ac) of the Act; and (II) The full value of consideration received or accruing as a result of transfer of the capital asset. For the purpose of this section, in case of listed equity shares, the FMV shall be the highest price quoted on a recognised stock exchange on January 31, 2018.
6. Long-term capital gains on capital assets other than the ones covered in section 112A are subject to tax under section 112 at a rate of 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) without the benefit of indexation.
  7. Short-term capital gains arising on transfer of the shares will be chargeable to tax at the rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) as per the provisions of Section 111A of the Act if such transaction is chargeable to STT (subject to certain exceptions).
  8. The rate of surcharge on capital gains u/s. 111A and u/s. 112A of the Act arising on sale of equity shares for all taxpayers and capital gains on securities u/s. 115AD(1)(b) of the Act for FIIs will not exceed 15% on the income tax.
  9. As per Section 196D(2) of the Act no tax is to be deducted from any income, by way of capital gains arising from the transfer of shares, payable to FIIs.
  10. As per Section 70 read with Section 74 of the Act short term capital loss arising during a year is allowed to be set-off against short term capital gains as well as long term capital gains. Balance loss, if any, shall be carried forward and set-off against any capital gains (short term capital gains or long-term capital gains) arising during subsequent eight assessment years. As per Section 70 read with Section 74 of the Act of the Act long term capital loss arising during a year is allowed to be set-off only against long term capital gains. Balance loss, if any, shall be carried forward and set-off against long term capital gains arising during subsequent eight assessment years. As per Section 71 of the Act short term capital loss or long-term capital loss for the year cannot be set-off against income under any other heads for the same year.
  11. Where the gains arising on the transfer of shares are included in the business income of an assessee assessable under the head “Profits and Gains from Business or Profession” and on which STT has been charged, such STT shall be a deductible expense from business income as per the provisions of Section 36(1)(xv) of the Act.
  12. As per Explanation 4 to Section 115JB(2), the provisions of Section 115JB shall not be applicable to a foreign company if the foreign company is a resident of a country having DTAA with India and such foreign company does not have a Permanent Establishment within the definition of the term in the relevant DTAA, or the foreign company is a resident of a country which does not have a DTAA with India and such foreign company is not required to seek registration under any law for the time being in force relating to companies.
  13. In respect of foreign companies which are not exempt from MAT provisions as per point 12 above, income earned from capital gains (whether long term or short term) arising on transactions in securities, dividend income, etc. will need to be adjusted / reduced (if such income is credited to Profit and Loss account and tax payable on such capital gains/dividend income under normal provisions is less than the MAT rate of 15%) from the book profits while computing MAT u/s. 115JB of the Act. Consequently, corresponding expenses shall also be excluded while computing MAT.

14. In respect of non-residents, the tax rates and the consequent taxation mentioned above shall be further subject to any benefits available under the Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (“DTAA”), if any, between India and the country of residence of the non-resident. As per the provisions of section 90(2) of the Act, the provisions of the Act would prevail over the provisions of the DTAA to the extent they are more beneficial to the non-resident. As per section 90(4) of the Act, the non-residents shall not be entitled to claim relief under section 90(2) of the Act, unless a certificate of their being a resident in any country outside India, is obtained by them from the government of that country or any specified territory. As per section 90(5) of the Act, the non-residents shall be required to provide such other document and information, as has been notified. Non-residents are also eligible for double taxation relief under section 90A of the Act if specified association in India has an agreement with a specified association in their country.

E. SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO NON RESIDENT SHAREHOLDER BEING NON-RESIDENT INDIANS (NRIs):

1. Besides the above benefits available to non-residents, NRIs have the option of being governed by the provisions of Chapter XII-A of the Act which, inter alia, entitles them to the following benefits in respect of income from shares of an Indian Company acquired, purchased or subscribed to in convertible foreign exchange:

- a. Section 115D of the Act provides the circumstances under which the provisions of this section are applicable. It further provides that no deduction for any expenditure or allowance shall be permitted under any provision of the Act while computing the investment income of a NRI.
- b. Section 115F of the Act provides that, subject to the conditions and to the extent specified therein, long-term capital gains arising to NRIs from transfer of shares of the Company acquired out of convertible foreign exchange shall be exempt from capital gains tax if the net consideration is invested within 6 months of the date of transfer of the asset in any specified asset or in any saving certificates referred to in Section 10(4B) of the Act. In case the whole of the net consideration is not so invested, the exemption shall be allowed on a pro rata basis.
- c. Section 115E of the Act provides that NRIs will be taxed at 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) on long-term capital gains arising on sale of shares of the Company which are acquired in convertible foreign exchange.
- d. In accordance with the provisions of Section 115H of the Act when NRIs become assessable as resident in India, they may furnish a declaration in writing to the Assessing Officer along with their return of income for that year u/s. 139 of the Act to the effect that the provisions of Chapter XII-A shall continue to apply to them in relation to such investment income derived from the specified assets for that year and subsequent assessment years until such assets are transferred or converted into money.
- e. As per the provisions of Section 115-I of the Act NRIs may elect not to be governed by the provisions of Chapter XII-A for any assessment year by furnishing their return of income for that year u/s. 139 of the Act declaring therein that the provisions of Chapter XII-A shall not apply to them for that assessment year and accordingly, their total income for that assessment year will be computed in accordance with the other provisions of the Act.

F. SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO MUTUAL FUNDS:

Section 10(23D) of the Act provides that any income earned by a Mutual Fund registered under the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, or a Mutual Fund set up by a public sector bank or a public financial institution, or a Mutual Fund authorised by the Reserve Bank of India would be exempt from income-tax, subject to such conditions as the Central Government may by notification in the Official Gazette specify in this behalf.

As per Section 196 of the Act no tax is to be deducted from any income payable to a Mutual Fund specified u/s. 10(23D) of the Act.

G. SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO INSURANCE COMPANIES:

As per Section 194 of the Act no tax is to be deducted from payment of dividends to:

- (b) the General Insurance Corporation of India (hereafter in this proviso referred to as the Corporation) or to any of the four companies (hereafter in this proviso referred to as such company), formed by virtue of the schemes framed under sub-section (1) of section 16 of the General Insurance Business (Nationalisation) Act, 1972 (57 of 1972), in respect of any shares owned by the Corporation or such company or in which the Corporation or such company has full beneficial interest;

As per Section 115U of the Act any income derived by a person from his investment in Venture Capital Company/Venture Capital Fund would be taxable in the hands of the person making an investment in the same manner as if it were the income accruing or arising to or received by such person had the investments been made directly in the Venture Capital Undertaking.

I. SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO INVESTMENT FUNDS:

1. Income of an Investment Fund, being a Trust, Company, Limited Liability Partnership or a body corporate which has been granted a certificate of registration and is regulated under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Alternative Investment Funds) Regulations, 2012 as Category I or Category II Alternate Investment Fund, other than the income chargeable under the head 'profits and gains of business and profession' shall be exempt from tax u/s. 10(23FBA) of the Act. No such exemption is available to Category III Alternative Investment Funds under section 10(23FBA) of the Act.

2. Section 115UB of the Act provides that the income chargeable under the head 'profits and gains of business and profession' shall be taxed in the hands of investment fund depending on the legal status (i.e. a company, a limited liability partnership, body corporate or a Trust) of the Fund and at the rate or rates as specified in the Finance Act of the relevant year. However, income (other than income chargeable under the head profits and gains of business or profession) of the unit holder out of the investment made in such investment fund is chargeable to income-tax in the same manner as if it were income accruing or arising to, or received by, such unit holder had the investments, made by the Investment Fund, been made directly by him. Further, the income accruing or arising to or received by the Investment Fund if not paid or credited to a person (who has made investments in an Investment Fund) shall be deemed to have been credited to the account of the said person on the last day of the previous year in the same proportion in which such person would have been entitled to receive the income had it been paid in that previous year.

CERTAIN UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of Equity Shares by a U.S. Holder (as defined below). This summary deals only with initial purchasers of Equity Shares in this offering that are U.S. Holders that will hold the Equity Shares as capital assets. The discussion does not cover all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to, or the actual tax effect that any of the matters described herein will have on, the acquisition, ownership or disposition of Equity Shares by particular investors (including consequences under the alternative minimum tax or net investment income tax), and does not address state, local, non-U.S. or other tax laws (such as estate or gift tax laws). This summary also does not address tax considerations applicable to investors that own (directly, indirectly or by attribution) 10 per cent. or more of the equity interests of the Bank by vote or value, nor does this summary discuss all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to certain types of investors subject to special treatment under the U.S. federal income tax laws (such as financial institutions, insurance companies, individual retirement accounts and other tax-deferred accounts, tax-exempt organisations, dealers in securities or currencies, investors that will hold the Equity Shares as part of straddles, hedging transactions or conversion transactions for U.S. federal income tax purposes, persons that have ceased to be U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents of the United States, investors holding the Equity Shares in connection with a trade or business conducted outside of the United States, U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents living abroad or investors whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar).

As used herein, the term “U.S. Holder” means a beneficial owner of Equity Shares that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (i) an individual citizen or resident of the United States, (ii) a corporation created or organised under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia, (iii) an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income tax without regard to its source or (iv) a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust, or the trust has validly elected to be treated as a domestic trust for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner in an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes that holds Equity Shares will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Prospective purchasers that are entities or arrangements treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes should consult their tax advisers concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences to them and their partners of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of Equity Shares by the partnership.

This summary is based on the tax laws of the United States, including the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, its legislative history, existing and proposed Treasury regulations thereunder, published rulings and court decisions, as well as on the income tax treaty between the United States and India (the “Treaty”), all as of the date hereof and all subject to change at any time, possibly with retroactive effect. No rulings have been requested from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) and there can be no guarantee that the IRS would not challenge, possibly successfully, the treatment described below.

Distributions

Distributions of cash and property paid by the Bank out of current or accumulated earnings and profits (as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes), before reduction for any Indian withholding tax with respect thereto, generally will be taxable to a U.S. Holder as dividend income. Distributions in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits will be treated as a non-taxable return of capital to the extent of the U.S. Holder’s basis in the Equity Shares and thereafter as capital gain. However, the Bank does not maintain calculations of its earnings and profits in accordance with U.S. federal income tax accounting principles. U.S. Holders should therefore assume that any distribution by the Bank with respect to Equity Shares will be treated as ordinary dividend income. Such dividend income will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction allowed to corporations. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisers with respect to the appropriate U.S. federal income tax treatment of any distribution received from the Bank.

Dividends paid by the Bank generally will be taxable to a non-corporate U.S. Holder at the special reduced rate normally applicable to long-term capital gains, provided the Bank qualifies for the benefits of the Treaty, and certain holding period and other requirements are met. A U.S. Holder will not be able to claim the reduced rate on dividends received from the Bank if the Bank is treated as a passive foreign investment company in the taxable year of the Bank in which the dividends are received or in the preceding taxable year. See “—Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations” below. Prospective purchasers should consult their tax advisers regarding the qualified dividend income rules and the availability of the reduced rates in their particular circumstances.

Dividends paid in Indian rupees will be included in income in a U.S. dollar amount calculated by reference to the exchange rate in effect on the day the dividends are received by the U.S. Holder, regardless of whether the Indian rupees are converted into U.S. dollars at that time. If dividends received in Indian rupees are converted into U.S. dollars at the spot rate applicable on the day they are received, the U.S. Holder generally will not be required to recognise foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the dividend income.

A U.S. Holder may be entitled, subject to certain complex limitations and requirements, to a credit against its U.S. federal income tax liability for Indian income taxes withheld by the Bank on payments of dividends (at a rate not exceeding any applicable Treaty rate). Dividends generally will constitute foreign source “passive category income” for purposes of the foreign tax credit. The rules governing foreign tax credits are complex and final U.S. Treasury regulations (“Final FTC Regulations”) have imposed additional requirements that must be met for a foreign tax to be creditable, and we do not intend to determine whether such requirements are met. However, notices (the “Notices”) from the IRS indicate that the U.S. Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to the Final FTC Regulations and allow taxpayers, subject to certain conditions, to defer the application of many aspects of the Final FTC Regulations until the date when a notice or other guidance withdrawing or modifying this temporary relief is issued (or any later date specified in such notice or other guidance). In lieu of claiming a credit, subject to applicable limitations and requirements, a U.S. Holder may be able to take a deduction for such taxes. An election to deduct foreign creditable taxes instead of claiming foreign tax credits must be applied to all creditable foreign taxes paid or accrued in the U.S. Holder’s taxable year. Prospective purchasers should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability (or alternatively, deductibility) of any Indian taxes withheld and any applicable limitations in their particular circumstances.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition

This section is subject to further discussion under “—Passive Foreign Investment Company Considerations” below.

Upon a sale or other taxable disposition of Equity Shares, a U.S. Holder generally will recognise capital gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes equal to the difference, if any, between the amount realised on the sale or other taxable disposition and the U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the Equity Shares, in each case as determined in U.S. dollars. This capital gain or loss will generally be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. Holder’s holding period in the Equity Shares exceeds one year. Non-corporate U.S. Holders are subject to tax on long-term capital gain at reduced rates. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to significant limitations. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisers about how to account for proceeds received on the sale or other taxable disposition of Equity Shares that are not paid in U.S. dollars.

Gain or loss, if any, realized by a U.S. Holder on the sale or other disposition of Equity Shares generally will be treated as U.S. source gain or loss for U.S. foreign tax credit limitation purposes. As a result, the use of U.S. foreign tax credits relating to any Indian income tax imposed upon gains in respect of Equity Shares may be limited. Moreover, under the Final FTC Regulations described above (and subject to the Notices described above), Indian income taxes on disposition gains of U.S. Holders that are not entitled to, or do not elect to apply, the benefits of the Treaty, are generally not creditable for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Indian income taxes on disposition gains that are not creditable may reduce the amount realized on the disposition of Equity Shares or alternatively may be deductible. Indian STT is not creditable for U.S. federal income tax purposes. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the tax consequences if income taxes are imposed on a taxable disposition of Equity Shares, including their ability to credit or deduct any Indian income tax against their U.S. federal income tax liability, the proper application of the Treaty (which in some respects is not entirely clear), the determination of the amount realized and disclosure obligations of any Treaty-based tax return position, as well as the proper U.S. federal income tax treatment of Indian STT (including whether Indian STT is deductible, increases the adjusted tax basis in the Equity Shares or reduces the amount realized on disposition).

Passive Foreign Investment Company Consideration

A non-U.S. corporation will be a PFIC in any taxable year in which, after taking into account the income and assets of the corporation and certain subsidiaries pursuant to applicable “look-through rules”, either (i) at least 75 per cent. of its gross income is “passive income” or (ii) at least 50 per cent. of the average value of its assets is attributable to assets which produce passive income or are held for the production of passive income. For these purposes, “passive income” generally includes interest, dividends, rents, royalties and gains from non-dealer securities transactions.

Although interest income is generally treated as passive income, under proposed Treasury regulations that taxpayers may currently rely on, gross income derived in the active conduct of certain banking activities is treated as non-passive income provided that certain requirements are satisfied. Based on such proposed regulations, the Bank’s current and projected composition of income and assets, and the manner in which the Bank operates its business, the Bank does not believe that it was a PFIC in its most recent taxable year and does not expect to be a PFIC for its current taxable year. However, the Bank’s possible status as a PFIC must be determined annually after the close of each taxable year, and the composition of its income and assets will vary over time. Moreover, there is no assurance that the proposed regulations will be finalized in their current form, and the proper application of the PFIC rules (including the proposed regulations) is subject to certain uncertainties. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Bank will not be a PFIC for any taxable year.

If the Bank is a PFIC in any year during which a U.S. Holder holds the Equity Shares and such holder has not made any of the elections described below, the U.S. Holder will generally be subject to special rules with respect to (i) any “excess distribution” (generally, the excess of the total amount of distributions during a taxable year in which distributions received by the U.S. Holder on the Equity Shares exceed 125 per cent. of the average annual distributions received by the U.S. Holder in the three preceding taxable years or, if shorter, the U.S. Holder’s holding period for the Equity Shares) and (ii) any gain realised on the sale or other disposition of the Equity Shares. Under these rules (a) the excess distribution or gain will be allocated ratably over the U.S. Holder’s holding period, (b) the amount allocated to the current taxable year and any taxable year prior to the first taxable year in which the Bank is a PFIC will be taxed as ordinary income, and (c) the amount allocated to each of the other taxable years will be subject to tax at the highest rate of tax in effect for the applicable class of taxpayer for that year and an interest charge for the deemed deferral benefit will be imposed with respect to the resulting tax attributable to each such other taxable year. If the Bank is a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder holds the Equity Shares, the Bank would generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to such U.S. Holder for all succeeding years during which such holder owns the Equity Shares, even if the Bank ceases to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status (unless the U.S. Holder makes a deemed sale election with respect to the Equity Shares once the Bank is no longer a PFIC). U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the application of the PFIC rules to their ownership of the Equity Shares.

If the Bank is a PFIC for any taxable year, to the extent any of its subsidiaries (or other entities in which it holds equity interests) are also PFICs, a U.S. Holder will generally be deemed to own equity interests in such lower-tier PFICs that are directly or indirectly owned by the Bank in the proportion which the value of the Equity Shares owned by such U.S. Holder bears to the value of all of the Bank’s equity interests, and such U.S. Holder will generally be subject to the tax consequences described above (and the IRS Form 8621 reporting requirement described below) with respect to the equity interests of such lower-tier PFIC the U.S. Holder is deemed to own. As a result, if the Bank receives a distribution from any lower-tier PFIC or sells equity interests in a lower-tier PFIC, a U.S. Holder will generally be subject to tax under the excess distribution rules described above in the same manner as if such U.S. Holder had held a proportionate share of the lower-tier PFIC equity interests directly, even if such amounts are not distributed to the U.S. Holder. The application of the PFIC rules to indirect ownership of any lower-tier PFIC held by the Bank is complex and uncertain, and U.S. Holders should therefore consult their own tax advisers regarding the application of such rules to their ownership of Equity Shares.

If the Bank is a PFIC in a taxable year and the Equity Shares are treated as “marketable stock” in such year, a U.S. Holder may make a mark-to-market election with respect to its Equity Shares. Stock of a non-U.S. corporation would be treated as “marketable stock” only if the stock is “regularly traded” on a “qualified exchange or other market”. A U.S. Holder that makes such election for the first taxable year in which the Bank is a PFIC generally will not be subject to the PFIC rules described above. Instead, in general, such U.S. Holder will include as ordinary income each year the excess, if any, of the fair market value of the Equity Shares at the end of the taxable year over the U.S. Holder’s adjusted basis in the Equity Shares. Such U.S. Holder will also be allowed to take an ordinary loss in respect of the excess, if any, of such holder’s adjusted basis in the Equity Shares over the fair market value of such Equity Shares at the end of the taxable year (but only to the extent of the net amount of previously included income as a result of the mark-to-market election). The U.S. Holder’s basis in the Equity Shares will be adjusted to reflect any such income or loss amounts. Any gain that is recognised on the sale or other taxable disposition of Equity Shares would be ordinary income and any loss would be an ordinary loss to the extent of the net amount of previously included income as a result of the mark-to-market election and, thereafter, a capital loss. However, no assurance can be given that the Equity Shares qualify as marketable stock, as the IRS has not identified any specific non-U.S. exchange that is treated as a “qualified exchange or other market” and there could also be no assurance that there would be sufficient trading of the Equity Shares for them to be characterised as “regularly traded”. Therefore, no assurance can be provided that a U.S. Holder would be able to make a mark-to-market election with respect to the Equity Shares. Moreover, because a mark-to-market election cannot technically be made for equity interests in any lower-tier PFICs of the Bank that are not treated as “marketable stock” themselves, a U.S. Holder would continue to be subject to the excess distribution rules with respect to any lower-tier PFICs, any distributions received by the Bank from a lower-tier PFIC and any gain recognised by the Bank upon a sale of equity interests of a lower-tier PFIC, even if a mark-to-market election has been made by the U.S. Holder with respect to its Equity Shares. The interaction of the mark-to-market rules and the rules governing lower-tier PFICs is complex and uncertain, and U.S. Holders should therefore consult their own tax advisers regarding the availability and advisability of the mark-to-market election as well as the application of the PFIC rules to their ownership of the Equity Shares.

In some cases, a shareholder of a PFIC may be subject to alternative treatment by making a qualified electing fund (“QEF”) election to be taxed currently on its share of the PFIC’s undistributed income. To make a QEF election, the Bank must provide U.S. Holders with certain information compiled according to U.S. federal income tax principles. The Bank currently does not intend to provide such information to U.S. Holders and therefore it is expected that this election will be unavailable.

A U.S. Holder will not be able to claim the reduced rates on dividends described under “Dividends” above if the Bank is treated as a PFIC in the taxable year of the Bank in which the dividends are received or in the preceding taxable year.

A U.S. Holder who owns, or who is treated as owning, PFIC stock during any taxable year in which the Bank is classified as a PFIC may be required to file IRS Form 8621. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisers regarding the requirement to file IRS Form 8621 and the potential application of the PFIC regime to their investment in the Bank.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Payments of dividends on, and proceeds from the sale or other taxable disposition of, Equity Shares by a U.S. or U.S.-connected paying agent or other U.S. or U.S.-connected intermediary will be reported to the IRS and to the U.S. Holder as may be required under applicable regulations. Backup withholding may apply to these payments if the U.S. Holder fails to provide an accurate taxpayer identification number or certification of exempt status or fails to comply with applicable certification requirements. Certain U.S. Holders are not subject to backup withholding. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers about these rules and any other reporting obligations that may apply to the ownership or disposition of Equity Shares, including reporting obligations related to the holding of certain “specified foreign financial assets”.

2. Investments:

Investments are accounted for in accordance with the extant RBI guidelines on investment classification and valuation, as given below:

2.1 Classification:

The Bank classifies the entire investment portfolio (except investments in their own Subsidiaries, Joint Ventures and Associates) under three categories viz., Held to Maturity (HTM), Available for Sale (AFS) and Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) with a subcategory named Held for Trading (HFT).

For disclosure in Balance Sheet, the investments are classified as Investments in India and outside India. The investments in India are further classified as (i) Government Securities, (ii) Other Approved Securities, (iii) Shares, (iv) Bonds and Debentures, (v) Subsidiaries and/or Joint Ventures (including Associates) and (vi) Other Investments.

The investments outside India are further classified as (i) Government Securities (ii) Subsidiaries and/or Joint Ventures (including Associates) (iii) Other Investments.

2.2 Basis of classification:

- i. Held to Maturity (HTM): The securities acquired with the intention of holding it to maturity to collect the contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the security give rise to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI criterion) on specified date are categorised as Held to Maturity (HTM).
- ii. Available for Sale (AFS): The securities acquired with the objective that is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling securities before maturity; and the contractual terms of the security give rise to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI criterion) is categorised as Available for Sale (AFS).

On initial recognition, the Bank make an irrevocable selection to classify an equity instrument, that is not held with the objective of trading, under AFS, in line with the RBI Guidelines.

- iii. Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL): Securities that do not qualify for inclusion in HTM or AFS are classified under Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) with a subcategory named Held for Trading (HFT). Any instrument that is held for one or more of the following purposes is designated as a Held for Trading (HFT) instrument:
  - a. short-term resale;
  - b. profiting from short-term price movements;
  - c. locking in arbitrage profits; or
  - d. hedging risks that arise from instruments meeting (a), (b) or (c) above.

2.3 Initial Recognition of investments:

The transactions in all securities are measured at fair value on initial recognition with a presumption that acquisition cost is the fair value. This presumption is tested for transactions with related parties, transaction taking place in duress, transaction outside principal market and any other situation where facts and circumstances warrant testing of the presumption.

Fair value measurements are categorised into following 3 fair value hierarchy based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable,

- (a) "Level 1" - wherein inputs used for valuation of a financial instrument are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical instruments that the bank can access at the measurement date;
- (b) "Level 2" - wherein inputs used for valuation of a financial instrument are inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (such as yield curve, credit spread etc.);

- (c) "Level 3" – wherein valuation is based on unobservable inputs.
- i. Recognition of Day 1 Gain/Loss:
  - a. Day 1 gain / loss arising in initial recognition of Level 1 and Level 2 hierarchy, is recognised in the Profit and Loss Account, under item III- 'Profit/Loss on revaluation of investments(net)' under Schedule 14: 'Other Income'.
  - b. Any Day 1 loss arising from Level 3 investments is recognised immediately.
  - c. Any Day 1 gains arising from Level 3 investments is deferred. In the case of debt instruments, the Day 1 gain is amortised on a straight-line basis up to the maturity date (or earliest call date for perpetual instruments), while for unquoted equity instruments, the gain is set aside as a liability until the security is listed or derecognised.
- ii. The transactions in all securities are recorded on a Settlement Date and the securities are held at weighted average cost method for all categories of investments.
- iii. Brokerage, Commission, Securities Transaction Tax (STT) etc. paid in connection with acquisition of investments are expensed upfront and excluded from cost.
- iv. Broken period interest paid/ received on debt instruments is treated as interest expense/ income and is excluded from cost/ sale consideration.
- iv. Subsequent valuation of investment in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures:
  - a. All investments (i.e., including debt and equity) in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are held at acquisition cost.
  - b. In case an existing investment becomes a Subsidiary, Associate or Joint Venture, the revised carrying value of the same on the date of change in classification is as determined as under:
    - For an investment held under HTM: the carrying value less the permanent impairment.
    - For an investment held under AFS: the Carrying value adjusted for cumulative gains and losses previously recognised in AFS Reserve along with the permanent diminution, if any.
    - For an investment held under FVTPL: the fair value on date of the change in the classification.
  - c. When an investment ceases to be a Subsidiary, Associate or Joint Venture, the reclassification to respective category is made as under:
    - For investment reclassified into HTM, there shall be no change in the carrying value.
    - For investment reclassified into AFS or FVTPL, the fair value on the date of reclassification is considered as carrying value by transferring the difference between the revised and the previous carrying values to AFS-Reserve and Profit and Loss account respectively.
  - d. The Bank evaluates investments in subsidiaries, associates or joint ventures for impairment at quarterly intervals. When the need to determine whether the impairment has occurred arises in respect of a subsidiary, associate or joint venture, the same is made on the basis of the valuation of the investment by an independent registered valuer and diminution if any is recognised as an expense in the Profit and Loss Account. It is subsequently reversed through Profit and Loss Account, if there is a reversal of the diminution.

2.4 Subsequent Measurement of investments:

- i. Securities held in HTM are carried at cost and are not marked to market (MTM) after initial recognition.
- ii. The securities held in AFS are fair valued at quarterly intervals. The valuation gains and losses across all performing investments held under AFS are aggregated. The net appreciation or depreciation is directly credited or debited to AFS-Reserve without routing through the Profit & Loss Account.
- iii. Securities that are classified under the HFT sub-category within FVTPL are fair valued on a daily basis, whereas other securities in FVTPL are fair valued at the end of every quarter. The net gain or loss arising on such valuation is credited or debited to the Profit and Loss Account.

Schedules

v. Valuation in the event of inter category transfer of investments:

The reclassification between the categories (viz. HTM, AFS and FVTPL) if any, is done with approval of the Board and prior approval of the RBI. The reclassification is applied prospectively from reclassification date and is accounted in compliance with RBI guidelines.

vi. Valuation of Security Receipts (SRs):

a. The SRs obtained by way of sale of NPA to Securitisation Company (SC)/ Asset Reconstruction Company (ARC), is recognised at lower of: (i) Net Book Value (NBV) (i.e. book value less provisions held) of the NPA; and (ii) Redemption value of SR.

b. Investments in Security Receipts are valued in accordance with the guidelines applicable to non-SLR instruments. Accordingly, in cases where the SRs issued by the SC/ ARC are limited to the actual realisation of the financial assets assigned to the instruments in the concerned scheme, the Net Asset Value, obtained from the SC/ ARC, is reckoned for valuation of such investments.

c. SRs guaranteed by the Government of India are valued at face value or Net Asset Value (NAV) declared by the ARC (based on the recovery ratings received for such instruments) whichever is lower. Any SRs outstanding after the final settlement of government guarantee or expiry of the guarantee period, whichever is earlier, are valued at ₹1.

vii. Zero-coupon discounted instruments such as Treasury Bills, Commercial Paper, Certificate of Deposits and Zero-Coupon Bonds are held at carrying cost i.e. the acquisition cost adjusted for the discount accrued at the rate prevailing at the time of acquisition.

due and remains unpaid for more than 90 days. It applies mutatis mutandis to preference shares where fixed dividend is not declared/paid in any year; and the date of Balance Sheet of the issuer for that particular year is reckoned as due date for asset classification.

b. In the event the investment in equity shares of any company is valued at ₹ 1 per company on account of non-availability of the latest balance sheet or the same is more than 18 months old, those equity shares would be reckoned as NPI.

c. The Bank also classifies an investment including preference shares as a non-performing investment in case any credit facility availed by the same borrower has been classified as a non-performing asset and vice versa. However, this stipulation is not applicable in cases where only preference shares are classified as NPI. i.e. in such cases, neither the investment in any of the other performing securities issued by the same issuer is classified as NPI nor any performing credit facilities granted to that borrower is treated as NPA.

d. In case of conversion of principal and / or interest into equity, debentures, bonds, etc., such instruments are classified under HTM, AFS or FVTPL (including HFT) with the same asset classification category as that of the loan and provision is made as per the norms.

ii. Investment classified as an NPI is segregated from rest of the investments within the same category and not considered for netting valuation gains and losses. Income on non-performing investments is recognised only on realisation of the same. MTM appreciation if any in these NPI securities is ignored.

iii. Irrespective of the category (i.e., HTM, AFS or FVTPL (including HFT)) in which the investment has been placed, the expense for the provision for impairment are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account. The provision to be held on an NPI is the higher of the amount of provision on the carrying value of the investment immediately before it was classified as NPI as per IRACP norms and the depreciation on the investment with reference to its carrying value on the date of classification as NPI.

Provided that in the case of an investment categorised under AFS against which there are cumulative gains

2.5 Non-performing Investments (NPI):

i. In domestic offices, the investments are classified as non-performing or upgraded to standard in terms of the criterion laid down in extant Prudential Norms on Income Recognition, Asset Classification and Provisioning (IRACP) pertaining to Advances.

a. Debt instruments such as bonds or debentures are recognised as NPIs where interest/ instalment (including maturity proceeds) is in AFS-Reserve, the provision required is created by charging the same to AFS-Reserve to the extent of such available gains. Provided further that in the case of an investment categorised under AFS against which there are cumulative losses in AFS-Reserve, the cumulative losses are transferred from AFS-Reserve to the Profit and Loss Account.

- iv. Upon upgradation of the investment, the provision recognised is reversed and recognition of MTM gains and losses is resumed.
- v. In respect of foreign offices, classification and provisions for non-performing investments (NPIs) are made as per the local regulations or as per the norms of RBI, whichever are more prudent.

2.6 Accounting for Repo/ Reverse Repo transactions:

The Bank enters Repurchase and Reverse Repurchase Transactions with RBI under Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) and with market participants. Repurchase Transaction represents borrowing by selling the securities with an agreement to repurchase the securities. Reverse Repo Transactions on the other hand, represent lending funds by purchasing the securities.

- i. Transactions with RBI under Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) are accounted for as Collateralised Lending and Borrowing transactions.
- ii. In Repo and Reverse Repo transaction, securities sold(purchased) and repurchased (resell) are accounted as normal outright sale(purchase) transactions and such movement of securities is reflected using the Repo/ Reverse Repo Accounts and contra entries. The above entries are reversed on the date of maturity.
- iii. Balance in Repo Account is classified under Schedule 4 'Borrowings'.
- iv. All type of Reverse Repos with RBI including those under Liquidity Adjustment Facility are presented under sub item (ii) 'In Other Accounts' of item (II) Balances with RBI under Schedule 6 'Cash and balances with RBI'.

3. Loans/ Advances and Provisions thereon:

- i. A term loan is classified as a non-performing asset if interest and / or instalment of principal remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days.
- ii. An Overdraft or Cash Credit is classified as a non-performing asset, if, the account remains "out of order", i.e. if the outstanding balance in the CC/OD account is less than the sanctioned limit/drawing power but there are no credits continuously for 90 days, or the credits are not enough to cover the interest debited during the previous 90 days period.
- iii. The bills purchased / discounted are classified as non-performing Asset if the bill remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days.

If the country exposure (net) of the Bank in respect of each country does not exceed 1% of the total funded assets, no provision is maintained on such country exposures. ### 6. Derivatives:

- 6.1 The Bank enter into Interest Rate derivatives (e.g. Interest Rate Swaps, Interest Rate Futures, Interest Rate Options, Interest Rate Caps and Floors, Forward Rate Agreements) and Foreign Currency Derivatives (e.g. Foreign Exchange Contracts, Currency/Cross Currency Swaps, Currency Options, Currency Futures) to hedge on-balance sheet/ off-balance sheet assets and liabilities or for trading purposes. Bank categorises the derivatives portfolio into three fair value hierarchies viz. Level 1, Level 2, and Level 3 as defined for investments.
- 6.2 The Bank follow the hedge accounting treatment stipulated in the Guidance Note on Accounting for Derivative Contracts

(Revised 2021) issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI), wherein:

- i. Under the Fair Value Hedge Accounting Model, the hedging instrument is measured at fair value with the change in fair value recognised in the Profit & Loss Account. The hedged item is re-measured at fair value in respect of the hedged risk and the resulting change is recognised in the Profit & Loss. Thus, the fair value changes of the hedged item and the hedging instrument offset and result in no net impact in the statement of Profit & Loss except for the impact of Hedge Ineffectiveness.
- ii. Under the Cash Flow Hedge, the hedging instrument is measured at fair value with the change in fair value of an effective hedge recognised in the Cash Flow Hedge Reserve and change in fair value of ineffective portion of gain or loss recognised in Profit & Loss Account. The changes in fair value of hedging instruments recognised in Cash Flow Reserve are recycled and recognised in Profit & Loss account while the impact of the hedged item is recognised in the Profit & Loss Account.

6.3 Application of hedge accounting is stopped when the risk management objective as defined originally at the time of first applying hedge accounting principles is no longer met. The hedge relationship is discontinued if:

- The hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised.
- Hedge items mature or is sold/terminated or forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur.
- Hedging relationship (or a part of a hedging relationship) cease to meet the qualifying criteria for hedge accounting.

6.4 Except as mentioned above, all other derivative contracts are marked to market as per the Generally Accepted Accounting Practices prevalent in the industry. In respect of derivative contracts that are marked to market, changes in the market value are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account in the period of change. Any receivable under derivative contracts, which remain overdue for more than 90 days, are reversed through Profit and Loss Account to "Suspense Account Crystallised Receivables". In cases where the derivative contracts provide for more settlement in future and if the derivative contract is not terminated on the overdue receivables remaining unpaid for 90 days, the positive MTM pertaining to future receivables is also reversed from Profit and Loss Account to "Suspense Account - Positive MTM".

- 6.5 Option premium paid or received is recorded in Profit and Loss Account at the expiry of the option. The balance in the premium received on options sold and premium paid on options bought is considered to arrive at Mark-to-Market value for forex Over the Counter (OTC) options.
- 6.6 Exchange Traded Derivatives entered in for trading purposes are valued at prevailing market rates based on rates given by the Exchange and the resultant gains and losses are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

b. Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR):

i. Standalone LCR

Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR) standard has been introduced in the Bank with an objective to maintain an adequate level of unencumbered High Quality Liquid Assets (HQLAs) that can be converted into cash to meet its liquidity needs for a 30-calendar days time horizon under a significantly severe liquidity stress scenario.

$$LCR = \frac{\text{Stock of High-Quality Liquid Assets (HQLAs)}}{\text{Total net cash outflows over the next 30 calendar days}}$$

Liquid assets comprise of high-quality assets that can be readily encashed or used as collateral to obtain cash in a stress scenario. There are two categories of assets included in the stock of HQLAs, viz. Level 1 and Level 2 (Level 2A and Level 2B) assets. While Level 1 assets attract 0% haircut, Level 2A and Level 2B assets are with 15% and 50% haircuts respectively. The total net cash outflows is the total expected cash outflows less total expected cash inflows for the subsequent 30 calendar days. Total expected cash outflows are calculated by multiplying the outstanding balances of various categories or types of liabilities and off-balance sheet commitments by the rates at which they are expected to run-off or be drawn down. Total expected cash inflows are calculated by multiplying the outstanding balances of various categories of contractual receivables by the rates at which they are expected to flow in up to an aggregate cap of 75% of total expected cash outflows.

c. Net Stable Funding Ratio:

i. Standalone Net Stable Funding Ratio

Net Stable Funding Ratio (NSFR) guidelines ensure reduction in funding risk over a longer time horizon by requiring banks to fund their activities with sufficiently stable sources of funding in order to mitigate the risk of future funding stress. The NSFR is defined as the amount of Available Stable Funding relative to the amount of Required Stable Funding.

$$\text{NSFR} = \frac{\text{Available Stable Funding (ASF)}}{\text{Required Stable Funding (RSF)}} \geq 100\%$$

As the plan assets are marked to market on the basis of the yield curve derived from government securities, the expected rate of return has been kept the same as the discount rate.

The estimates of future salary growth, factored in actuarial valuation, take account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors such as supply and demand in the employment market. Such estimates are very long term and are not based on limited past experience / immediate future. Empirical evidence also suggests that in very long term, consistent high salary growth rates are not possible. The said estimates and assumptions have been relied upon by the auditors.

c. Accounting Standard - 17 "Segment Reporting"

1. Segment Identification

I. Primary (Business Segment)

The following are the primary segments of the Bank: -

- Treasury
- Corporate / Wholesale Banking
- Retail Banking
- Other Banking Business.

The present accounting and information system of the Bank does not support capturing and extraction of the data in respect of the above segments separately. However, based on the present internal, organisational and management reporting structure and the nature of their risk and returns, the data on the primary segments have been computed as under:

i. Treasury

The Treasury Segment includes the entire investment portfolio and trading in foreign exchange contracts and derivative contracts. The revenue of the treasury segment primarily consists of fees and gains or losses from trading operations and interest income on the investment portfolio.

ii. Corporate / Wholesale Banking

The Corporate / Wholesale Banking segment comprises the lending activities of Corporate Accounts Group, Commercial Clients Group and Stressed Assets Resolution Group. These include providing loans and transaction services to corporate and institutional clients and further include non-treasury operations of foreign offices.

iii. Retail Banking

The Retail Banking Segment comprises of retail branches, which primarily includes Personal Banking activities including lending activities to corporate customers having banking relations with these branches. This segment also includes agency business and ATMs. As per RBI Circular DOR. AUT. REC.12/22.01.001/2022-23 dated 7th April 2022, for the purpose of disclosure under Accounting Standard 17 Segment Reporting "Digital Banking" has been identified as a sub-segment under the "Retail Banking Segment".

iv. Other Banking business

II. Secondary (Geographical Segment)

- i) Domestic Operations - Branches/Offices having operations in India
- ii) Foreign Operations - Branches/Offices having operations outside India and offshore Banking units having operations in India

III. Pricing of Inter-segmental Transfers

The Retail Banking segment is the primary resource mobilising unit. The Corporate/Wholesale Banking and Treasury segments are recipient of funds from Retail Banking. Market related Funds Transfer Pricing (MRFTP) is followed under which a separate unit called Funding Centre has been created. The Funding Centre notionally buys funds that the business units raise in the form of deposits or borrowings and notionally sells funds to business units engaged in creating assets.

IV. Allocation of Expenses, Assets and Liabilities

Expenses incurred at Corporate Centre establishments directly attributable either to Corporate / Wholesale and Retail Banking Operations or to Treasury Operations segment, are allocated accordingly. Expenses not directly attributable are allocated on the basis of the ratio of number of employees in each segment/ratio of directly attributable expenses.

The Bank has certain common assets and liabilities, which cannot be attributed to any segment and the same are treated as unallocated.

The Bank does not expect the outcome of these proceedings to have a material adverse effect on the Bank's financial conditions, results of operations or cash flows. The Bank is also a party to various taxation matters in respect of which appeals are pending.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 2       | Liability on partly paid-up investments/ Venture Funds                                      | This item represents amounts remaining unpaid towards liability for partly paid investments. This also includes undrawn commitments for Venture Capital Funds.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3       | Liability on account of outstanding forward exchange contracts                              | The Bank enters into foreign exchange contracts in its normal course of business to exchange currencies at a pre-fixed price at a future date. Forward exchange contracts are commitments to buy or sell foreign currency at a future date at the contracted rate. The notional amounts are recorded as Contingent Liabilities. With respect to the transactions entered into with its customers, the Bank generally enters into off-setting transactions in the interbank market. This results in generation of a higher number of outstanding transactions and hence a large value of gross notional principal of the portfolio, while the net market risk is lower.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| 4       | Guarantees given on behalf of constituents, acceptances, endorsements and other obligations | As a part of its commercial Banking activities, the Bank issues documentary credits and guarantees on behalf of its customers. Documentary credits enhance the credit standing of the customers of the Bank. Guarantees generally represent irrevocable assurances that the Bank will make payment in the event of the customer failing to fulfil its financial or performance obligations.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 5       | Other items for which the Bank is contingently liable                                       | The Bank enters into currency options, forward rate agreements, currency swaps and interest rate swaps with inter-Bank participants on its own account and for customers. Currency swaps are commitments to exchange cash flows by way of interest/principal in one currency against another, based on predetermined rates. Interest rate swaps are commitments to exchange fixed and floating interest rate cash flows. The notional amounts that are recorded as Contingent Liabilities, are typically amounts used as a benchmark for the calculation of the interest component of the contracts. Further, these also include estimated amount of contracts remaining to be executed on capital account and not provided for, letter of comforts issued by the Bank on behalf of Associates & Subsidiaries, Bank's Liability under Depositors Education and Awareness Fund A/c and other sundry contingent liabilities. |

The Contingent Liabilities mentioned above are dependent upon the outcome of Court/ arbitration/out of Court settlements, disposal of appeals, the amount being called up, terms of contractual obligations, devolvement and raising of demand by concerned parties, as the case may be.

| i   | Classification of Advances, Income Recognition, Identification of and provisioning for non-performing Advances (Refer Schedule 9 read with Note 3 of Schedule 17 to the financial statements) Advances include Bills purchased and discounted, Cash credits, Overdrafts, Loans repayable on demand and Term loans. These are further categorised as secured by Tangible assets (including advances against Book Debts), covered by Bank/Government Guarantees and Unsecured advances. Advances constitute 62.36 per cent of the Bank's total assets. They are, inter-alia, governed by income recognition, asset classification and provisioning (IRAC) norms and other circulars and directives issued by the RBI from time to time which provides guidelines related to classification of Advances into performing and non-performing Advances (NPA) except in case of foreign offices, classification of advances and provisioning thereof is made as per local regulations or RBI guidelines, whichever is more stringent. The Bank classifies these Advances based on IRAC norms as per its accounting policy No. 3. Identification of performing and non-performing Advances involves establishment of proper mechanism. The Bank accounts for all the transactions related to Advances in its Information Technology System (IT System) viz. Core Banking Solution (CBS) which identifies whether the advances are performing or non-performing. Further, NPA classification and calculation of provision (except in case of foreign offices) is done through another IT System viz. Centralised Credit Data Processing (CCDP) Application Software and other processes. The carrying value of these advances (net of provisions) may be materially misstated if, either individually or in aggregate, the IRAC norms are not properly followed. Considering the nature of the transactions, regulatory requirements, existing business environment, estimation/ judgement involved in valuation of securities and calculation of provisions, it is a matter of high importance for the intended users of the Standalone Financial Statements. Considering these aspects, we have determined this as a Key Audit Matter. Accordingly, our audit was focused on income recognition, asset classification and provisioning pertaining to advances due to the materiality of the balances. | Our audit approach towards advances with reference to the IRAC norms and other related circulars/directives issued by the RBI and also internal policies and procedures of the Bank includes the testing of controls on sample basis, <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The accuracy of the data input in the system for income recognition, classification into performing and non performing Advances and provisioning in accordance with the IRAC norms in respect of the branches audited by us;</li> <li>Existence and effectiveness of monitoring mechanisms such as Internal Audit, Systems Audit, Credit Audit and Concurrent Audit as per the policies and procedures of the Bank;</li> <li>Examination of advances including stressed advances on a sample basis with respect to compliance with the RBI Master Circulars / Guidelines/ Judicial pronouncements;</li> <li>We have relied on the reports of IT System Audit by IAD with respect to the business logics / parameters inbuilt in CBS and CCDP for tracking, identification and stamping of NPAs and provisioning in respect thereof.</li> <li>We tested the mapping of advances in the CCDP application software and the financial statement preparation software to ensure compliance with the presentation and disclosure requirements as per the aforesaid RBI Circular/directions.</li> <li>We have examined the efficacy of various internal controls over advances to determine the nature, timing and extent of the substantive procedures and compliance with the observations of the various audits conducted as per the monitoring mechanism of the Bank and RBI Inspection.</li> <li>In carrying out substantive procedures at the branches audited by us, we have examined large advances/ stressed advances while other advances have been examined on a sample basis including review of valuation reports of independent valuers provided by the Bank's management.</li> <li>We assessed and evaluated the process of identification of NPAs and corresponding reversal of income and creation of provision;</li> <li>Reliance is also placed on Audit Reports of other Statutory Branch Auditors with whom we have also made specific communication.</li> <li>Bank has laid down detailed Standard Operating Procedure to ensure control over processes. We have relied on these Standard Operating Procedures and have conducted our testing based on these Standard Operating Procedures.</li> </ol> |

| ii  | Classification and Valuation of Investments, Identification of and provisioning for Non-Performing Investments (Schedule 8 read with Note 2.5 of Schedule 17 to the financial statements) Investments include investments made by the Bank in various Government Securities, Bonds, Debentures, Shares, Security Receipts and other approved securities. Investments constitute 25.32 per cent of the Bank's total assets. These are governed by the circulars and directives of the RBI. These directions of RBI, inter-alia, cover valuation of investments, classification of investments, identification of non-performing investments, the corresponding non-recognition of income and provision there against. The valuation of each category (type) of the aforesaid securities is to be done as per the valuation hierarchy prescribed in circulars and directives issued by the RBI which involves collection of data/information from various sources such as FIMMDA/ FBIL rates, rates quoted on BSE/NSE, financial statements of unlisted companies, NAVs of mutual funds, AIFs, VCFs, Security Receipts etc. Considering the complexities and extent of judgement involved in the valuation, volume of transactions, investments on hand and degree of regulatory focus, this has been determined as a Key Audit Matter. Accordingly, our audit was focused on valuation of investments, classification, identification of non-performing investments and provisioning related to investments. | Our audit approach towards Investments with reference to the RBI Circulars/directives included the understanding of internal controls and substantive audit procedures in relation to valuation, classification, identification of non-performing investments (NPIs), provisioning / depreciation related to Investments. In particular; <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>We understood and reviewed the methodology adopted by the Bank for classification of investments into various categories as per RBI guidelines;</li> <li>We understood and evaluated the Bank's internal control system to comply with relevant RBI guidelines regarding valuation, classification, identification of NPIs, provisioning /depreciation related to investments;</li> <li>We assessed and evaluated the process adopted for collection of information from various sources for determining fair value of these investments;</li> <li>For the selected sample of investments in hand, we tested accuracy and compliance with the RBI Master Circulars and directions by re-performing valuation for each category of security. Samples were selected after ensuring that all the categories of investments (based on nature of security) were covered in the sample;</li> <li>We assessed and evaluated the process of identification of NPIs and corresponding reversal of income and creation of provision;</li> <li>We carried out substantive audit procedures to recompute independently the provision to be maintained and depreciation to be provided in accordance with the circulars and directives of the RBI. Accordingly, we selected samples from the investments of each category and tested for NPIs as per the RBI guidelines and recomputed the provision to be maintained in accordance with the RBI Circular for those selected sample of NPIs;</li> <li>We tested the mapping of investments between the Investment application software and the financial statement preparation software to ensure compliance with the presentation and disclosure requirements as per the aforesaid RBI Circular/directions.</li> </ol> |
| iii | Assessment of Provisions and Contingent liabilities in respect of certain litigations including Direct and Indirect Taxes, various claims filed by other parties not acknowledged as debt (Schedule 12 read with Note 18.14(j) of Schedule 18 to the financial statements): There is high level of judgement required in estimating the level of provisioning. The Bank's assessment is supported by the facts of matter, their own judgment, past experience, and advice from legal and independent tax consultants wherever considered necessary. Accordingly, unexpected adverse outcomes may significantly impact the Bank's reported profit and state of affairs presented in the Balance Sheet. We determined the above area as a Key Audit Matter in view of associated uncertainty relating to the outcome of these matters which requires application of judgment in interpretation of law. Accordingly, our audit was focused on analysing the facts of subject matter under consideration and judgments/ interpretation of law involved.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Our audit approach involved: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Obtaining an understanding of internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design our audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances;</li> <li>Understanding the current status of the litigations/tax assessments including the status up to the date of auditor's report;</li> <li>Examining recent orders and/or communication received from various tax authorities/ judicial forums and follow up action thereon;</li> <li>Evaluating the merit of the subject matter under consideration with reference to the grounds presented therein and available independent legal / tax advice including opinion of our internal tax experts;</li> <li>Review and analysis of evaluation of the contentions of the Bank through discussions, collection of details of the subject matter under consideration, the likely outcome and consequent potential outflows on those issues; and</li> <li>Verification of disclosures related to significant litigations and taxation matters.</li> </ol>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| iv  | Valuation of employees' defined benefit obligations: The Bank has recognised long-term defined benefit obligations for its employees on actuarial basis. Pension and gratuity obligations are funded by the Bank. Shortfall, if any, in Bank's Provident Fund Scheme is also provided for on actuarial basis. The Bank makes periodic contributions to fund administered by Trustees based on an independent external actuarial valuation carried out annually. Unfunded long-term defined benefit obligations are compensated absences, silver jubilee award, leave travel concession, retirement award and resettlement allowance. The cost of providing unfunded long-term benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date. The actuarial valuations of employee benefit obligations are dependent on market conditions and assumptions made. The key audit matter specifically relates to the following key assumptions: discount rate, inflation expectations and life expectancy assumptions. The setting of these assumptions is complex and requires the exercise of significant management judgement with the support of third-party actuary. | We tested governance and controls in place over the methodologies and the significant assumptions, including those in relation to the use of management's experts. We examined the reports of external actuarial specialist and reviewed the key actuarial assumptions used, both financial and demographic, and considered the methodology applied to derive these assumptions including review of input data provided for actuarial valuations of employees' defined benefit obligations. Furthermore, we have examined the sensitivity analysis on the key assumptions in valuing the defined benefit obligations. We also evaluated the objectivity and competence of management's expert involved in the valuation of the defined benefit obligation. We assessed the appropriateness of the methodology used, and tested the accuracy of the calculation, to estimate the liability. |
